Manitoba's first MADD roadside memorial sign unveiled in WSP

By Lindsey Enns

The clouds cleared and the sun started to shine as Manitoba's first MADD Canada roadside memorial sign in memory of Brett Yasinsky was unveiled in West St. Paul last Wednesday.

The memorial sign, which hangs at the southwest corner of McPhillips Street (Highway 8) and Grassmere Rd. where Brett was killed by an impaired driver, includes Brett's name and MADD Canada's red ribbon, to serve as a powerful symbol of the tragic impact of impaired driving.

Brett, a West St. Paul resident who attended school in the community, was on his way to pick up his girlfriend on Nov. 10, 2010 when the 22-year-old's car was hit by an impaired driver just minutes from his home. He died at the scene.

More than 100 friends, family and community members as well as local dignitaries gathered outside the Grassmere Family Restaurant last

The memorial sign now hangs at the southwest corner of McPhillips Street (Highway 8) and Grassmere Rd. where 22-year-old Brett was killed by an impaired driver on Nov. 10, 2010.

Wednesday afternoon for the sign's unveiling.

Brett's aunt, Melody Bodnarchuk, said since his death the family has been working with MADD Canada (Mothers Against Drunk Driving) to help honour his life while reminding others about the implications of impaired driving.

"This roadside marker that has been unveiled today means Brett has not been forgotten, will never be forgotten," Melody said while addressing the crowd last Wednesday. "It is a reminder that drinking and driving kills. That it devastates and destroys families and it's also a reminder of the support that these victims receive from MADD."

Melody also took the time to thank MADD Canada "for their never ending support" over the years.

"When someone you love is killed in this senseless manner, a piece of you and, in fact, your entire community dies with them," Brett's uncle, Wayne Bodnarchuk, stated in a release last week.

West St. Paul Mayor Bruce Henley said he had the opportunity to know Brett for many years as he grew up with his oldest son. Henley said Brett was always happy, had a great sense of humour and loved spending time with family and friends.

"Brett was a great friend to our family ... we watched Brett grow from a young boy into an intelligent, ambitious young man," Henley said during his address to the crowd. "Brett, like everyone here, had goals and dreams and at 22-year-old Brett was becoming very focused on achieving his goals. One of his goals was to be hired by Winnipeg Transit ... and he had an ultimate goal of becoming a Winnipeg police officer."

"Unfortunately Brett wasn't able to achieve those goals."

Crashes involving alcohol and/or drugs are a leading criminal cause of death in Canada, according to MADD Canada's website. Every day, on average, nearly three-in-a-half Canadians are killed in alcohol and/or drug-related motor vehicle crashes on public roads.

Farmers finding new ways to connect with consumers

By Kaitlin Vitt

If someone asked you the difference between hens and roosters, could you answer?

Hens are the ladies. Roosters are the gents.

To some, this is basic information, but that's not the case for everyone, something Andrea Taite from Broken Tree Farmstead noticed.

"I lived in the city for a while, and I found a lot of people didn't understand the basics — things farm kids really take for granted and understand," Taite said.

Taite, 26, and her husband bought their 80-acre property in Komarno in 2014. They use 40 acres for oat production and the other 40 for pastureland. They have pigs, chickens, sheep, rabbits, cows, horses and bees. Her husband is from Winnipeg, and she's from Kenora. Growing up, Taite, who is Métis, spent a lot of time outdoors hunting, fishing and trapping.

Taite said she sees a disconnect between consumers and the food industry, especially among her generation, millennials. Taite shares her farming lifestyle on Instagram (@brokentreefarmstead) to bridge the gap between farmers and consumers, educating people — about hens versus roosters and so on — by showing where their food comes from.

"Food heals you," Taite said. "It's so important to understand what you're putting into your body."

But the disconnect between farm and table goes two ways, said farmer Will Bergmann from Bergmann Bros. in Glenlea. Not only does the urban population not understand where their food comes from, but also farmers don't know much about the people eating their food.

Bergmann, 35, shares about his farm lifestyle on Instagram (@will_bergmann). He also connects with people by speaking at events and through Winnipeg's culinary scene. He provides vegetables to a number of restaurants in the city, including Oxbow on Osborne Street, which he's a partner of.

"I'm definitely trying to bring a little bit of the city to the farm, and bring a little bit of the farm to the city."

Bergmann also said it's important to share accurate information about the agricultural industry to correct any spreading misinformation.

Social media makes the world a little smaller, he said, since it connects people, whether they know each other or not. This helps farmers reach consumers, and vice versa.

"It's a really short chain that can be in place," he said. "That's why it's important for me to share my story."

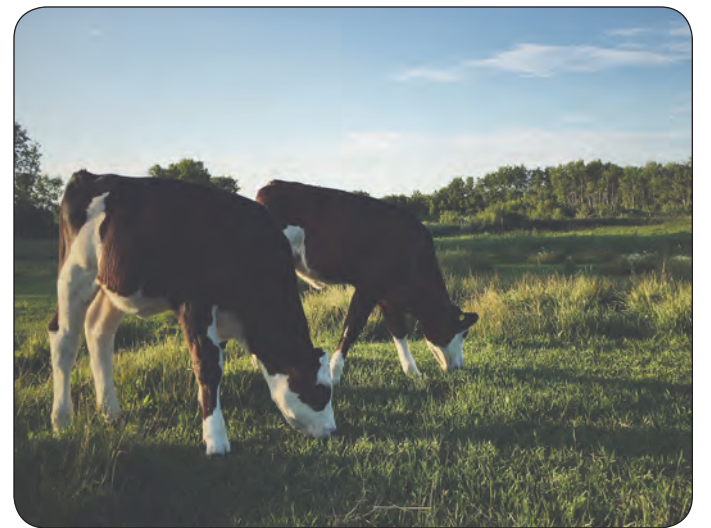

Social media may come naturally to today's modern millennial farmer, but more and more farmers from older generations are looking to connect with people online too, said Taite. Farmers have approached her to help set up profiles focused on their farm.

Taite makes sure she doesn't post only the "romanticized" version of farming. Though you'll see lots of photos of cute animals and beautiful landscapes on her account, she also shares the not-so-pretty stuff, like having to bandage a pig's injured leg.

Though days can be long, especially since she and her husband both have jobs outside of farming, she enjoys it, so farming doesn't even feel like work.

"It's like a hobby," she says, "but on a larger scale."

Environment minister stops in Selkirk to talk climate change

Staff

Federal Minister of Environment and Climate Change, Catherine McKenna, visited Selkirk last week to learn to learn more about the city's approach to reducing greenhouse gas emissions and integrating a concern for the environment into its everyday practices.

McKenna stopped in Selkirk last Thursday afternoon after announcing that $3.8 million in funding will be doled out over the next four years to help save Lake Winnipeg and its surrounding ecosystems. A total of 23 projects aimed at preserving water quality and health of nearby wetlands will receive the money from the five-year Lake Winnipeg Basin Program. The Manitoba Habitat Heritage Corporation and the Lake Winnipeg Foundation are among the 23 funding recipients.

Selkirk Mayor Larry Johannson says council and administration are learning how to become more environmentally responsible and how to be better global citizens.

"We take that role seriously, and I'm proud of the effort that everyone here at the city puts into becoming more educated, more responsible and innovative in our thinking about our city and our planet," Johannson stated in a release last week.

McKenna spent one hour in Selkirk, and toured the Gaynor Family Regional Library, a green building, while learning about several city initiatives that helped Selkirk become one of 16 communities across the country selected to participate in the first phase of the Federation of Canadian Municipalities Capital and Asset Management Network (CAMN).

CAMN combines peer-learning opportunities, training, and funding to help Canadian municipalities integrate climate change and sustainability goals systematically into decision-making about infrastructure assets, such as roads, buildings, and water and sanitation systems.

Selkirk was the only Manitoba community selected for CAMN and is the smallest of all chosen to participate.

McKenna said she was impressed with the city's dedication to protecting the environment and fighting back against climate change.

"It's great to see the City of Selkirk, in partnership with the Prairie Climate Centre, doing incredible work to protect our environment and strengthen the local economy," McKenna stated in a release.

Selkirk received a $50,560 grant from the Federal Government, through FCM, to integrate climate change goals into its Capital Asset Management Plan (CAMP) and have been working towards that with Winnipeg's Prairie Climate Centre.

McKenna was directed to Selkirk by Dr. Ian Mauro, Co-director of Prairie Climate Centre (PCC), which has teamed with the city to help staff understand the specific impacts climate change has on Selkirk and develop an adaptation strategy to deal with those impacts. PCC recently launched climateatlas.ca, which combines climate science, mapping and storytelling to bring the global issue of climate change closer to home for Canadians.

"The City of Selkirk is at the forefront of preparing for climate change. They are demonstrating – and increasingly recognized – for reducing their greenhouse gas emissions while making their community more resilient and livable," Mauro said. "We're excited by our emerging partnership".

McKenna applauded the partnership and the efforts to make climate change knowledge accessible to all Canadians.

McKenna learned about the city's decision to heat the new wastewater treatment plant without the use of fossil fuels, instead repatriating waste heat and using electric heat with the long-term ability to connect solar panels and generate its own electricity.

At the city's water treatment plant, an older section that uses natural gas for heat is being updated with an innovative geothermal system; no new wells will be drilled, the city will use raw water to either take heat out of or deposit heat in to either heat or cool the building.

Solar panels that are being placed at the Rec Complex, the city's Transit service, its 'hydration station', which has eliminated 10,222 single use plastic bottles since its inception three years ago and the city's active transportation network were also brought to the minister's attention.

Community organizations team up to beautify city

By Lindsey Enns

Two community organizations have teamed up to help beautify a piece of land behind a popular dollar store in Selkirk.

Selkirk's Communities in Bloom Committee joined forces with Community Networks, Selkirk's Fine Options Program, to help clean up and spruce up the area behind Big Dollar, which is located along Main Street.

"We're just trying to marry basically organizations within the community with local businesses and people that need help trying to beautify Selkirk, clean it up, make it a tidy, nice place for everyone to enjoy," said Communities in Bloom member Taylor Gyselink.

She added the space behind Big Dollar had been overgrown with weeds for several months and was identified as an area that needed to be cleaned up.

"There's a sense of pride to it, helping out the community," said Waylon Bruce who was busy weed whacking the area on July 26.

The 29-year-old Selkirk resident said he was doing the work to help pay off a fine through the Fine Option Program. He also helped with garbage pick up and mowing the grass.

The Fine Option Program, which is offered through Manitoba Justice, allows a person who has been charged with a fine and unable to pay to perform unpaid community work equal to the value of the fine instead of going to jail. It is also possible to pay part of a fine and work off the rest through fine option. Offences under the Provincial Offence Act, Highway Traffic Act, parking offences and surcharges are not eligible for the fine option program, according to the government's website.

Jeannie Red Eagle, the program's co-ordinator in Selkirk, said they have been working with various community organizations to help local residents pay off their fines.

"Sometimes it's elders who need help, if their yard is just out of control and they don't have the ability to take care of it we can come in and help them," she said.

Melody Bodnar-chuk, addresses the crowd during the unveiling of Manitoba's first MADD Canada roadside memorial sign in honour of her nephew Brett Yasinsky in West St. Paul last Wednesday.

Minister of Infrastructure and MLA for St. Paul Ron Schuler said the government is in the process of modernizing legislation to introduce stricter penalties for impaired and distracted driving.

"Drivers convicted of these criminal offences will be automatically subjected to provincial tiered license suspensions," Schuler said while addressing those in attendance last Wednesday. "One day we want to see zero fatalities and we believe this campaign adds to that vision for the future."

"These are preventable deaths, very simply, please don't drink and drive."

MADD Canada also thanked Brett's family for their courage along with the Government of Manitoba and the RM of West St.

Paul for their leadership in establishing the roadside memorial.

"This roadside memorial sign is a way to pay tribute to an innocent life lost, and also a powerful symbol about the devastating and permanent consequences of impaired driving," MADD Canada CEO Andrew Murie stated in a release last week. "We hope it motivates people to make safe, responsible decisions and never drive impaired."

RED RIVER > CHALET BEACH > LAKE WINNIPEG

Conservation comes to the rescue

Hi folks.
 The Winnipeg Beach Marina complex boasts a monumental rocky spit running southward with a trail along its top. Sandy beaches skirt the rocks on either side but unless you have the sure footedness of a mountain goat only the bravest anglers gain those fine fishing shores. Last Saturday I found myself strolling down the trail casting glances past the rocks looking for some of those brave fishers. In time I saw a younger, agile chap with short, dark brown hair casting out into restless waves. I shouted to him asking if he had a fishing experience to share. He smiled and moving his head up and down as some folks do to focus through their glasses, he scrambled up the rocks coming to my side slightly out of breath. "Are you a local guy?" I asked. "Yeah, I'm Ron Thiffeault," and without hesitation began a story. "The waves were fierce here last week. It didn't take long for me to get a strike and I knew it was a big one. I started hauling in just as two Conservation Officers showed up. They were nice enough and standing beside me made comments on the giant waves and other small talk as I played the fish. After about five minutes I caught a glimpse of the ivory belly and green tail of a huge pickerel rising from the top of a cresting wave. I was instantly sickened though to see my prize being slammed against the sandy shore between waves. I wasn't quite sure what to do but thankfully the Conservation Officers came to my rescue. They rushed into the thrashing waves with their clothes on and teaming up grappled the fish pushing it to dryer shore. I quickly unhooked it, got a picture and released it. The Officers then helped push the big fish back to deeper water." Well Ron, let me say on behalf of all anglers, thanks for the story and to those Officers; you guys are the best!

By the way, I happened to be going to Riverton and stopped at Hnausa just as a Rodger and Jake Schultz from Arborg were stringing up a perch. Thanks for letting me take a picture of you and your fish guys.

I stopped at Silver Harbor not long ago and ran into an engaging angler. He was of average size with chiseled features, penetrating eyes and a perpetual, mischievous grin so it was no surprise when he gave us a funny fishing story. He was Ken Barry of Winnipeg and had been going to Bird Lake fishing with a bunch of buddies for years. One particular year on a bright, warm day they were in a boat on the lake and his best buddy, Jerry, an experienced angler, caught a jack a bit under four feet long. They had forgotten to bring a net but Ken watched as Jerry worked and played the fish through the choppy waves to the side of the boat. Jerry quickly handed Ken a glove and motioned for him to grab it. "What do you want me to do with this?" Ken looked from the glove to Jerry wide-eyed. "Grab it!" Jerry shouted. "I'm not grabbing it," Ken cried out, "Did you see the size of his teeth? He'll take my arm off!" "Fine, give me the glove and take my rod you sissy," Jerry teased as he landed it!

Another time on Bird Lake in late fall, it was so cold they had snowmobile suits on. The lake was mostly frozen over except for a circle by the waterfall. Ken said they "trolled the ice line" but the only thing they got was some "buzz bait" from their coolers. I will leave it to you my friends to figure out just what that means!

Now fellow fishers, I have been asked to spread the word. If any of you business or private folks want a huge musky to have stuffed for a trophy you can get hold of me through the newspapers. Someone I know caught a very large one up north and unfortunately because of a prolonged fight it could not be released. It's in a freezer so if you're interested; sing out.

Down on the Selkirk Waterfront I ran into a local fellow, Scott Lancaster. He was a slim, not to tall guy with longer, curly salt and pepper hair and full of energy. He said a funny thing happened to him when he was fishing at the "Forks" on the Red a while back. As he was reeling in to check his bait some tourists from the other side of the world walked up to him. As the minnows on his pickerel rig hooks popped from the water into view the tourists became very excited motioning at the minnows thinking that's what Scott had caught. He told one of the visitors who seemed to understand a little English that we catch fish a bit bigger than that in Canada!

Until next week friends, bye for now.

Local residents team up to collect school supplies for students

By Justin Luschinski

A small group of friends have turned their weekly potluck gathering into a donation drive with hopes of giving some children everything they need to go back to school in style.

Larry Treloar and Marilee Mollard are raising money to help eight children get the supplies they need to go to class. So far, they've raised enough money for six students, and the money will help purchase supplies, sneakers, and backpacks for Growing Years Family Resource Centre.

Treloar said it's important that children feel good about themselves when they attend school.

"When I started this, originally I thought 'well I want (the students he's donating too) to have sneakers on top of supplies.' Because that's what kids are more sensitive about, more so than markers," Treloar said. "That's my own little passion, that they should look and feel good when they go to school. I think that dignity is what it's all about."

The donation drive began at one of Treloar's summer barbecues at his home in Matlock. He asked everyone in attendance if they could spare a couple of dollars towards buying school supplies. He went looking for something to hold the donations, and found a small chest with eight compartments, which he continues to use to this day. He only expected to raise enough money for three students, but he's almost filled all eight compartments, and continues to receive support from his friends and family.

Mollard said this small act of kindness will go a long way.

"What started as a group of friends, who had a lot of passion and interest, and they turned it into a way to help the community," Mollard said. "From what we know from (Growing Years) there's a large number of parents, single moms, who are trying to outfit their kids for school ... We hope this encourages other cottage groups to do something good for the community."

"School supplies must be a struggle for people who live on a monthly budget," Treloar added.

Mollard said they don't have a set amount they're looking to raise, but they've been aiming for roughly $120 per child. The pair plans to meet with Keystone Source For Sports to see what they can purchase with the money.

Services available to agriculture producers affected by dry conditions

Submitted

Manitoba Agriculture is reminding agricultural producers affected by dry conditions of the programs and services available to livestock producers to manage forage shortages.

To date, low levels of precipitation and soil moisture have affected the growth of pastures and forage crops in parts of Manitoba.

Manitoba Agriculture provides a number of tools and resources for producers to manage the impact of lower forage supplies. These include:

- alternative feeding strategies such as straw and feed grain rations, green-feed and utilizing other crop products as feed sources;
- the Manitoba Hay Listing Service, which allows producers to list hay, pasture or alternative feed that is either available or wanted;
- forage and pasture management; and
- livestock production.

Producers with AgriInsurance contracts who intend to put their crop to alternate use are required to contact the Manitoba Agricultural Services Corporation for a field appraisal prior to harvesting the crop. Crop producers managing crop residue should consider making crop residue available to livestock producers as an alternative to burning this residue.

Producers can contact Manitoba Agriculture toll-free at 1-84-GROW-MB-AG (1-844-769-6224) for more information on any of these programs and services or go to www.gov.mb.ca/agriculture under Quick Links.

Garden and Art Tour earns tourism award nom

Staff

Red River North Tourism's inaugural Garden and Art Tour has been nominated for an Interlake Tourism Association (ITA) innovation award.

"The Interlake Tourism Association encourages innovative activities that promote tourism. The Garden and Art self-guided tour was an amazing new twist on an old idea," ITA manager Gail McDonald stated in a release last week. "Putting dozens of artists and their creations in eight garden settings is new and appealing."

"It deserves recognition."

The Garden and Art tour was so successful that plans are afoot for next year's edition. New gardeners and artists are applying for inclusion for next year.

"This year was a pilot project. We wanted to make this Garden and Art Tour an event that brings people to Red River North for the beauty of its gardens and the talent of its artists," said Red River North Tourism chair Lois Wales.

Analysis of 145 surveys revealed that 30 per cent of visitors bought art and that 60 per cent of ticket buyers came from outside the Red River North area.

"I'd say we're on the right track thanks to the work of our hosts and volunteers," Wales added. "Cambrian Credit Union, the Gaynor Family Regional Library and Harry's Foods helped us tremendously. We would like more local sponsors to step forward and promote the event as well."

"This event has great potential to be the summer equivalent to Homes for the Holidays."

Child contracts first human case of West Nile Virus this year

Submitted

Manitoba Health, Seniors and Active Living has identified the first human case of West Nile Virus (WNV) of 2018.

The individual is a child under 10 from the Southern Health – Santé Sud region, who experienced neurological symptoms and was hospitalized. The child was likely exposed in early July. The investigation is ongoing.

Manitobans are reminded that the warm and dry conditions to date have been ideal for Culex tarsalis, a carrier of West Nile Virus (WNV). Culex tarsalis typically feeds between dusk and dawn and often goes unnoticed when biting.

While mosquito numbers are low in most communities, surveillance shows the numbers of infected Culex tarsalis continue to increase throughout southern Manitoba. It only takes one bite from an infected Culex tarsalis mosquito to be exposed to WNV. The risk for potential human exposure to WNV is high at present and will likely remain so for the next few weeks.

Manitobans can reduce their risk of mosquito bites and potential WNV exposure by:

- reducing the amount of time spent outdoors during peak mosquito hours (between dusk and dawn);
- using appropriate mosquito repellent;
- wearing light-coloured, loose-fitting clothing; and
- maintaining door and window screens so they fit tightly and are free of holes.

Manitobans can reduce the number of mosquitoes around their homes by eliminating standing water. To prevent the development of Culex tarsalis mosquitoes, homeowners can:

- clean eaves troughs and regularly empty bird baths and other items that might collect water;
- ensure rain barrels are covered with mosquito screening or are tightly sealed around the downspout;
- clear yards of old tires or other items that collect water; and
- improve landscaping to prevent standing water around the home.

Information on any additional human cases, including health region of residence, will be posted at www.gov.mb.ca/health/wnv as it becomes available.

For more information about West Nile virus, contact Health Links-Info Santé at 788-8200 or 1-888-315-9257 (toll-free), or visit the Manitoba Health website at www.gov.mb.ca/health/wnv.

Gun Amnesty Program nets hundreds of unwanted firearms

Submitted

The Manitoba Association of Chiefs of Police Gun Amnesty Program wrapped up on June 30, 2018. Manitobans answered the call and turned in a variety of unwanted firearms and ammunition. Police agencies also received notable items such as an explosives shell and a cannon ball. In total, among the 13 police agencies, almost 700 firearms were handed in and more than 22,000 rounds of ammunition.

Turning in unwanted firearms removes potential hazards from the community, making everyone safer. The Gun Amnesty Program ensured that charges would not be laid against someone turning in a weapon, unless it was used to commit a crime or was stolen. No charges resulted from anything turned in during the month of June.

"Manitobans really joined the cause during our Gun Amnesty Program," said RCMP Commanding Officer Assistant Commissioner Scott Kolody, president of the Manitoba Association of Chiefs of Police. "This program was a great success! We exceeded our previous provincial amnesty totals. These are weapons that are now off the street and unable to be used in the offence of any crime or to hurt any citizen. We thank the public for realizing the importance of this initiative and participating wholeheartedly."

The majority of the firearms and ammunition surrendered during the amnesty will be destroyed. A very small number will be retained for historical, educational, or training purposes.

Smartphones and tablets appear to have staying power. The Pew Research Center confirms that smartphone penetration has surpassed the 50 percent mark among mobile subscribers. Many others are routinely using tablets to access books, television shows, movies, and magazines. In multi-screen homes, televisions are still king. According to a 2012 Nielsen report, the average American over the age of two spends more than 34 hours a week, or more than 4 hours per day, watching live television. Those findings should raise an eyebrow, as health experts warn that excessive screen time can be hazardous to one's health.

A sedentary lifestyle spent in front of computers and video game consoles contributes to poor health. Of the leading industrialized countries, the United States has the highest obesity statistics, and Canada is not far behind. Obesity can impact cholesterol, cardiovascular health, risk for type 2 diabetes, and risk for stroke. Excessive screen time can lead to sleep and eating disorders, interfere with a person's ability to focus and negatively affect a person's performance at school or work. Getting a family active and reducing time spent in front of a screen can have profound effects, and reducing screen time doesn't have to be difficult.

* Gradually implement changes. Families immersed in electronic devices can cut down on screen time slowly and over the course of several weeks rather than tuning out cold turkey. Start by reducing time spent watching television or playing video games by one hour per week, and gradually reduce time spent devoted to such activities in the ensuing weeks.

* Hide devices. The mantra, "out of sight, out of mind" can work with respect to digital devices. If tablets or smartphones are tucked away, family members may feel less inclined to reach for them at any given time. Just as you wouldn't stock your pantry full of fattening foods while trying to lose weight, don't make digital devices readily available throughout the day.

* Keep televisions out of the bedroom. Children who have televisions in their bedrooms tend to watch an additional 90 minutes of programming per day than those who do not have televisions in their room. Keep the television in a shared area of the house so that time spent watching the TV can be monitored and adjusted.

* Establish guidelines. Set firm limits on how much screen time will be allowed per day and stick with it. Adults can lead by example.

* Plan more family activities. Boredom can easily give way to time spent fooling around on the Internet or channel surfing. Parents should have a cache of ideas at the ready that promote active family time. Neighborhood walks or tossing around a baseball in the yard are enjoyable activities that cut back on time spent being sedentary. Encourage indoor activities, such as puzzles or board games, if the weather is not cooperating.

* Be steadfast. Do not throw in the towel too soon. Families should stand their ground when attempting to decrease their screen time in favor of healthier activities.

Ask People What They Think Don't Assume

"Are you thinking that I should always be the one to get the groceries?" or "Is it your belief that a curfew is not important?" These kinds of questions invite a dialogue: a discussion which explores the issues and how each party feels about the issues.

This leads to meaningful communication, which enhances and strengthens relationships. Asking what a person thinks is a way of respecting that person and having healthy boundaries. Telling someone what they think is a violation of their boundaries; an invasion of their consciousness. If we do not have control over expression of our own thoughts, we are not free. Next time you find yourself getting upset at how another thinks, stop, reflect, and then check it out. Ask your question, then really listen. Don't argue, just listen. You will likely find you are not as far apart on the issue as you thought, and you will quickly see the benefits of this communication skill.

Gwen Randall-Young is an author and award-winning Psychotherapist. For permission to reprint this article, or to obtain books, cds or MP3's, visit www.gwen.ca. Follow Gwen on Facebook for daily inspiration.

How often have you heard someone talking about how another person thinks? "She thinks that just because..." or "He thinks he's..." are common phrases in our communications. Generally, these statements are assumptions, rather than facts. Have you ever had someone say to you, "Well, you think that..." and the remainder of what they say is not how you think? If you have, you will recall how helpless you feel when someone assigns thoughts to you that are false.

When we make these assumptions, we are robbing the individual of the right speak for him or herself. That is like backing someone into a corner, and they are likely to begin fighting their way out. On the other hand, they may simply not bother communicating with you anymore, since you are doing the thinking for both parties. Telling someone what they think is a form of crazy making, and it will cause any relationship to deteriorate. A healthier approach is to ask the person a question to check out your assumption.

Selkirk student graduates from prestigious American university

By Justin Luschinski

A Selkirk student has graduated from a well-renowned American university, and plans to bring his expertise back to Canada.

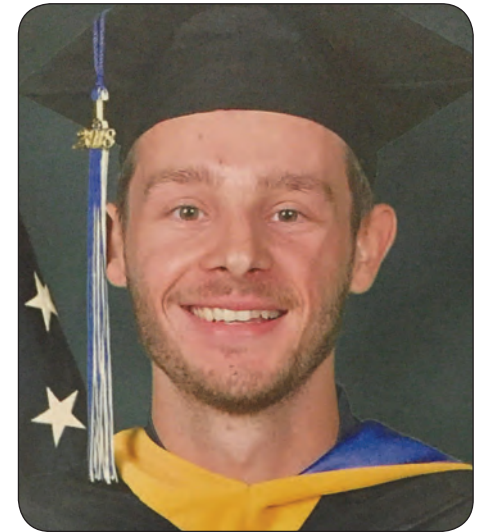

Colten Boudreau, son of Wayne and Joy Boudreau, of Selkirk, graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree from Dakota Wesleyan University in Mitchell, South Dakota. He was a business major with a minor in sports management and finance, and he plans to return to Canada to become a mortgage broker.

Boudreau, said he's happy to be graduating, but leaving university has a bittersweet feeling.

"The last couple of months of school were a whirlwind of emotions. I went through a lot of 'lasts' in my college career so it was definitely bittersweet. But I'm happy about graduating, glad to have a degree in my hand," Boudreau, said.

Boudreau, previously made the dean's list at Dakota Wesleyan University, and ended his university career with a 3.8 GPA. He also became the captain of their baseball team, the Tigers, and had to balance his time between school and sports.

Boudreau, said he couldn't have done it without the support of his parents.

COLTEN BOUDREAU

"Being a student athlete takes a lot of commitment, not only on the field but in the classroom as well. Many early mornings and late nights. I am up at 5 a.m. five days a week for baseball and normally up late completing my homework," Boudreau, said. "My mom is definitely my biggest supporter. Even though she is hundreds of miles away, she always makes sure to send me a good luck text before every game, and I cannot thank her enough."

Icelandic prime minister stops in Gimli ahead of Icelandic Festival

Members of the Progressive Conservative government welcomed Iceland's Prime Minister Katrin Jakobsdottir to Manitoba last Friday.

Submitted

Premier Brian Pallister and members of the Progressive Conservative government welcomed Iceland's Prime Minister Katrin Jakobsdottir to Manitoba last Friday.

The Premier was joined by MLAs Len Isleifson (Brandon East) and Derek Johnson (Interlake), both of Icelandic descent, and Municipal Relations Minister Jeff Wharton, who represents Gimli, the town with the world's greatest concentration of people of Icelandic descent outside of Iceland.

"Manitoba and Iceland have a real and special connection," said Pallister. "Icelanders immigrated here, first to the shores of Lake Winnipeg to found New Iceland, beginning in 1875, and have contributed greatly to the cultural life and economic prosperity of our province since then."

Manitoba boasts both the highest number and greatest concentration of people of Icelandic descent in Canada, comprising more than two per cent of the province's total population.

Prime Minister Jakobsdottir was touring of Manitoba and North Dakota, and visited the Icelandic Festival in Gimli last weekend as part of her trip.

The two leaders discussed the close bond between Iceland and Manitoba as well as current issues of common interest, including climate change and challenges to international trade.

The prime minister renewed an invitation for Pallister to visit Iceland.

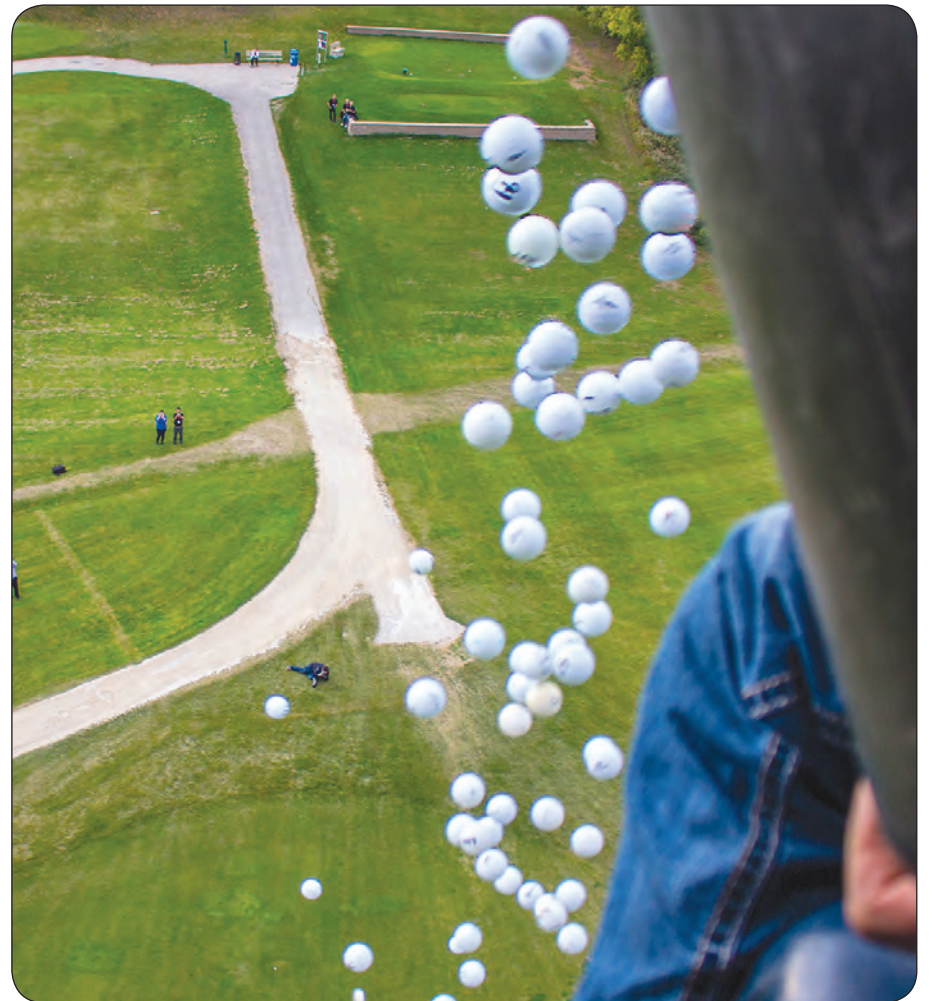

The connections between Iceland and Manitoba were made obvious leading up to the 2018 FIFA World Cup when Brandon East MLA Len Isleifson discovered he was related to almost the entire Icelandic national soccer team.

"Families like mine are very proud of our Icelandic heritage and our contribution to Manitoba," said Interlake MLA Derek Johnson. "We retain much of our culture and traditions and it was a thrill for me to meet the prime minister of my family's ancestral home."

"FAMILIES LIKE MINE ARE VERY PROUD OF OUR ICELANDIC HERITAGE AND OUR CONTRIBUTION TO MANITOBA."

Selkirk to host 2018 IPSC Canada National Championship

By Brian Bowman

Selkirk will be the place to be later this month when it hosts the 2018 IPSC Canada National Championship.

This is a modern, dynamic handgun sport that is practiced all over the world. This championship, which will be held from Aug. 13-18, will decide the best in Canada and is a qualifier for the world championships in 2020.

"It's going to be pretty amazing," said Rob Schmidt, president of the Selkirk Game & Fish Handgun club and the match director for the nationals. "There's more than 350 competitors coming from all across Canada. It should be quite an event.

"It's going to be one of the biggest nationals in recent history."

It will be the first time that the nationals have been hosted in Selkirk. The Selkirk Game & Fish club has been around for quite a while, said Schmidt, and is located just down road 80 northeast of Highway 59.

The nationals move around to different parts of the country each year. Manitoba last hosted the nationals in 2013.

The quality of competition is expected to be very good. Several Manitobans will be taking part in the event in several different divisions.

"We have some of the best competitors in the world showing up," Schmidt said. "There's a lady from Russia that is expected to come and she's No. 1 in the world in her category. And there will be some top shooters from other divisions as well."

Some competitors will be vying for spots on the Canadian team for the next world championships.

"There's a lot on the line for some of these guys," Schmidt said. "But it's a fun event, too. A lot of people come out every year and it's kind of the high point of their summer."

The match is open to the public (free of charge) and there will be some vendors present. To observe the shooting, eye and ear protection is required.

The shootoff and demo day on Saturday will be a fun public event, said Schmidt. Wolverine supplies from Virden is bringing a variety of competition handguns for people to try out.

For more information, the match website is <http://nationals.ipscmanitoba.com>

Ngo, Fredborg competing at Canadian Men's Amateur Golf Championship

Staff

Selkirk's Noel Ngo fired a solid 71 on Tuesday during the second round of the Canadian Men's Amateur Golf Championship in Duncan, B.C.

Ngo was very good to start his second round, carding a 2-under 34 on the front nine. He birdied the first and eighth holes and made par on the other seven.

On the back nine, Ngo bogeyed Nos. 12 and 18 and made par on the other seven holes.

Ngo carded a first-round 78 on Monday.

He birdied the seventh and 13th holes but struggled with a triple bogey on the par-5 16th hole and then added a double bogey on No. 17.

Meanwhile, Selkirk's Travis Fredborg shot a 74 during his first round, which consisted of birdies on Nos. 5, 8, and 16.

He bogeyed the first, second, sixth, 10th, 11th and 17th holes.

On Tuesday, Fredborg struggled, finishing with an 84.

He birdied the first hole but wound up with five bogeys, three double bogeys, and a triple bogey during his round.

Reigning Canadian men's amateur champion, Zach Bauchou, shot a sizzling 65 during Monday's round to tie the course record and lead by two strokes.

The Forest, Va. native was 7-under through the first 10 holes, highlighted by a pair of eagles. There was a five-way tie for second at 4-under par after the first round.

Bauchou had not started his second round at press time

The third and fourth rounds of the 72-hole event will be played Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Pirates win bronze at PeeWee 'AAA' provincials

By Brian Bowman

The North Winnipeg Pirates won bronze medals at the PeeWee "AAA" baseball provincials in West St. Paul last weekend.

The Pirates soundly defeated Interlake 10-0 in the bronze-medal game on Sunday.

The game was called after five innings due to the 10-run mercy rule.

"I think Interlake got a little thin with pitching," said Pirates' head coach Donnie Smith. "We came out swinging and did well. We made the plays when we needed to."

North Winnipeg was relegated to the bronze-medal game after getting doubled 4-2 by Brandon in a semifinal game earlier Sunday.

"We had a tight game with Brandon," Smith said. "They pitched well and made some good, defensive plays."

The Pirates started play Friday with a 14-6 loss to Oildome. North Winnipeg then outslugged South Central 12-10 later Friday evening.

On Saturday, the Pirates lost 8-5 to Carillon before rebounding nicely to trounce Winnipeg South 10-3.

North Winnipeg took an early lead against Winnipeg South and cruised to the easy win.

"I don't think we played our best ball this weekend," Smith said. "But it was good enough for us to qualify for westerns."

the final on Sunday.

Brandon, Oildome and North Winnipeg will now attend the Western Canada/National 13U Championships in Brandon from Aug. 16-19.

The Pirates are looking forward to extending their season to mid-August.

"Anytime you get an opportunity to go to westerns, whether it's in your own province or elsewhere, it's a great opportunity," Smith said. "Not a lot of kids get to experience it. It's never taken for granted and I think we've come a long way from the beginning if the season.

"I'm very content with the development of our core kids."

The competition, though, will be tough at the western championship.

"It's another step up obviously from provincials to westerns," Smith stressed. "We're going to be facing some teams from B.C. and Alberta, which are typically pretty strong, and Saskatchewan is obviously growing lots within the last couple of years for ball.

"It's going to be stiff competition and we're going to have to play our best just to be able to compete but I think our team is looking forward to the experience."

Ball hockey championship honours Humboldt Broncos' captain

Submitted

The Manitoba Ball Hockey Association is hosting the Canadian National Ball Hockey Championship for the first time in nine years.

The event will be dedicated to former Team Manitoba player and Humboldt Broncos' captain Logan Schatz, along with his teammates and those impacted from the bus tragedy.

Schatz played ball hockey in Saskatchewan and played for Team Manitoba as a junior player.

He went on to play for Team Canada in the under-20 division where he won a silver medal. The Canadian Ball Hockey Association and the Manitoba Ball Hockey Association had a special ceremony to announce the creation of an award for the Top Junior Ball Hockey Player called the Logan Schatz award.

The ceremony happened between the opening games for the women's and men's Team Manitoba this past Monday.

The ceremony featured the presentation of the award, as well as Logan's framed jersey being presented to his family.

One of the surviving Broncos' players, Mathieu Gomerich of Winnipeg, dropped the ball for the ceremonial face-off.

The tournament, which wraps up Saturday, will have games being played in men's, women's and men's masters categories at both the Bell MTS Iceplex and Keith Bodley Arena.

Teams from across Canada will be attending in all divisions and many pro, college, and Olympic ice-hockey players will be representing their provincial ball hockey teams.

Manitoba looks to win gold medals in all three divisions. Manitoba has not won gold in over 40 years in any of the divisions.

Rosser to be awarded with Jack Jacobs scholarship

Staff

Selkirk's Joe Rosser, who played in the Midget Football League of Manitoba with the Interlake Thunder, has been selected as a recipient of the 2018 Jack Jacobs Scholarship.

The presentation will take place during the third quarter of Friday's Winnipeg Blue Bombers' home game versus the Hamilton Tiger Cats.

Rosser is attending Mayville State University in North Dakota.

The Blue Bombers, meanwhile are pleased to announce Eagle Vision as a presenting partner of the Jack Jacobs Scholarship. Two $1,000 scholarships will be awarded to Indigenous high-school students who plan on pursuing a post-secondary education and have a passion for football.

This award is created in the memory of Jack Jacobs, a legendary quarterback who played for the Blue and Gold between 1950 and 1954.

Jacobs, a two-time Grey Cup finalist, was a key figure in popularizing the use of the forward pass in professional football.

So many fans came to the games at Osborne Stadium that it led to the construction of Winnipeg Stadium in 1953 – known as 'The House that Jack Built' to accommodate the higher attendances.

"We would like to thank Eagle Vision for their support with this scholarship," said Wade Miller, President & CEO of the Blue Bombers. "The Winnipeg Football Club believes in eliminating financial barriers to accessing education and in supporting the goals of our youth."

Jacobs, a Muscogee (Creek) Indigenous person, is a member of both the Canadian Football Hall of Fame (1963) and Winnipeg Football Club Hall of Fame (1984).

"We are excited to help give this opportunity to two deserving young Indigenous athletes," said Lisa Meeches, Eagle Vision Partner, on the Blue Bombers' website.

"Eagle Vision is proud to partner with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers to celebrate Jack Jacobs' legacy," added Kyle Irving, Eagle Vision Partner.

Hoydalo golfs well at juniors

By Brian Bowman

Selkirk's Wesley Hoydalo finished in a nine-way tie for 51st overall at the Canadian Junior Boys Golf Championship in Medicine Hat last week.

Hoydalo had three solid rounds to start the tournament, carding a 71, 74 and 74. He finished the tournament with an 80 during Thursday's final round to fall to 16-over 300.

During his final round, Hoydalo had birdies on Nos. 11 and 12.

"I was happy where I was sitting after three rounds," said Hoydalo while on his way home from Medicine Hat Friday afternoon. "But the last round, I had about 39 putts compared to averaging about 26 (during the first three rounds)."

He had a great first round putting which led to his 71.

Winnipeg's Ryan McMillan finished tied for fourth overall with Richmond Hill's Daniel George. Both wrapped up play at 1-over 285.

Hoydalo, who has now played his last junior event, is very good friends with McMillan and was pleased to see him do so well.

"It was great to see," Hoydalo said.

"I was watching him on the back nine and he kind of had one bad hole where he lost it out of bounds. But I knew he was going to play well, he's had a great summer."

Beaconfield's Christopher Vandette won the junior national title by firing a final round 65 to finish at 2-under 282.

That was two strokes better than Quebec's Olivier Menard and North York's Gerry Mei.

Selkirk's Brady Bandura missed the cut after carding rounds of 76 and 81 to finish at 15-over 157.

At the Canadian Junior Girls Golf Championship in B.C., Selkirk's Mikyla Albert missed the cut after shooting a 95 and 86 to finish 37-over 181.

Team Canada National Development Squad member Céleste Dao from Notre Dame de l'Île Perrot, Que. carded a 2-over-par 74 to become the 2018 Canadian Junior Girls Champion.

She finished at even-par 288, which was three strokes better than Richmond Hill's Emily Zhu and four in front of Vancouver's Angela Zang and Tiffany Kong.

Pirates headed to Bantam 'AAA' western championships

By Brian Bowman

The North Winnipeg Pirates have earned a spot into the Western Canada Bantam "AAA" Championships in Winkler from Aug. 16-19.

North Winnipeg punched its ticket to the westerns by reaching the final of the provincial championship last weekend where they lost 6-4 to South Central.

South Central scored four runs in the seventh inning to erase a 4-2 deficit for the comeback win.

Despite the last-inning loss, North Winnipeg played some great baseball in winning the silver medal last weekend.

"They did fantastic," said Pirates' head coach Derrick Mudge. "They played great and deserved what we got and now we're heading off to the westerns in two weeks."

North Winnipeg reached the final after trouncing Red River 11-1 earlier Sunday afternoon.

"Zach Evanochko pitched a great game and the guys hit all weekend and played great defence," Mudge said. "I couldn't have asked for more expect for the seventh inning of the last game."

"Other than that, they played great all weekend."

The Pirates began play Friday morning with a solid 4-2 win over Bonivital. North Winnipeg then defeated Carillon 5-3 later that day.

On Saturday, the Pirates made it three wins in a row with a dominating 12-2 victory over South Central.

Giving up just seven runs in three games is a great way to start a provincial tournament.

"We had great pitching," Mudge said.

North Winnipeg's Saturday evening game against Pembina Hills was suspended due to inclement weather.

That game was resumed Sunday morning with Pembina Hills escaping with a 6-4 win.

That loss, though, didn't mean much to the Pirates, who had already secured a spot in a semifinal game.

North Winnipeg is eagerly looking forward to competing at the westerns in their home province.

"We have three kids that have never been to westerns before," Mudge said. "Everyone was excited, we lost in the (provincial) final last year, too."

If North Winnipeg continues to play great baseball, they have a very good chance of competing for a medal.

"Last year, we went to the westerns in Kamloops and we went 4-1," Mudge said. "We'll probably be picking up a few players and we'll definitely compete - we should be in contention at the end."

South Central, the provincial champion, will attend the Baseball Canada National Championships in Oshawa from Aug. 23-26.

Because South Central is the western host, a game between South Winnipeg and Red River was required to determine the second provincial representative at the western event.

Winnipeg South won the game 9-4 and will also be competing at westerns.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION INITIAL INTERIM WATER RATES RURAL MUNICIPALITY OF WEST ST. PAUL WEST ST. PAUL WATER UTILITY

August 1, 2018

The Rural Municipality (RM) of West St. Paul has applied to the Public Utilities Board (Board) for initial interim water rates as set out in By-law No. 2018-02 read the first time on January 30, 2018.

NB-The RM has requested rates be approved on an interim ex parte basis to be effective January 1, 2018. The RM has advised the Board that affected customers were notified they would be billed retroactively upon Board approval.

Interim rates are rates that are subject to review following a more complete process. When setting initial rates for a new utility, the Board will often approve interim rates as proposed. These are then confirmed as final once there is sufficient historical information about the utility to provide accurate projections for rate setting purposes. The initial interim rates have been set in Board Order 105-18.

The proposed initial interim rates are provided:

	Proposed By-Law (2018-02) Year One	Proposed By-Law (2018-02) Year Two	Proposed By-Law (2018-02) Year Three
Water $/Cubic Meter	$ 2.58	$ 2.63	$ 2.67
Quarterly Service Charge	$ 4.66	$ 6.39	$ 6.53
Minimum Quarterly Charge *	$ 40.78	$ 43.21	$ 43.91
Bulk Water $/Cubic Meter	$ 2.65	$ 2.73	$ 2.78
Hydrant Rentals	$ 100.00	$ 100.00	$ 100.00

* based on 14 cubic meters

Details of the RM's application are available for review at the Rural Municipal office or the Public Utilities Board's office. Any questions concerning the application for revised rates, or the operation of the Utility, should be sent directly to the Rural Municipality.

If you have concerns/comments regarding the Rural Municipality of West St. Paul's application for water and wastewater rates please go to www.pubmanitoba.ca and provide your comment. Please note all comments will be forwarded to the Municipality.

Questions or comments should be sent on or before September 1, 2018.

The Public Utilities Board is the provincial regulatory agency that reviews and approves rates for water and wastewater utilities in Manitoba, with the exception of the City of Winnipeg. The Board's review process involves:

- the Utility filing a rate application to the Board,
- the public notification of proposed rate changes,
- the Board's review of the application through a public hearing or paper review process, and
- the issuance of a Board Order which outlines the Board's decision on the rate application and the rates to be charged.

The Manitoba Ombudsman has recently issued privacy guidelines for administrative tribunals. The PUB is mindful of its obligations under those guidelines. Its decisions in respect of the application being considered will be sensitive to the guidelines. Personal information will not be disclosed unless it is appropriate and necessary to do so. However, the PUB advises participants that these proceedings are public and that as a result, personal information protections are reduced.

The Board will then decide whether any further notice is required and whether to proceed with a public hearing or paper review process. All concerns received by the Board will be considered in the Board's decision on rates to be charged.

PLEASE BE ADVISED THAT IN CONSIDERING THIS APPLICATION, THE PUBLIC UTILITIES BOARD MAY OR MAY NOT FIND IT NECESSARY TO DETERMINE RATES DIFFERENT FROM THOSE APPLIED FOR BY THE APPLICANT.

Note: All proceedings will be conducted in accordance with the Board's Rules of Practice and Procedure which the Board may vary in order to constrain regulatory costs. The Rules are available at www.pubmanitoba.ca.

OBITUARY

Kenneth Gordan Inniss (Branker)
February 12, 1932 – July 28, 2018

It is with heavy hearts that we announce the passing of Ken Inniss, who died peacefully on Saturday, July 28, 2018 in the Palliative Care unit of the Selkirk Regional Health Centre.

He is survived by his wife, Alice; his daughter, Yvonne and her wife, Jan; his son, Robb; his son, Ian and his wife, Chrissy, and their children, Jayden and Keira; as well as his Saskatchewan family, daughter Jo-Ann Cox and her husband, Dean, and their children, Chris, Ashley, Amber, and Vickie. Ken also leaves behind his sisters, Grace, Norma, Laureen (Frank), and Wendy; and brothers, Reynold (Laurine), Orville (Cicely), and Llewellyn. He will also be missed by many nieces, nephews, and cousins. Ken was predeceased by his parents, Eustace and Gertrude Branker, and sisters Gwen, Sybil, Sylvie, and Barbara.

Ken was born and raised in Barbados, the 4th of 12 children. Once he finished school, he became a teacher. Looking for adventure and other opportunities, Ken travelled to Canada in 1958 to pursue a career in nursing. He had a variety of jobs at first, eventually settling in Selkirk where he was accepted into the psychiatric nursing program at the Selkirk Mental Health Centre. It was here that he met Alice, and they were married in 1964. After graduating as an RPN, Ken went on to earn his RN and a Bachelor of Arts. He continued to work at SMHC for 36 years.

An accomplished handyman, Ken was able to plumb, wire, or build just about anything. More than once, his kids asked him to come over to help repair or renovate something in their homes, and his skilful work was much appreciated.

Ken also spent time in his garden. He was quite proud of the bounty it produced, particularly his beans and beets, which were enjoyed by many.

Above all, though, Ken will be remembered for how much he loved talking to people. Whether at home, the bank, or Canadian Tire, Ken looked forward to seeing people, teasing them, or chatting about politics, eager to share his interpretations of the most recent newscasts.

The family would like to thank the staff at Selkirk Regional Health Centre and the Palliative Care and Home Care personnel of the Interlake-Eastern Regional Health Authority for their support and excellent care. A special thank you is extended to Archdeacon Godfrey Mawejje for his kindness and compassion during this difficult time.

The funeral service will take place on Thursday, August 23, 2018 at 2:00 p.m. at Gilbert's Funeral Home, 309 Eveline Street in Selkirk.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Palliative Care/Interlake-Eastern Health Foundation, Selkirk Regional Health Centre, P.O. Box 5000, 120 Easton Drive, Selkirk, MB R1A 2M2, or online at www.iehf.ca.

Condolences, photos and videos may be left on Ken's tribute wall at www.gilbartfuneralhome.com.

She is survived by her son Cameron (Donna); grandson Joey, daughter Katherine; grandsons Cole and Ryan Verburg; brothers, Al (Sheila), Barry (Eva), Ron, Ken (Barb), Cliff (Pat) and many nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her loving husband John; nephew Heavy Evason; Amy-Jane Evason (mother).

Gail was born, grew up, and attended school in Dauphin, Manitoba. She entered nursing school at age 16 years at Selkirk Mental Health Center until graduation. She met John, married, and moved to Thompson, Manitoba where they had two children, Cam and Kathy Ftoma. Gail worked at the Thompson General Hospital until co-retirement with John from Inco. Gail had many hobbies including curling, curling bonspiels, skating, camping, knitting, crocheting but her passions in life was friends and family. Gail always had a smile for whoever wanted to debate a subject that she considered stimulating the mind. She always had a kind word to say to all she met. She liked to laugh. She will be dearly missed by her friends and family. "You are beside us in everything we do, your love and guidance will see us through. As each day dawns we whisper low, GOD bless you mom and dad, we love and miss you so!
