Senior cries foul over St. Andrews sewer project

By Dave Baxter

A local senior says his "dream home" is turning into a nightmare because of a new sewer system project planned for St. Andrews.

"I'm 72-years-old and I built this house and this is where I want to live out my days," St. Andrews resident Larry Brodinski said. "But to come to people at this stage in their life and dump this kind of bill on them is just ludicrous."

The municipality is currently working on a project that would bring a new sewer system into St. Andrews in phases.

Brodinski, who lives in Phase One of the project along Hwy 9, said he is expecting an approximately $7,300 bill just to bring the line to his property, more than $2,000 to hook up to it, plus other fees that he believes could end up costing him up to $11,000.

He said those are costs he can't afford.

"Where does a 72-year-old pensioner come up with that kind of money?" he said. "I'm just trying to make ends meet and enjoy retirement and I'm seven years into retirement and already working part time to pay the bills."

> 'I'M NOT GOING TO MOVE,' FROM PG. 1

Brodinski lives alone and said he does not want the sewer bill to force him out of St. Andrews.

"I'm not going to move," he said. "This is my dream home and I built it, and do you think I want to give it up? I don't know what I'm supposed to do."

"This project should not be rolled out in a way that people have to leave their own homes. Nobody should be forced out. This has to be affordable for everybody."

The project will see wastewater travel through the Main Street Trunk Sewer in West St. Paul to the North End Water Pollution Control Centre in Winnipeg.

Following a council meeting on Tuesday morning, St. Andrews Mayor George Pike said he expects the total bill per homeowner for the project to go down from the original estimates.

A cost breakdown for the project released on June 16 includes capital costs for home owners estimated at $7,390, a buy in charge of $2,300, an annual fee of $225, a water metre installation fee of $600, and a $130 annual pump out fee.

"These are worst case scenarios we are looking at," Pike said referring to the June 16 cost breakdown.

Pike said he is certain the $7,390 capital cost will go down and that fee can be spread out over 20 years on a resident's tax bill.

"That figure it based on five per cent interest," Pike said. "We're now down to 3.3 per cent so that figure will drop."

He added, "tenders are now coming in at about 75 per cent of what the original cost was estimated by the engineers."

Brodinski said the option to pay his capital costs over 20 years is no relief to him.

"I'm 72 now, so I've got to live here until I'm 92 just to say I'm debt free. You can not force something out here that is not affordable for everybody."

About 900 homes sit in Phase One of the project area.

A borrowing by-law for the South St. Andrews Sewer passed through council on Tuesday morning with only Coun. Joy Sul voting against it.

"THERE IS NO OTHER OPTION, AND BY THE MANDATE OF THE PROVINCE WE'VE GOT TO DO SOMETHING."

Pike said homeowners have five years to hook up once the sewer line comes to their neighbourhood and will pay no fees until they hook up.

Provincial regulations say St. Andrews must go forward with the project, Pike said.

"There is no other option, and by the mandate of the province we've got to do something," he said.

Homeowners in the municipality currently use septic fields and tanks but the province now prohibits the replacement or modification of existing septic fields, or the construction of any new septic fields in the specific corridor.

City spraying for pesky skeeters this week in Selkirk

Staff

The City of Selkirk will be doing its part to keep pesky mosquitos at bay this summer.

In a release last Saturday, the city said it planned to spray for mosquitoes starting on Tuesday at 10 p.m., weather permitting. Fogging was also scheduled for Wednesday night and Thursday this week if required.

The city has again contracted reputed entomologist Randy Gadowski to deliver the city's fogging program.

Fogging will begin at 10 p.m. each night and stop at about 4 a.m. Fogging will be split into two nights, with everywhere west of Main Street being done on Tuesday and everywhere east, including the golf course and parks, done on Wednesday. If weather limits or delays fogging on those nights, the contractor will complete fogging on the third night.

The city recommends that during fogging, residents keep windows closed, air conditioners turned off and that pets be brought inside. Operators of the fogging trucks will stop fogging if pedestrians approach, but the city advises if you see the fogging vehicles, which will be well lit, try to take another route.

"The decision to fog comes after several weeks of biological larviciding as well as monitoring mosquitoes in two Province of Manitoba traps located in the city," the city stated in the release.

One of the city's traps is located on Sophia Street and the other is on Dorchester Avenue.

From May 29 to June 4 counts were low, averaging just five mosquitoes per night.

From June 5 to 11, counts were again low, averaging 2.75 per night. During the third week, from June 12 to 18, numbers increased, with nightly counts of 79.5. Despite the increase, this number is far lower than the 250 count which is the point at which fogging typically considered, the city stated.

Dan McDermid, the city's director of operations, said the increase in count numbers in Week 3, the weather, which featured heavy rain followed by heat and sunshine, and the upcoming Canada Day celebrations at the Selkirk Waterfront are some of the reasons behind their decision to start fogging.

"The counts have slowly increased over the last three weeks. The sudden increase in the last week and the anticipated jump next week is why we're fogging," McDermid said. "The best time to fog is one to two days prior to a major event, so with Canada Day coming on July 1, an event that will bring 10,000 people to The Waterfront, where they'll be standing and sitting on grass, we had to take that into consideration."

However, McDermid added fogging does not eliminate mosquitoes.

"We're not going to eradicate every mosquito out there, we're just going to try to control them so people can enjoy the outdoors more comfortably," McDermid said.

Gimli Film Festival seeks volunteers for 16th annual event

By Lindsey Enns

As organizers gear up for the 16th annual Gimli Film Festival, they are hoping to add a few more willing volunteers to their roster.

Lil Goosen, the festival's volunteer co-ordinator, said they are looking for volunteers to help in the box office, at the venues and during the beach screenings.

They also have some special events they need volunteers for including a pancake breakfast.

"In the past we have had about 100 volunteers and they are a super vibrant group of people," Goossen told the Record via email. "They are a big part of what makes this festival so special and we couldn't do it without them."

Celebrating 16 years, this year's Gimli Film Festival (GFF) will take place along the lakeshore community of Gimli from July 20 to 24.

Making their debut at this year's festival are several first-time series including a Ukrainian film series which delves into Canada's vibrant Ukrainian heritage entitled "Next Wave Docs" as well as boundary-pushing films that experiment with documentary tradition, in collaboration with Winnipeg Underground Film Festival, an Indigenous series called "Coming Home: Indigenous films from around the world" as well as the "Reel Pride Series," a series of LGBTTQ* films in collaboration with Reel Pride Film Festival.

This year will mark the opening of the sixth film venue at GFF, a new lineup of stylish clothing and merchandise based on a 2016 GFF design created by talented UK children's book illustrator Gillian Johnson. A new executive director, Rick Kemp, is also heading up this year's festival.

"The Gimli Film Festival is fueled by our sponsors' passion for film, culture and heritage," Kemp said in a release. "Their generous support not only provides a stage for Manitoba's filmmakers to showcase their talents, but a chance for all Manitobans to view otherwise inaccessible works of art."

New Habitat home build brings local mom to tears

Selkirk chapter hopes to raise more funds for next home build

By Dave Baxter

Stacy Dowan broke down in tears last Thanksgiving Day, the same day she found out her and her son would be moving into a brand new home.

"Complete disbelief is what I felt at first," Dowan said while at Selkirk's Habitat for Humanity block party on June 18 at the construction site of her new home.

Dowan is a single mother that lives with her nine-year-old son in Selkirk, and the two of them are expected to move into their new home on Taylor Avenue sometime this winter.

The Selkirk Chapter of Habitat for Humanity is building the home on Taylor Avenue in Selkirk.

"Right now I am renting," Dowan, said. "I applied and didn't think I would get it, but thought I might as well try."

She said tears poured down her face when she found out she had been accepted to live in the new home.

Habitat members came to her house on Thanksgiving, but they told her they were coming over for a meeting.

"They got there and said they only had one question, then they said the question is 'are you ready to be a homeowner?'"

"It was amazing. I was in shock and I was in tears," she said.

She said the house is close to her parent's house and will also be convenient for many of her and her son's daily routines.

Stacy Dowan and her nine-year-old son were all smiles on June 18, while standing at the construction site of their new Habitat for Humanity home in Selkirk, which they are expected to move into sometime this winter.

Habitat for Humanity held a block party at the site where Dowan's house is being built to raise money so they can keep giving local residents the chance to take on a mortgage, and own their own homes.

Angel Fredericks of the Habitat for Humanity Selkirk Chapter said the organization is currently short about $25,000 that will be needed for their next build.

Hundreds lace up for 2nd annual Kirstin's Walk for Kids

By Dave Baxter

Selkirk and area residents came out in droves on Sunday to remember the and honour Kirstin Sutherland.

Laurie and Rick Sutherland put on the second annual Kirstin's Walk for Kids in Selkirk last Sunday in memory of their daughter Kirstin who was 27 when she was killed in a car accident in September 2014.

The event was a combination walk and run for residents of all fitness levels and ages starting at the Ag Building in Selkirk Park.

Rain was falling early in the morning on Sunday, but by the start time the rain had stopped and hundreds walked, ran and biked through Selkirk Park with many wearing Kirstin's Walk for Kids shirts.

Rick said organizers wouldn't know until next week how much they raised and didn't want to give an estimate on money or attendance until the final numbers came in.

Last year the first annual walk saw just under 300 people show up, and the more than $10,000 raised last year went towards creating the Kirstin's Walk for Kids Fund, which is held by the Selkirk and District Community Foundation.

The fund involves an endowment fund, as well as two 'immediate-giving' donations, and Rick said all the money from the fund will be used to help organizations that help children.

Funds raised from this year's walk will also go into the fund.

He said this year's event received a lot of support from residents and local businesses.

"Things went really good again this year," Rick said.

He added he was surprised with the number of corporate donations they received for their silent auction.

"All of it was donated and almost all from local business," he said. "There was lots of support coming from the community."

Rick said he wants to keep the annual event a positive one to honour Kirstin's memory.

"It's about getting together with people she knew and having a good time, and talking with everybody and just enjoying the day, and it's something she would have loved to take part in because she was such a sociable person."

After the walk there was a lunch and gathering with silent auction prizes and kids activities.

Before the walk Kirstin's uncle and former Selkirk MLA Greg Dewar spoke to the crowd.

"Kirstin was a daughter, and a granddaughter, and a sister, and a niece and a cousin, and ultimately a friend to all of us," Dewar said. "I want to just dedicate this walk to her and her memory, and to all the wonderful people that came out on this day."

HEARING:

The Public Utilities Board (Board) anticipates holding a public hearing of an application from Manitoba Public Insurance Corporation (MPI) for approval of rates and premiums for compulsory vehicle and driver insurance as of March 1, 2017. Fishing and playing tricks on anglers

Hi folks,
Anglers playing tricks on each other seemed to be the theme of the stories our fellow fishers offered us this past week.

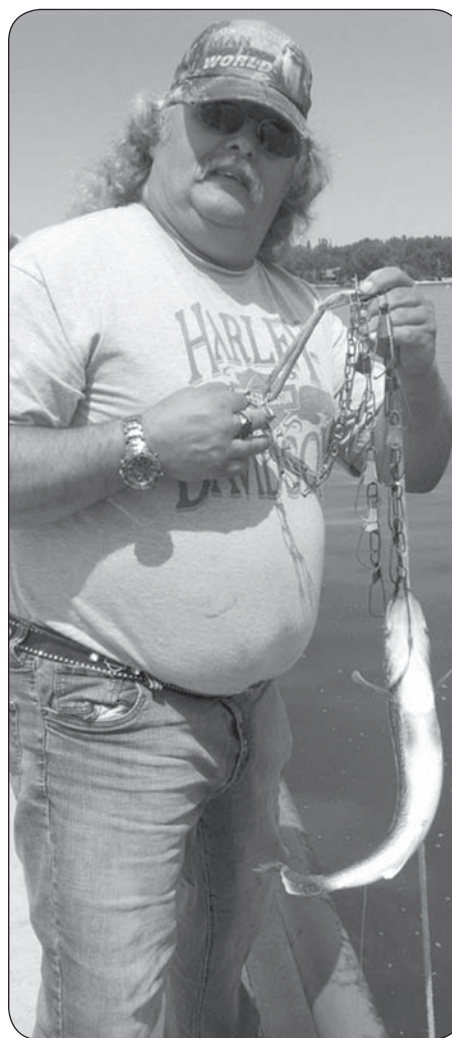

I'd been running around Lake Winnipeg's south east side fishing spots chatting with folks and come noon I stopped in Scanterbury at the South Beach Casino for lunch.

Naturally, as I was checking out I asked the girl, Erin Waluk, at the counter if anyone in her family fished and whether or not she had a story for us. Erin, the picture of a strong outdoors gal brightened, her eyes gleamed with enthusiasm as she burst out, "you bet, our whole family loves to fish!"

In seconds I had my recorder out as she recalled a time last summer when her gang were at Snowshoe Lake in Nopiming Park. She wanted to go fishing but didn't have any bait. Erin thought for a bit then got a chunk of bologna and as she headed out the door to the lake her father-in-law shouted after her, "you're never going to catch anything with that!" Ten minutes later she came marching back to camp lugging a huge jackfish!

Laughing, I started to put my recorder back in my pocket but she stopped me, "no wait," she said, "I've got another good one." I flicked my recorder back on. She continued. It was a bit later that summer when the whole family was out on the lake in the boat and everybody except grand dad jumped overboard for a swim. Grandpa, on the other hand, decided to do a little fishing.

Now the water in Snowshoe Lake is so clear you can see fish swimming 10' below the surface. Erin's father-in-law who likes to play tricks could see to swim under the boat and gave grandpas' fishing line some good tugs. Grandpa got so excited thinking he had caught a big one almost fell overboard!

Allen Borysowich from Beausejour with a sample of his catch at the Hnaua pier last week.

On Tuesday last week I made a stop at the pier by the locks at Lockport. I noticed a fairly large fellow at the end of the pier relaxing in a chair with a small table by his side that held drinks and a bag of chips. We had just got to exchanging names; his was Brian Juer, when a fish struck his line. He hoisted a small catfish over the rail guard and as his line lost tension the fish went flying right into Brian's potato chip bag! Brian separated the cat from his chips that had become only slightly slimy then proceeded to take the hook out of the fishes' mouth.

As he tossed it back into the water, he shouted after it with a grin, "if you want chips so bad, go get your own!" The sun was dazzling, reflecting brightly off the wind driven waves last Friday at the Hnaua pier. At the end of the pier, beside a solitary car, gigantic patio umbrellas were radically tossing in the stiff wind.

I drove up to the car and found new friends Allen Borysowich, Denise Finnson and his daughter Alex lounging in chairs under those umbrellas between their car and the edge of the pier. It didn't take long for me to ask him how he got huge umbrellas to stand on concrete in a fierce wind. Allen smiled as he explained that last year they were fishing and it began to rain but they didn't want to quit. So to make sure that didn't happen again he went home and fabricated umbrella stands of flat and pipe steel in such a fashion that you could set them out and drive over the flats stabilizing the stands with the cars' tires. How inventive! Remember what I said earlier about a little good natured fun while fishing? Well, Allen then gave us the story of last winter when he and his son were ice fishing off Beaconia Beach he waited till his son wasn't looking and pulled the boys' line up adding a whole bunch of weights then dropped it back in the water. His boy came back and seeing his rod bent down began reeling in. It is impossible for me to repeat what the boy called Allen when he saw the weights but to this day Allen is still waiting for that I'll-get-you-back-prank! Till next week, bye for now.

Prince Edward honours local youth during royal visit

54 Manitobans receive Duke of Edinburgh Gold Awards

By Dave Baxter

Royalty touched down in Manitoba last week, and Prince Edward took time to honour some local youth for their achievements.

Prince Edward, Earl of Essex and his wife Sophie, Countess of Essex landed in Winnipeg for a quick three-hour visit last Wednesday.

Prince Edward took part in The Duke of Edinburgh Gold Award Ceremony at the Royal Aviation Museum of Western Canada, and handed out Gold Awards to 54 young Manitobans between the ages of 14 and 24.

The awards are a special honour which recognize youth that have fulfilled a minimum time requirement in five different areas of community service, skill, adventurous journey, physical recreation and a residential project.

Kelly Leask, Samantha Shulha and Nicole Webster of St. Andrews as well as Luke Thorne of Selkirk, were all presented with Gold Awards last Wednesday by Prince Edward.

Shulha, who is now 25, started working on receiving the Gold Award at the age of 16, and spent years fulfilling the required hours in all five fields.

"It was awesome," Shulha said about finally receiving the honour last week.

"I never thought I would meet a member of the Royal Family. It was really cool because I'd been working on it for so many years."

Shulha served as a Pathfinder leader with Girl Guides for her service section, for physical recreation she did zumba, skiing, running, walking, curling and yoga, and for her residential project, she travelled to France and Spain.

For the adventurous journey portion Shulha backpacked and tented throughout Ireland, and she did photography as her skill.

Shulha has now finished a university degree and works as a teacher in Manitoba while continuing to live in St. Andrews.

Max Van Dorp, Teegan Walker, and Kiara Walker of Gimli also received Gold Awards as well as Jacqueline LeBlanc and Nikita Van Damme both of Miami.

"This is about recognizing individual achievement, but this is also a team effort," Prince Edward said to the large crowd that gathered at the ceremony. "There are a great number of people involved in encouraging and inspiring.

"I hope that there are not just a few parents and friends and family, but also there are some leaders and mentors here, and I thank you and hope you can share in the pride of these young people that are coming up and collecting their awards today."

Prince Edward also wanted those young people that were awarded last Wednesday to enjoy the moment.

"Today this is your day, and if it wasn't for you we wouldn't be here," he said to the Gold Medal winners at the ceremony. "I hope that you will enjoy this moment.

"And when you walk out of this hangar later, just walk a few inches taller."

The block party raised about $2,000, Fredericks confirmed following the event. The event featured live entertainment, bouncy castles for kids, a pie eating contest, a silent auction, and BBQ food that was cooked up by members of the Selkirk Fire Department.

Fredericks said they are working to raise money, and also to change misconceptions about what Habitat for Humanity does to help families.

Fredericks said many still mistakenly believe that they simply give away homes.

"We're not giving houses away," Fredericks said. "We're not giving a hand out, we're giving a hand up.

"We're trying to offer that stepping stone for families to be able to thrive."

Habitat works towards the building of homes and takes on mortgages, and their clients pay them the monthly mortgage fees rather than a bank, as a way to avoid high interest rates.

"They don't pay interest but they are paying the principle, and we keep it within their budget," Fredericks said.

She said clients also have to give "sweat equity hours" as they give their own time towards the construction of their home.

Trail offers tours through 'sacred, spiritual' lands

Dozens help celebrate grand opening of Brokenhead Wetland Interpretive Trail

By Lindsey Enns

The official opening of the Brokenhead Wetland Interpretive Trail marked another "historic day" for Brokenhead Ojibway Nation, according to the community's chief.

"These are very sacred, spiritual areas to our people and it has to be preserved and if this initiative wasn't undertaken, Manitobans and indeed the world ... would never have the opportunity to see a lot of the sacred plants, medicines and so forth," Bear said during the official opening of the trail last Wednesday morning. "The boardwalk ensures they will not be trampled."

Dozens gathered to celebrate the official opening of the trail located off Highway 59 in Scanterbury, approximately 37 kilometres north of Selkirk, last Wednesday morning.

The 1.3-kilometre trail along a floating walkway winds through various habitats including a balsam fir forest, a white cedar bog and a rare type of wetland known as a fen.

The route has numerous resting spots equipped with benches and signage that highlight specific plants such as rare orchids, pitcher plants and Labrador tea, along with other features such as boulders left behind by moving glacial ice.

The special relationship that the Brokenhead Ojibway Nation has with the wetland was also a major focus of the project.

While walking the trail, Bear said he hopes visitors get reacquainted with the great outdoors has to offer.

"We're at the place in time where there's climate change and everything like that and we have to find a different way to move forward and what we develop and how we develop it," he said.

Patty Lapkin, who travelled from her home in Winnipeg last Wednesday to be one of the first groups to walk the new trail was prepared with a walking stick in hand.

"Walking through a forest is very therapeutic," she said with a smile.

Carl Smith, one of the driving forces behind the new trail and Brokenhead Ojibway Nation's cultural director said the project took several years to get off the ground.

"It kept growing and growing ... we worked on it for quite a few years," Smith said, adding he's been involved with the project since 1999. "It's been a long time coming ... we knew it would eventually open."

The project was made possible through Debwendon Inc., a charitable organization formed by Brokenhead Ojibway Nation members, and with funding support from the Winnipeg Foundation's Eugene Reimer Environment Fund.

The province also kicked in $1 million to help with the construction of the floating walkway.

"This is a great partnership between the province, the local community and naturalists who have worked tirelessly to promote and share the cultural and ecological significance of this area," Sustainable Development Minister Cathy Cox said in a release last week. "The best way to make people understand the importance of preserving our environment is to let them share in nature's beauty without disturbing it."

Smith said he hopes this partnership inspires other northern First Nation communities to take on similar projects.

"This could be done and it was done ... northern First Nations have areas like this all over and they could establish tourism in the area."

Smith added the trail is always open, or at least until the sun goes down.

Gov't takes steps to restore balanced budget legislation

Staff

The province has introduced proposed legislation that would repeal the Balanced Budget, Fiscal Management and Taxpayer Accountability Act and introduce new legislation that would replace it in co-ordination with plans for Budget 2017.

"We need to take the time to carefully correct Manitoba's fiscal course and today we're taking the first steps to move our budget back to balance," said Friesen. "The existing legislation is unworkable and would require significant amendment."

The proposed balanced budget, fiscal management and taxpayer accountability repeal and consequential amendment act would repeal the current balanced budget legislation in its entirety, Friesen said.

He noted new proposed legislation will be introduced in co-ordination with Budget 2017.

St. Andrews teen turning heads on the racetrack

17-year-old paving the way for more young girls to take up racing

By Dave Baxter

Victoria Stutsky may still be in her teens, but she isn't afraid to get out on a dirt track and race against grown men.

The 17-year-old who lives in St. Andrews, is in her first season of racing in Midwest Modified races, which sees her race on a dirt track in a vehicle with over 400 horsepower.

"It's really cool and at first it was kind of scary going up against some of these older guys," Stutsky said. "But I know I can do it, and I have the ability to do it."

"I love speed and I love racing. It's not that scary to me because I'm confident on the track."

Stutsky started racing at the Red River Co-op Speedway in May, and said she doesn't see many other teenagers, and has only seen one other female racing at the track that sits just outside of Winnipeg.

She admits she got a few funny looks when she first started racing, but eventually other racers and the fans in the stands realized she knew what she was doing.

"People looked weird or a bit intimidated at first, but many are now coming up and saying I've been doing a really good job and that's nice to hear, and some say 'wow your only 17 and you're a girl.'

"I think it's great to have a young girl in there to prove we all have the same abilities and we can all do what we put our mind to."

Stutsky said she has been making some big gains in her first season of racing, as she is now in the running for rookie of the year in her class.

She said she grew up around racing as had been racing Go Karts since she was 12.

"I decided one day it was time to move on to bigger and better things," she said about her decision to move on from Go Karts to Midwest Modified racing this year.

She is also not afraid to hit high speeds even if it means the possibility of crashing.

"Crashes do come and that is part of racing, but I'm prepared and ready for it," she said.

She now has a number of goals moving forward.

"I'd like to travel more and compete in the States," she said "And I want to place top five this year."

"I want to race and travel and just really make a name for myself."

For more information about Stutsky and her upcoming races visit victoriastutskyracing.com.

Proposed legislation aims to protect children in care

Staff

The province hosted an information session regarding recently introduced proposed legislation, which would allow service providers such as those with child and family services (CFS), police and schools to better share information when it is in the best interests of the child last week.

Premier Brian Pallister was joined by Families Minister Scott Fielding, Sheldon Kennedy and Manitoba service providers at an event held at Snowflake Place For Children and Youth last Thursday.

"Our government is committed to ensuring that Manitoba children receive the supports they need," Pallister stated in a release. "Creating an environment in which service providers are able to collaborate and better share critical information in the best interests of each individual child, is integral to improving services and to delivering better outcomes for our most vulnerable citizens."

The proposed protecting children (information sharing) act would allow information to be shared about children in need of supportive services. These would include:

- children in care of child and family services or those receiving voluntary CFS services;
- school children in need of an individual education plan;

• children who require disability services, mental health services, addiction services or victim support services; and

• children in the youth criminal justice system.

Information could also be disclosed about their parent or guardian. This approach would allow information to be shared in a more timely and effective manner, Pallister added.

This proposed legislation would authorize organizations and others who provide services to at-risk children to collect, use and disclose personal information or personal health information. This would be in addition to information covered by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act and the Personal Health Information Act.

Partying like it's 1916

By Dave Baxter

Walking into the Marine Museum of Manitoba felt and sounded like a trip back in time last Sunday.

The Selkirk Heritage Endowment Fund (SHEF) held the 1916 Stuart House Garden Party on Sunday at the museum in Selkirk.

Many of those who showed up for the party were wearing clothes that men, women and children would have worn back in 1916.

The event even sounded historic as the musical group Simpson's Folly played only songs that were written before 1916, while those in attendance enjoyed tea and cake along with the entertainment.

The event was originally planned for the lawns of the Stuart House on Eveline Street in Selkirk, but was moved to the inside of the historic Joe Simpson at the Marine Museum of Manitoba due to the rainy weather.

Event organizer Rob Sarginson said the event helps put more focus on the history of the Tri-S area and historic buildings in the region.

"It's about heritage buildings and structures in our community and how they have to be preserved, so we can pay attention and remember the stories of our past and our identity here in Selkirk," Sarginson said.

The event did accept donations that will go towards SHEF, but Sarginson said the event was mainly about residents coming out and having fun with the historic clothes, music and overall feeling of the event.

"What is heritage if you can't connect with the past?" Sarginson said. "You want to connect people with the dress, the food, the music. It's about really connecting to the past."

SHEF was established in 2012 by the City of Selkirk, which contributes $50,000 annually to the fund that is currently valued at about $240,000.

The goal of the fund is to eventually see a municipal heritage museum set up that will celebrate Selkirk's history, but the fund will also provide annual grants to the Marine Museum of Manitoba until a museum is established.

City asks motorists to avoid construction area

Submitted

On June 20, Prostar HDD contractors started a three week long water main construction project on Agnes Street from Manitoba to McLean avenues and McLean Avenue from Agnes to Jemima streets.

If this is your regular route, the City of Selkirk is asking motorists to make arrangements to avoid the construction area throughout this time.

The project is the installation of the supplemental water main from the RM of St. Andrews to Selkirk.

The City of Selkirk is working with the Manitoba Water Stewardship Board on this supplemental water main project on a 50/50 cost share.

Please note that there may be traffic/parking restrictions during the construction period but all residential approaches will remain accessible.

Residential water and sewer services should not be interrupted and garbage and recycling pick-up will remain on schedule.

In order to complete this project in a timely manner, construction will continue during extended hours including evenings and weekends.

All damages to boulevards and pavement will be restored.

Strawberry and pomegranate pannacotta

Makes 6 servings

Pannacotta is a traditional Italian dessert usually made with heavy cream. This lighter version is sure to impress your guests. Make it a day ahead for best results.

Ingredients

- 1 cup (250 mL) 2% milk
- ½ cup (125 mL) 1% buttermilk
- ½ cup (125 mL) fresh pomegranate juice
- ¼ cup (50 mL) sugar-free, seedless strawberry jam
- 1 envelope plain gelatin (enough to set 2 cups / 500 mL)
- 3 cups (750 mL) fresh strawberries, sliced

Fresh pomegranate seeds (optional)

Directions

In a medium bowl, combine milk, buttermilk, juice and jam.

Make gelatin according to package instructions. Whisk into the milk mixture.

Pour into six ramekins and let set in the fridge for at least 3 hours or overnight.

To remove the pannacotta from the ramekins, place the ramekin into very hot water for 1 minute. Run a sharp knife along the inside edge of the ramekin and invert onto the individual serving plate.

Garnish with fresh strawberries and pomegranate seeds (if using).

Whole-Wheat Spinach Ricotta Calzones

Serves 7

For the dough:

- 1½ cups warm water (105 F to 110 F)
- 1 ¾-ounce envelope quick-acting dry yeast
- 2 cups unbleached white whole-wheat flour, plus additional for dusting
- 2 cups unbleached bread flour
- ¼ cup extra-virgin olive oil, divided
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 1½ teaspoons Italian herb seasoning

Olive oil spray

For the filling:

- 1 tablespoon extra-virgin olive oil
- 1 8-ounce package crimini (baby bella) mushrooms, finely chopped
- 4 cups lightly packed baby spinach, finely chopped
- 2 teaspoons minced garlic
- ½ cup soft goat cheese
- 1 cup whole milk ricotta cheese
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- ½ cup basil leaves, chopped small
- ¼ cup drained sun-dried tomatoes in oil, chopped
- 1 tablespoon flaxseed meal
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

For serving:

- 1½ cups marinara sauce

To make the dough:

Pour the water into the bowl of a stand mixer fitted with a dough hook, sprinkle in the yeast, and let it sit for 5 minutes. Add the flours, 3 tablespoons of oil, and salt and seasoning; mix for 10 minutes on medium-low speed until the dough is elastic in consistency. Cover the bowl tightly with plastic wrap and place it in a warm area until the dough doubles in size, about 90 minutes. If you don't have a warm area in your kitchen, heat the oven to 200 F. Turn off the oven and wait 5 minutes before placing the dough in the oven to proof.

Once the dough has risen, punch down. Coat a large sheet pan (or 2 medium sheets) with olive oil spray, shape the dough into 7 equal balls, cover, and let rest for 15 minutes.

To make the filling:

Heat a large frying pan over medium heat and add oil. When the oil begins to shimmer, add mushrooms and sauté for 3 minutes; add spinach and garlic and cook until water releases and evaporates. Remove pan from heat and stir in the goat cheese. Add ricotta, Parmesan cheese, basil, tomatoes, flaxseed meal, salt, and pepper and stir. Transfer to a container and chill.

To assemble a calzone:

Preheat oven to 500 F. Dust the counter, rolling pin, and a dough ball with flour. Flatten the dough into a 5-inch circle, rotating after every few rolls. Place ⅓ cup of filling on the front half of the dough, leaving ½ inch around the border. Fold the dough over until the edges meet, forming a half-moon. Fold over ½ inch. Press the edges with your fingers to seal and score lightly with a fork. Gently, but quickly, transfer the calzone back to the sheet pan. Repeat this process with the remaining dough and filling. Brush the calzones with 1 tablespoon of oil and using the kitchen shears, cut four ½-inch slits into the tops of each. Bake on the middle rack until lightly golden on top and bottom, 15 to 18 minutes.

Complement with warm marinara sauce when serving.

Prosciutto, Tomato and Peas

Prosciutto, Pomodoro e Piselli

Serves 4 to 6

1½ pounds unshelled fresh peas or 1 10-ounce package frozen peas, thawed

- ½ cup extra-virgin olive oil
- ½ cup minced shallots
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 5 to 6 fresh plum tomatoes, minced
- Salt and freshly ground pepper, to taste
- ¼ pound sliced prosciutto, diced
- 1 pound spaghetti
- 2 tablespoons unsalted butter
- ½ cup freshly grated Parmigiano-Reggiano cheese

1. Shell the fresh peas and cook them in a medium saucepan of boiling salted water until tender but still firm to the bite, 3 to 4 minutes.

2. Heat the oil in a large skillet over medium heat. Add the shallots and cook until lightly golden and soft. Add the garlic, stir once or twice, and then add the tomatoes. Season with salt and pepper and cook until the tomatoes begin to soften, 4 to 5 minutes. Add the prosciutto, stir for a minute or two, and then add the peas. Stir until the peas are heated through. Turn off the heat.

3. Meanwhile, cook the spaghetti in boiling salted water according to package directions.

4. When pasta is almost done, scoop up and reserve ½ cup of the cooking water. Drain spaghetti and add to the skillet. Add the butter and mix quickly over low heat until pasta and sauce are well combined. Add a little of the reserved cooking water if needed. Taste, adjust the seasoning and serve with a little sprinkle of the Parmigiano cheese.

Turning Leaf support services seeks Selkirk, area volunteers

By Lindsey Enns

A non-profit organization, which provides services to those struggling with an intellectual challenge and mental illness, is looking for some Selkirk and area volunteers.

Turning Leaf Community Support Services Inc. offers youth and adults living with an intellectual challenge and mental illness treatment and support for the purpose of assisting with safe, healthy and independent living.

Barkley Engel, the Winnipeg-based organization's founder and CEO said many of their clients suffer from fetal alcohol syndrome, schizophrenia and depression.

"The people we work with struggle with both of those kinds of issues mental illness and some kind of cognitive challenge," Engel said. "So they struggle with this thing that impedes them from problem solving effectively and staying safe and they are taken advantage of a lot.

"These are the folks that fall through the gaps in many, many ways so our job is to make sure they're safe that they're cared for and that they are being the best they can be given their circumstances."

Turning Leaf set up their residential program in Selkirk in a series of homes in the northwest part of the city in 2011, Engel said.

Currently 25 of their clients, ranging between the ages of 15 and 60 are living in Selkirk. Engel said while they have been warmly welcomed in Selkirk, they are still looking for more volunteers to help them out.

"Selkirk has this natural inclination to be good neighbours," he said. "We are needing people to come help with fundraising, to help serve meals ... even just come and do recreational stuff with our participants or have a coffee with them and be a friend.

"Even though that doesn't sound

String of vehicle thefts hit West St. Paul

Staff

RCMP are reminding West St. Paul and area residents to lock their vehicles and hide valuables after a high volume of vehicles were broken into on June 17.

While some of the vehicles broken into were locked, most were not and those had valuables visible to would-be thieves.

RCMP would like to remind motorists to lock your vehicle doors at all times when not in the vehicle, and keep articles out of sight.

This includes loose change in the console, or other items of value.

like much, that can be the most impacting thing they can do."

Engel added a lot of the men and women they work with don't have friends or family.

"They definitely need relationships."

Engel said some of their residential clients stay for long periods of time while others stay for short stints.

"We have people who have lived there for five years because they were getting the kind of help they need ... but they need it everyday," he said, adding the average cost for someone needing one-on-one care each day is close to $300 per day. "However it can be as low as $40 per day, it all depends on what the participant needs."

Those enrolled in the residential program are referred to Turning

Leaf and their expenses are paid for by the province or the regional health authority. However, Engel said not every individual qualifies for funding, which is why Turning Leaf created the Fallen Leaf Fund in 2012. So far this year Engel said they have raised about $40,000 for the fund.

Those interested in volunteering can contact Turning Leaf at 204-221-5594 or visit turningleaflservices.com.

Communities in Bloom 2016

In 2015, Selkirk received an overall score of 81% resulting in four blooms. Over the next several weeks this section will be devoted to areas which upon the Communities in Bloom judging panel evaluate our city. Our aim is to educate the public that Communities in Bloom is not just about the flowers. The evaluation is based on 8 criteria, divided into the following 6 sections:

- Tidiness • Environmental Action • Heritage Conservation
- Urban Forestry • Landscape • Floral Displays

EVALUATION CRITERIA - ENVIRONMENTAL ACTION

The Communities in Bloom focus this week will be on the environmental action initiatives of Selkirk. Environmental action includes the efforts and achievements of the community with respect to: policies, by-laws, programs and best practices, waste reduction and landfill diversion rate, composting sites, landfill sites, hazardous waste collections, water conservation, naturalization, and environmental stewardship activities under the guiding principles of sustainable development pertaining to green spaces. In 2015, the City of Selkirk scored 124.50 out of a possible 150 points for environmental action.

2015 Judges Observations:

It was good to see that the efforts to remove the old Lord Selkirk have come to fruition. The rain water collection at the Water Tower development is well done. Utilizing river water for watering planters and tree plantings is a good initiative. Revamping the swimming facility in Selkirk Park to utilize less water is also commendable, as potable water is a valuable commodity. The new library is an outstanding facility for the community. The LEED silver building and the native grassland restoration are great examples for future developments in the community. The community composting/bring and take facility at the transfer station is a very good initiative.

Selkirk is to be commended for establishing a public transit system; it was good to see bike racks on the busses.

2015 Judges Recommendations:

Consideration could be given to a public awareness campaign for the use of rain water collection at home and its benefits in home garden irrigation. This may reduce the use of potable water which is becoming a costly resource for all of us. Some consideration could be given to promotion of home composting, along with promoting the mulch mowing of home lawns instead of collecting and hauling clippings. Some consideration also could be given to greater promotion of the birding trails at Selkirk Park.

Celebrating culture

Hundreds gather in Selkirk Park for 11th annual Aboriginal Day Festivities

By Dave Baxter

National Aboriginal Day in Selkirk was an opportunity for Otobia and Dean Bear to spend time with their grandson while celebrating their culture.

The couple travelled with their grandson Adrien from Brokenhead Ojibway Nation to the 11th annual Aboriginal Day event hosted by the Manitoba Métis Federation (MMF) in Selkirk Park last Tuesday.

"It's important for young people to celebrate Aboriginal Days for their culture," Dean said. "He is Métis so we want him to understand his background and his culture."

"I think that's very important."

Hundreds gathered at the event, which offered free pancakes and BBQ food, live entertainment, and a bouncy castle, petting zoo and races for children and youth.

MMF president David Chartrand agreed that bringing young people to events that celebrate aboriginal culture is important.

He added the event in Selkirk also reinforces how aboriginal culture respects and treats elders.

The front row tables at the event,

"IT'S A PROUD DAY TO BE WHO WE ARE, AND IT'S ALSO IMPERATIVE THAT YOU START TO TRULY BELIEVE IN WHO YOU ARE."

with the best view of the live entertainment, are always reserved for elders and throughout the day a number of volunteers were bringing elders their food and drinks.

"We always recognize elders first and show that respect for elders," Chartrand said. "It's just a customary thing for our culture and for our nation, and it's how we were raised."

Chartrand wants National Aboriginal Day events to give aboriginal and Métis people of all ages a sense of pride in their culture.

"It's a proud day to be who we are, and it's also imperative that you start to truly believe in who you are," he said. "We have struggles with many in our younger generation where they are lost or in despair, and a lot of times it's because they don't know who they are and where they come from, and we try to really promote that."

Chartrand added MMF makes everything at Aboriginal Day in Selkirk free as a way to bring families together.

"It's about family, and everything is free because no one should ever be excluded," he said.

Aboriginal Day festivities in Selkirk featured a number of local performers and a headlining performance by country music performer Jerry Sere-da.

Artists to bring nature's elements to Gwen Fox Gallery

By Dave Baxter

Four artists have joined forces to bring nature's gifts to Selkirk's Gwen Fox Gallery.

Audrey Waytiuk, John Valentine, Yvonne Sabirsh and Anne Snihor will hold the Elements: Nature's Gifts art show at Selkirk's Gwen Fox Gallery throughout the month of July.

All four artists in the show will have different types of art, but all pieces will connect back to the theme of nature's gifts.

Valentine's work in the show will consist of his pottery and that connects back to nature because of the clay he uses for his work.

Sabirsh's work will consist of watercolors depicting northern lights, which she said show nature's gifts by representing light and air.

Waytiuk will display photographs on canvases of scenes like flowers, plants and other nature scenes, and Snihor's art will consist of watercolors and acrylics depicting northern scenes.

All four artists in the show met through being members and volunteers at the Gwen Fox Gallery. "We know each other from joining as members and taking part in the different member activities," Waytiuk said. "And over time we learned that we could work together and put on a show."

All pieces in the Elements: Nature's Gifts art show will be available for sale.

The Elements: Nature's Gifts art show at the Gwen Fox Gallery will take place throughout the month of July.

Icelanders odyssey to Lake Winnipeg

Part One

On Sept. 21, 1875, about 250 impoverished, weary Icelanders, after an unsuccessful, harrowing attempt at colonization at Kinmount, Ont., packed up their limited personal belongings and headed west to establish a new Icelandic community in the Canadian Northwest, at the northern perimeter of the newly-formed "postage stamp province" of Manitoba, today's Boundary Creek in Winnipeg Beach.

The number increased considerably as other Icelanders from Ontario and Wisconsin joined them on the way.

They travelled, not through the 600-miles ill-fated all-Canadian Dawson Route, which in 1870, 37-year-old Colonel Grant Wolseley and his 1,600 soldiers had traversed in their 96-day overland journey over a patchwork of lakes between Lake Superior and Lake of the Woods, en route to quelling the Red River Uprising.

Instead, the settlers went by rail to Sarnia, thence by steamer to Duluth, a four-day trip, and next, on freshly laid track, by rail to Moorhead on the American section of the Red River.

There, the Hudson's Bay Company's steamboat S.S. International, met the party. Other passengers had already booked passage, permitting little accommodation for later arrivals. Most of the the Icelanders were placed on unsheltered flat-boats in tow in the steamship's wake.

Flat-bottomed, the creaky 137-foot steamer had difficulty managing the Red River's hairpin turns and ran around when the water level fell below two feet.

On arrival in Winnipeg on October 11, 1875, they stayed in an area known as the Hudson Bay Flats, living in secondhand and some badly-torn tents, procured in advance from the Hudson's Bay Company. They were shocked that no arrangements had been made for their stay in New Iceland - no haying had been done so they could not take cattle. Many single people opted to remain in Winnipeg. Most hastened to proceed to "New Iceland".

On the 16th they embarked on a current-driven ride down the Red River, with six flat-boats and a York boat, and drifted over the Lister Rapids (now Lockport). After four days and nights travel, on October 21, 1875, at 4:30 p.m., at the mouth of the Red River, about a kilometre south of the present Gimli harbour, the S.S. Colville took the fleet of flatboats into tow. At about 5 p.m. sensing a threatening storm, the captain cast anchor off Willow Point and released the frail craft. Eight York boat oarsmen completed the task, pulling the audacious mini fleet into shore.

Manitobans urged to exercise caution when it comes to door-to-door sales

Submitted

The Manitoba Consumer Protection Office (CPO) urges Manitobans to be cautious about door-to-door selling of large household items such as furnaces, air conditioners and water heaters as door-to-door sales become more frequent in the summer months.

Consumers are reminded to be aware of their rights under the Consumer Protection Act. In Manitoba, all consumers have the right to:

- Ask to see a salesperson's direct seller licence. All direct sellers must be licensed by the CPO. If they can't provide a licence, write down the person's name and the company name being represented. Before continuing with the transaction, contact the CPO to verify the company is licensed.

- Cancel the agreement if you change your mind. You have 10 days to cancel an agreement with a licensed seller or one year to cancel an agreement with an unlicensed seller. You don't need a reason to cancel and you cannot be charged a penalty when you do. The direct seller must receive your wish to cancel in writing.

If approached by any door-to-door direct seller, the Consumer Protection Office suggests the following tips:

- Read the whole contract before signing. Don't sign it if there is anything you don't understand, such as terms and conditions or if you have questions about your cancellation rights. Before making large purchases, consider reviewing the contract with a lawyer to be sure the terms are clear to you.

- Take your time deciding. If you feel rushed or pressured, ask the salesperson to leave the information with you.

- Ask them to leave if you are not comfortable with the seller or not interested in their product.

- Shop around and get to know the company. Ask for references and be sure to check them. Research the seller's reputation by contacting the Better Business Bureau and looking on the Internet for reviews.

- If they ask to do an inspection, be sure to get more than one opinion. Contact at least two more companies and compare the results. Always get estimates before making a decision on a large purchase.

- Check with your local municipality to see if any permits, licences or inspections are necessary.

Blackleg, clubroot headline first CanolaPALOOZA

By Stefanie Lasuik

Manitoba's first-ever CanolaPALOOZA taught farmers everything they need to know about growing healthy crops.

The event, which took place June 21 in Portage la Prairie, had 11 different stations set up to answer any questions canola growers had.

One focus of the event was educating canola farmers about possible harm to their crops. Headlining that focus was blackleg.

Blackleg, characterized by off-white lesions, that can cause significant yield losses. This summer's wet, humid conditions have been conducive for the disease, said Paula Halabicki, a service specialist with BSAF who lives in Teulon. Although the opportunity to apply fungicide has passed, canola farmers can still prevent affected soil areas from getting even worse by rotating their crops said Halabicki.

Even those who don't currently have blackleg should be checking for it throughout the season, explained Halabicki. Pratisara Bajracharya of Manitoba Agriculture is encouraging people to take water samples at the entrance of fields and near water run-offs.

Thunder Junior girls advance to league final

By Brian Bowman

The Interlake Thunder Junior girls' football team is headed to their league final.

Interlake earned a berth into tonight's championship game against the North Winnipeg Nomads after an impressive 33-13 semifinal victory over the St. Vital Mustangs last Thursday in Stonewall.

"We were a little nervous and didn't start as well as I would have liked," admitted Thunder head coach Derek Charison. "But our defence made stops early on that gave our offence a chance to get some momentum going, which was great."

The Thunder's defence was fantastic all game against a much-improved St. Vital team from the previous week (also a Thunder win). The Mustangs kept the game close until midway in the first half but the Thunder eventually wore down their opponent.

"The girls played hard and well again," Charison said.

Interlake will have to be at its best, however, tonight when it battles North Winnipeg at Investors Group Field for the league title. Kickoff is at 6:30 p.m.

The Thunder are very excited to be playing for a championship in a CFL stadium.

"It's going to be fantastic," Charison predicted. "They're all aware of it and it's certainly not lost on them. They know that they have already accomplished something pretty good and they are prepared to give the Nomads a (heck of) a game."

In other Thunder news, the Interlake is still in need of some players for its Atom team (nine and 10 year olds). Last week, the Thunder was just shy of the number that they need to field a team and were actively looking for players.

Charison said interested parents can contact him via email at development@interlakethunder.org and he would direct them in the appropriate direction.

"We will take people right up until the first game," Charison said, noting the season will begin in August. "We will always take kids right up until we can."

Meanwhile, the Thunder recently announced the appointment of head coaches to their Cruncher and Atom football teams.

Chad Thoresby has been named head coach of the Cruncher team for the 2016 season.

A graduate of the Thunder Midget program, Thoresby, a Stonewall native, has had a distinguished playing career which includes numerous honours and awards. He was named a two-time Offensive Lineman of the Year, two-time Midget league all star and Interlake Thunder Midget Offensive MOP.

Senior slo-pitch team wins gold

The Selkirk and area 55-and-over slo-pitch team won gold at a Steinbach tournament on June 8-9 after a 13-6 win over the Killarney Coyotes.

Selkirk was a perfect 4-0 at the tournament, cruising to victories over the Winnipeg Legends (11-4), Winnipeg Flashbacks (10-4), and Winnipeg Tri-Cad (9-1).

Moe Gowan pitched in all four games for Selkirk.

Selkirk then won a silver medal at the 55-plus Games in Brandon on June 14-16. Selkirk lost to the Southwest Maulers in the final at bat.

Selkirk advanced to the championship game after pounding Portage la Prairie 13-3.

Prior to that, Selkirk lost to Southwest, defeated two-time provincial champion Winnipeg Prime Time 17-5 as Bob Zakayko hit for the cycle, and then slipped past Swan Valley 10-7.

Selkirk had three players injured during the tournament, including Gord Paradoski forced to play with a pulled leg muscle in the final game.

In league play, Selkirk defeated Winnipeg South 22-13 on June 21 and then blasted the same squad 32-11 the following day.

Tri-S striking down the competition in MMSL action

By Brian Bowman

The Tri-S Strike Force have played some very good soccer in June – and they have the victories to prove it.

Tri-S posted its third straight victory this month to improve its record to 4-2 on the young season.

“That’s a very good start,” said Tri-S player/coach Kris Pellaers last weekend. “A couple of the guys from the other team came over to our team and that was a nice little change for us.”

Tri-S earned its fourth win of the season after a solid 4-2 road win over the Red Devils United on June 21 in Winnipeg.

“We played really well that game,” Pellaers said. “They only had about 15 minutes in our zone and got lucky on a penalty kick. I think they got the first goal of the game and then we woke up.”

Jordan Bekkering, Chris Loschiavo, Pellaers, and Nikia Maxfield scored for the winners.

Bekkering has played some outstanding soccer this season, said Pellaers, and has benefitted nicely from a position change to centre-mid.

“In the indoor season, we put him up to centre-mid and it worked out really well,” Pellaers explained. “So, we put him there for outdoor and, I think, in his first game he got a hat track.”

Tri-S has made a couple of positional changes to their lineup this season which has also helped.

“I always knew the talent was there,” Pellaers said. “But we just hadn’t brought it to the field the last few years. This year, we’re bringing it and that’s a good thing.”

Tri-S started this month with an impressive 3-0 win over Saint James Spurs FC and then doubled the King’s Head Knights and Red Devils by identical 4-2 scores.

The Strike Force was very dominant, at times, in those victories.

“It’s like an offence versus defence practice,” Pellaers noted. “It’s been nice. (Our guys) are working together as a team and playing together as a team. The skill has always been there but we just hadn’t put it to the field.”

“It was disappointing the last couple of years watching the team do so (poorly).”

Tri-S, currently in third place in the MMSL Divi-

RECORD PHOTO BY BRETT MITCHELL

Chad Sauerborn and the Tri-S Strike Force have been playing some great soccer this month, posting a perfect 3-0 record heading into last night’s game with the first-place Mobb United. At press time, Tri-S was 4-2 and in third place in the Division 5 standings.

sion 5 standings with 12 points, had a very tough test with the first-place Mobb United last night at the Selkirk Rec Complex. No score was available due to Tuesday’s press deadline.

Pellaers hoped for a good showing from his club against a really good Mobb United team, which had outscored its opponents by a 26-8 margin heading into last night’s contest.

“I’ve been watching them come up through the years and one of their guys always has a golden boot,” Pellaers said. “That’s going to be a real tough test. It we can make it a tie or a win – great. It’s going to be a crazy game, back-and-forth, and, hopefully, we get the better of them.”

“If we beat them, it will show just how much we have improved.”

Tri-S’ next game is Tuesday when it hosts Liberty FC Winnipeg at the Selkirk Rec Complex. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Steelers to begin regular season Sept. 23

Staff

The Manitoba Junior Hockey League will begin its regular season Sept. 23 with 10 of 11 teams in action.

The Selkirk Steelers will open their season that evening when they battle the Winnipeg Blues at the MTS Iceplex (7 p.m.). Those same two teams will hook up the next evening at the Selkirk Rec Complex (7:30 p.m.).

Selkirk will then wrap up a very busy opening weekend by hosting the Steinbach Pistons on Sunday (7:30 p.m.). The defending-MJHL champion Portage Terriers will open their regular season in Virden against the Oil Capitals.

This season, teams will play a balanced schedule

- three games at home/three games on the road - against each opponent. The regular season ends March 5. Moving into the playoffs, eight teams will make the post-season, with the first round consisting of four, best-of-seven series. The winner of the championship series will be awarded the Turnbull Trophy as league champions.

Selkirk flooded with soccer-mad youngsters last weekend

By Brian Bowman

Selkirk was flooded with soccer-mad youngsters last weekend as the Red River Recreational Soccer Association (RRRSA) and the Timbits Jamboree tournaments were held at the Rec Complex fields.

It was estimated that about 1,000 kids took part in the weekend event with boys and girls playing in various age groups and divisions. The turnout was real good considering the recent rains and sloppy field conditions.

"I want to thank the city of Selkirk because the fields were pretty wet and we had to relocate two fields Friday afternoon," said Tri-S soccer president Daniel Racicot Monday evening, noting the kids had a great time playing in the tournament.

"Some of their guys managed to get out and paint the fields." Youth soccer in the area has maintained a strong presence in the community. It remains a popular sport amongst kids - and parents - as the season wraps up in late June. That gives families an opportunity to enjoy the summer months and head out for holidays without missing games.

"The numbers are holding about the same (compared to previous years)," Racicot said. "Some of the younger age groups are up and some of the older ones are down a little bit.

"We're pretty close to the same numbers as last year."

For the first time ever, area kids may have an opportunity to play in a fall league this year. Racicot said they will have a registration in late July to see if there will be enough interest to host a fall program.

"We've been thinking about it for the last couple of years," Racicot noted. "It would be run out of Selkirk only. All of the kids in the area would register in the Selkirk area and we would make up enough teams to have a league."

Racicot said the registrations fees for the fall league would be cheaper than the summer one because parents' have already paid their kids' MSA fees ($20) for the year.

Penner, a St. Clements resident, placed third in the drive competition, second in chipping, and first in the putting event.

With that impressive showing, she has now advanced to a regional qualifying event in August. Penner, a Grade 8 East Selkirk Middle School student, has been practicing hard and hopes to do well at the upcoming event, said an email.

Steelers pull off mid-summer trade

By Brian Bowman

Most people around Selkirk have had mosquitoes on their minds the past couple of weeks as the pesky bugs have reappeared in droves for another summer.

But Selkirk Steelers' GM Ken Petrash had something else on his mind recently – a trade.

Petrash pulled the trigger on a pretty big deal, acquiring 96 forwards Ryan Pruden and Liam Kroeker and a fifth-round pick from the Winnipeg Blues in exchange for 97 forwards Dale Goodbrandson and Dexter Kuczek.

The Steelers' general manager feels confident that his club is a better team now after this trade.

"We are a lot tougher now to play against after bringing these two guys in," said Petrash Monday afternoon. "They are two players that play no-prisoner type of hockey. They are hard-nosed and both have a knack for the net."

Kroeker was a member of the Blues' squad that won a MJHL championship two seasons ago. Last year, he had 12 goals and 30 points in 49 regular-season games.

"What we like about him is that he can play defence or forward, which is good for us," Petrash noted.

Pruden, meanwhile, has family ties in Selkirk and is a solid player that Petrash has been eagerly pursuing for several seasons since rejoining the Steelers' organization.

Pruden played three games for the Western Hockey League's Saskatoon Blades in 2013-14 and has had MJHL stints with the Blues, Steinbach Pistons and OCN Blizzard.

Meanwhile, the Steelers have also recently signed 98 forwards Chipper Osiname and Adam Withers and 97 defenceman Alex Bouchard.

"There's a lot of potential there," Petrash said of the young trio. "It's going to be a very competitive camp...and I'm getting closer to what I like as far as our team is shaping up."

Osiname, a smaller player with grit, led the Manitoba AAA Midget Hockey League's Brandon Wheat Kings in scoring last season with 20 goals and 38 points. Withers is also an offensively-gifted player, leading the Kenora Thistles in scoring with 21 goals and 56 points during the regular season a year ago.

Bouchard, meanwhile, is a defenceman that played one season with the L.A. Jr. Kings in California.

Petrash warned he may not be quite done with making changes to the Steelers' roster for this upcoming season.

"There are a couple of guys that I'm going after yet that could put us over the top," he said. "It's our 50th season, so I want this to be a special team."

We look at you and wonder
Where all the time has gone.
What happened to our yesterdays?
It hasn't been that long...
Since you learned to ride a bike
And excelled in Basketball.
When did you get so confident?
How did you grow so tall?
We look at you and wonder
At how the years flew by.
You certainly have found your wings
And are now ready to fly.
You stand before us, on this day
Prepared to step into
The next chapter of your life,
That the Creator made for you.
SO PROUD OF YOU SON!!

-Love Mom, Dad and all your family

In loving memory of our dear son, brother, brother-in-law and uncle Garry, who passed away June 28, 2014

Time speeds on, two years have passed,
Since death its gloom, its shadows cast.
Within our home, where all seemed bright,
And took from us a shining light.
We miss that light, and ever will,
His vacant place there's none to fill.
Down here we mourn, but not in vain,
For up in Heaven we will meet again.
