Selkirk business owners struggle to fill job vacancies

By Lindsey Enns

Some Selkirk business owners say they are finding themselves struggling to fill job vacancies.

"We've had such a supreme staff shortage it's unbelievable," said Irene Hebert, who at the age of 77, owns and operates four local businesses including Bonded Health and Mobility Services in Selkirk, and has 24 years of business experience. "This is the worst staff shortage I've ever experienced in my entire life."

"This year has been the biggest struggle that anyone has had."

After a year of almost no change, Canada's private sector job vacancy rate edged up 0.2 percentage points to 2.6 per cent chief economist at CFIB, stated in a release recently.

According to the report, British Columbia continues to have the highest vacancy rate in Canada at 3.1 per cent representing 56,000 unfilled jobs. Quebec, which has seen the biggest climbs in unfilled positions in recent quarters, has a vacancy rate of 2.8 per cent (78,600 jobs) and is followed by Ontario with a vacancy rate of 2.7 per cent (134,300 jobs).

"We are starting to see a growing number of unfilled jobs in most provinces across country," Ted Mallett,

Selkirk hosts overdose response training workshop

By Teresa Carey

Twenty community and area members now know how to better spot an overdose and administer the life-saving drug naloxone following a training workshop held in Selkirk last week.

The session, which was organized by the Manitoba Harm Reduction Network and the Interlake-Eastern Regional Health Authority, was held at the Selkirk Community Health office last Tuesday afternoon.

"We are definitely going to be holding other sessions in Selkirk, given the interest that has been shown," said Anlina Sheng, a harm reduction project facilitator for the Interlake-Eastern region.

People invited to take part in the training included those who use drugs, friends and family of people who use drugs and service providers. Those who completed the training, and who were eligible under the province's free take home naloxone program, had an opportunity to receive a naloxone kit, which is otherwise available in some pharmacies.

Kits include three doses of naloxone, three syringes with retractable needles, alcohol swabs, gloves and instructions.

Although Manitoba's take-home naloxone kit program was launched in January, this was the first time the Interlake region has held a public training session on the drug.

The training included how to identify symptoms of overdose from different types of drugs, including hallucinogens, stimulants and depressants as well as what to do and not do in response to each type of overdose.

Participants were told to look for symptoms such as blue lips, small pupils, slow breathing and a rasping or gurgling sound.

Training emphasized ways of decreasing the risk of overdose, such as to avoid mixing drugs. Other suggestions were to never do drugs alone, and to avoid injecting a drug because it enters into the blood stream very quickly, whereas swallowing or snorting drugs is a slower route and therefore less risky.

Caution was also advised for those with health issues, stress, fatigue or dehydration — all factors which put people at higher risk of an overdose.

The training highlighted the importance of knowing how to perform CPR, and performing it even before one injects naloxone, the antidote to fentanyl, since opioids attach themselves to the same receptor sites that control breathing.

"Naloxone usually doesn't work instantly,"

Anlina Sheng, harm reduction project facilitator for the Interlake-Eastern Regional Health Authority, leads an overdose response training workshop in Selkirk last Tuesday afternoon.

Sheng said. "You need to keep doing rescue breathing."

Sheng explained that naloxone is a very safe drug, which only works for opioids by "kicking them off" the receptor sites and binding to them instead.

Sheng cautioned to never get a stimulant to try to counteract an opioid overdose, and to never give more drugs to the person who has just received the naloxone in an effort to make them feel better.

Staying with a person after a drug has been taken is also important, according to Sheng. An overdose can occur up to three hours after ingesting a drug.

For more information about overdose response training and naloxone kits, visit gov.mb.ca/fentanyl/opioid-overdose.html.

Aspects of pot legalization concerns Manitobans: survey

By Justin Luschinski

Manitobans have some issues with the upcoming legalization of marijuana, according to recent poll results.

Results from a Probe Research survey conducted on behalf of CTV Winnipeg showed that most Manitobans view marijuana's effects more negatively than alcohol.

The survey also found tougher rules surrounding marijuana use should be in place before the federal government legalizes the drug, particularly for young people.

The survey also found that 67 per cent of Manitobans would be uncomfortable to learn their neighbour was a frequent marijuana user as opposed to an alcohol drinker. But not everyone agrees.

"Personally I'd rather live next to someone who smokes marijuana as opposed to a heavy drinker," said Annie Penny of Selkirk. "(Heavy drinkers) are usually loud and obnoxious, if my neighbour was some quiet stoner type, smoking weed in their backyard, I wouldn't say anything.

"Pot smokers mind their own business."

Jack Lubinski of St. Andrews said that he wouldn't have any problems living next door to a responsible marijuana user.

"Over the course of my life, I've met several people who use marijuana in a recreational way," Lubinski said. "As long as someone is responsible with their (marijuana) use, I'm fine with it."

The current Liberal government has promised to legalize the drug sometime by July 2018. Many details of the legalization remain unknown.

Les Hodi of West St. Paul believes new regulations around marijuana won't change much.

"People are going to (smoke marijuana) anyways, so I don't think that having laws against it would make a difference," Hodi said.

Daniel Forese of Selkirk says that he trusts the current government and will support whatever legislation occurs.

"I feel like there's an already established position in place, I'd say that there's not much that needs to be changed (with the legalization)," Forese says.

Poll results also showed that younger adults aged 18 to 34, were more likely to be comfortable with marijuana sales, and were more worried about the effects of alcohol over marijuana.

A total of 1,032 Manitoba adults completed the survey between Aug. 8 and Aug. 20, 2017.

> 'SOMETIMES WE STRUGGLE,' FROM PG. 2

Rob Cormack, director of operations at Barney Gargles Restaurant in Selkirk, says the restaurant industry especially has been struggling to attract new staff members. He added they have been looking to hire cooks, prep cooks and bakers for nearly three months.

"What we're finding is that it's pretty hard to attract somebody into the industry," Cormack said. "I don't know if it's a lack of high wages or lack of opportunities ... but if you paid attention to the want ads this summer there were lots of restaurants hiring."

For Selkirk Tim Hortons owner and operator, Victor Martens, one of his main challenges is finding quality employees.

"Sometimes we struggle because we don't have quality staff," Martens said.

Martens added while he prefers to hire locally, about 20 per cent of his employees live in Winnipeg.

"My preference is always local, I do not want to hire outside Selkirk at all," he said. "It's a headache for me to get people out here ... but it's sometimes hard to find quality local people."

"Our transportation into Selkirk is a huge stumbling block," Hebert said. "I think it all comes down to wages and benefits."

According to the latest Help Wanted report, rising vacancy rates were seen in the oil and gas sectors, construction, manufacturing, transportation and hospitality. Vacancy rates also declined in the information, arts and recreation, finance and real estate industries.

According to the CFIB's Manitoba Business Barometer Index for August, 44 per cent of small businesses in Manitoba say their overall state of business is good and 16 per cent of small businesses in Manitoba plan to increase full-time employment in the next three to four months.

The index also showed that insufficient domestic demand remains the main operating challenge at 36 per cent, followed by management skills/time constraints at 31 per cent, and shortage of skilled labour at 27 per cent.

August 2017 findings were based on 706 responses, collected from a random sample of CFIB members, to a controlled-access web survey.

Fire crews save Selkirk man's guitar during downtown blaze

By Lindsey Enns

A Selkirk man has local firefighters to thank for saving a special keepsake after his apartment burst into flames.

Lawrence Smith spent much of last Wednesday sorting through smoke damaged boxes of family photos, clothes and tools firefighters from both Selkirk and East Selkirk fire departments managed to salvage following the fire on Aug. 28.

Although he appeared relieved that a few of his possessions were still intact, he was happiest that a guitar, which used to belong to his mother, made it out of the fire.

"Basically this is it," Smith said while sorting through his things last Wednesday. "I went out for a bit and came back and my house was on fire.

"There was not much I could do so I just sat and watched it burn."

Fire crews battled the blaze for several hours on Aug. 28. Smith had been living in the second storey apartment for nearly three years and was planning on moving out at the end of last month. Selkirk Fire Department Chief Craig Fiebelkorn said the cause of the fire, which started in the attic of the building located at 224 Manitoba Ave., was electrical.

There were no injuries and crews managed to keep the fire from spreading to any nearby buildings.

Smith took the time to thank some of the fire crew members during a brief gathering last Wednesday.

Since his mother's old guitar is no longer usable, a woman by the name of Huda Cade bought him a new one last week.

"I've been playing guitar all my life," he said with a smile. "I've had records out, I've travelled Canada."

Smith said his plan is to move into his new home soon and just "carry on."

In the meantime, a GoFundMe page has been set up to help Smith get back on his feet.

As of Tuesday morning, $2,225 of their $2,000 goal had been raised.

MPI, RCMP partner to promote safety on gravel roads

Staff

Nearly 500 people are injured in crashes on gravel roads in Manitoba annually, according to Manitoba Public Insurance. Sadly, about 14 people are killed yearly in crashes which occur on Manitoba gravel roads.

"The margin for error is razor thin when drivers make mistakes on a gravel surface," said Insp. Ed Moreland, Officer in Charge, RCMP Traffic Services Unit. "Much like ice, failure to adjust to conditions can have dire consequences."

In efforts to reduce those numbers and heighten road safety awareness, Manitoba Public Insurance and the RCMP have partnered in a joint public awareness and enforcement campaign specific to gravel roads, which began in April and is continuing into the fall.

As of the end of July, 460 Highway

Traffic Act offences notices have been issued by the RCMP, highlighted by 190 speeding, 21 non-seatbelt, and 16 short-term roadside suspensions. In addition, 10 impaired driving charges have also been laid under the Criminal Code of Canada.

In efforts to heighten awareness about the challenges associated with driving on gravel roads among new drivers, Manitoba Public Insurance has also announced plans to enhance its high school driver education program starting in September.

On average, 38 per cent of gravel road fatal crashes in Manitoba are alcohol related, while speed is attributed to nearly 20 per cent of gravel road fatal crashes. There are about 3,200 crashes reported annually on gravel roads based on Manitoba Public Insurance data.

GoManitoba app aims to make carpooling easier

By Justin Luschinski

Commuting to work from Selkirk to Winnipeg might be a lot easier now, thanks to a new carpooling initiative called GoManitoba.

GoManitoba is an app that uses your work and home addresses to find people you can commute with to your workplace. It aims to help facilitate carpooling arrangements, public transit usage, and even walking and biking groups.

Mel Marginet, co-ordinator for GoManitoba's Workplace Commuter Options program, said that it's often for large companies to make commuting arrangements for their employees.

"All of these major institutions were trying to find carpool partners for their employees within their own workplace. It was really hard because there wasn't that critical mass of people," Marginet said. "But with this technology, you're connected to everyone ... If somebody lives in your neighborhood, and they work close to you, then why not potentially (carpool) with them as well?"

GoManitoba uses a system called RideShark, which according to GoManitoba's website, says that they match users based on proximity to origin, destination, actual travel route, and personal preferences. It is available to all Manitobans.

Commuting to work from Selkirk to Winnipeg might be a lot easier now, thanks to a new carpooling initiative called GoManitoba.

But some Manitobans don't see the immediate benefits of the program.

Thomas Sutton has to commute from Selkirk to Winnipeg every day for his legal assistant job. Sutton said that everyone who has to go to Winnipeg for work has no reason to use the service.

"I'm glad that there's something available for people who might need to go from Selkirk to Winnipeg for work, but I don't think (GoManitoba) will get a lot of use," Sutton said. "Everybody who would need something like this, already has a way to get to work."

GoManitoba is planning to have a launch event sometime this month.

It was initiated by the Green Action Centre, and has partnered with organizations like the University of Winnipeg and the Partnership of the Manitoba Capital Region. After the September launch, GoManitoba plans to travel to other parts of the province in the fall, to find partners in other towns and cities.

Marginet thinks that the program has a lot of potential, since there isn't that many commuting options for Manitobans.

"There's so much potential, especially in our province where we don't have a lot of 'in between town' transit options. I grew up in rural Manitoba, and you're just really limited if you don't have a vehicle."

You can find out more about GoManitoba at greenactioncentre.ca.

High Time Ball Drop set for Sept. 21

By Justin Luschinski

The Selkirk Biz is gearing up to host the third annual High Time Ball Drop on Thursday, Sept. 21.

The fundraiser for the Selkirk and District Community Foundation will also be an opportunity for business owners to network. The event will feature food, refreshments, and a chance for someone to win up to $3,000 in cash.

Brett Mitchell, president of the Selkirk Biz, says the event is a great time for everyone involved.

"Everyone who has been to the event in the past has been well entertained and well fed. Last year's winner lived a few short minutes away from the event," Mitchell said. "We found out which was the winning ball, we called it out as (the winner) walked in the door, everyone was cheering."

The event culminates during the ball drop, where a helicopter from Prairie Helicopters flies high in the air and drops hundreds of balls, each containing a number.

This year's event will take place at the Selkirk Golf and Country Club and the ball drop will take place at 6 p.m.

"When the helicopter comes to eye level outside the clubhouse, it's a spectacular event," Mitchell said.

The Selkirk Biz hopes to use some of the event money to create a payment card that can be used at local businesses around Selkirk.

Tickets for the event can be purchased at several businesses around Selkirk, including the Selkirk Record.

Anglers line up along the Red River

Hi gang.

Things were going hot and heavy at the “end of Main” a couple of weeks ago. Shore anglers were lined up along the Red in the blazing sun as many boat fishers hurriedly launched their crafts in anticipation of a great afternoon of fishing while others landed and loaded their boats satisfied with their morning catch. I was caught up in the spirit of the bustling about as I got out of my car and approached a couple tying their boat down for the ride home. “Did you have any luck?” I asked the lady. “We did pretty well,” she responded with a smile. “Do you have a fish you could show our fellow anglers?” I asked as I pulled out my camera. “How’s this?” she held up a nice pickerel. “I’m Tonya Duzlovic,” she added. I snapped a picture then turned to her friend who said he was Rick Partridge and knew of me so had readied a story in his mind for us. Some time ago he was ice fishing with a friend on Wavy Creek and a fish struck taking his rod down the hole. Later in the day using another rod he caught a fish and pulling it out of the hole saw the line of his first rod was wrapped around it. He grabbed the line and retrieved his first rod with a fish on it too. His buddy grinning, commented, “You know you can use two lines when ice fishing and they can both be above the ice all the time!”

It was another fine windy, warm morning on the sandy expanse of the Winnipeg Beach Marina north shore last week. I saw a chap by the waters’ edge laying out his fishing gear. He looked like a game fellow of average size, in good shape wearing a straw hat used and beaten to a raggedy pleasing state atop his jovial face. He sported a slightly grey handle bar mustache with side burns. His eyes reflected his constant upbeat happy mood. Brian Drury was the name he gave as well as an unusual experience. It seems he and his mom were fishing here and she, Lynn, was down wind of him when he thought he heard her say, “I think I’ve caught a pig!” Perplexed he tread through the sand to her side trying to make sense of her outcry. He looked off-shore to the waves and sure enough there was a big white-yellowish egg shaped pig-like creature on the end of her line. About then Lynn lost her grip on her rod and grabbed the line itself with Brian joining her. The monster rolled over, its’ mouth gaping so big a football would have fitted inside. The giant mouth belonged to a huge catfish and as they tried to land it the open jaws would fill with water stopping them. Eventually Brian took the catfish by the whiskers so to speak. He waded out straddling the fish and slipped the hook out of its mouth with a pair of pliers. “Yeah, that was a pig of a cat mom,” Brian joked as he made shore.

Maybe a month ago I met another guy with a bigger handle bar mustache than Brians’. Unlike Brian though who talked quickly with energy, our new friend Maurice Davidson talked slow in a low voice. Maurice struck me as caring guy who stood not that tall with a thin body. His fishing story however showed he had staying power. He went fishing with some buddies at Eagle Nest Landing. They got hold of a local guide and were having a great time on the water by Pointe du Bois. As the day progressed the men came close to catching their limit and thought they would call it a day. The guide stood up in the front of the boat to pull up the two strings of fish but the end knot let go and most of the fish fell free. Silence filled the boat; the only sounds were throat clearings and the soft lapping of the water on the side of the boat. Finally the guide his head down feeling bad said to the boys, “Guys I’m sorry, if you want to keep fishing I’ll hang in with you and I don’t want any money.” So the lines went back in the water and in time they caught enough to satisfy themselves, but the funny thing they noticed was some of the same jackfish they had caught before, struck and were caught again.

Hope you had a wonderful long weekend, bye now.

Motorists reminded to drive with care in school zones

Staff

Motorists in Manitoba are being reminded to drive with extra care in school zones as annual speed restrictions came back into effect on Sept. 1.

"The month of September means thousands of Manitoba students are soon returning to school," Infrastructure Minister and St. Paul MLA Ron Schuler stated in a release last week. "With school-zone restrictions in Manitoba taking effect ... we ask that all drivers take extra precaution by reducing their speed and remaining alert when approaching school zones.

"Drivers affected by these areas may need to consider providing more time for their commute or altering their travel route. There is never an excuse to be in a hurry when traveling through school zones in our province."

Pedestrian, school bus and private vehicle traffic will greatly increase in school areas as classes begin in September. Motorists are advised to drive with extra caution and be alert to the increased presence of children in school areas.

Municipalities have authority to establish reduced-speeds zones and determine the hours speed reduction is in effect. Speed reductions and effective dates and times may vary by municipality. Motorists are advised to pay particular attention to the posted speed.

In Selkirk, reduced speed zones of 30 km/h are located near École Bonaventure, Robert Smith, Ruth Hooker and Centennial schools.

Motorists are advised to pay particular attention to the posted speed as some schools have speed reductions in effect.

The Lord Selkirk School Division is also busy rolling out its "Think of Us on the Bus" campaign in an effort to enhance safety for both students and school bus drivers while addressing the problem of drivers passing school buses when their red lights and stop signs are activated.

After several school bus drivers brought the issue to the division's attention, they decided to run a series of surveys.

Over a two week period from Feb. 6 to 17 and Nov. 29 to Dec. 9 of last year, drivers recorded 340 and 309 violations respectively. Based on their survey results, a driver illegally passes a school bus an average of 36 times per day.

LSSD transportation supervisor Mike Munday said they are in the process of installing stop arm cameras on their school buses, which will help provide video evidence for the RCMP to use while issuing tickets.

Failing to stop for a bus that has its red lights flashing and stop arm extended can carry a $672 fine and two demerit points.

"We don't want people to get fined, we just want people to stop," Munday said in a previous interview with the Record. "We want to ensure this remains about informing the public and does not require a tragedy to change driver behaviours."

Gov't funds fuel upgrade projects at 4 Selkirk schools

By Lindsey Enns

Nearly $3.7 million in provincial dollars are helping fund five upgrade projects at four Selkirk schools.

"Provincially our government is ramping up the much-needed renewal and upgrading of school infrastructure," Selkirk MLA Alan Lagimodiere stated in a release last Tuesday. "We're investing $53.7 million towards 110 projects to ensure safe and healthy environments for students, support staff, educators and administrators in Manitoba's public schools."

Projects within the LSSD include a gym upgrade at École Selkirk Junior High, a boiler replacement at both Happy Thought School and Ruth Hooker School as well as an exterior curtain wall replacement and brick ledge structural remediation at the Comp.

Lord Selkirk School Division (LSSD) Supt. Michele Polinuk said exterior changes to the Comp will make it a much more welcoming to new and returning students.

"That will be an ultimate jewel in the end, nothing has been done to that building since it was built," Polinuk said, adding they are hoping that this "extensive project" will start sometime next year. "We are so grateful that we will be able to upgrade that facility."

"All of our students end up there ... so it will be great that we will have a nice, welcoming exterior."

The Comp was built in 1971 and the local high school's last major renovation project was done in 1987 where the current library sits.

"The work planned for this project was a part of the plans being worked on for the past three years between the LSSD and the Public School Finance Board," Polinuk added.

The funding for all five projects is welcome news to the LSSD's aging facilities, she said.

"It means that our aging facilities ... are being addressed and being able to be replaced or refurbished so we can continue to have great facilities for our students."

"I feel confident these projects will make a real difference for students and teaching staff in Manitoba and help to extend the lives of many of our public schools," Municipal Relations Minister Jeff Wharton stated in a release.

Wharton noted the projects will be completed within a timeframe of six to 24 months following the award of tenders and start of construction.

The Manitoba government is providing more than $92.4 million in planned capital spending in 2017-18 for public school infrastructure projects across the province, he added.

Steeltown Ford looks to raise $6K for dog rescue at Adoption Days

Staff

Steeltown Ford is bringing Ford Motor Company of Canada's Drive One 4 UR Community program to the community of Lockport in hopes of raising up to $6,000 for the Boston Terrier and Pug Rescue of Southern Manitoba (BTPRSM).

For every person who test-drives a Ford vehicle at Canvasback Pet Supplies on Saturday, Sept. 9, Steeltown

Ford and Ford of Canada will donate $20 to medical and care costs associated with running rescue programs.

BTPRSM was founded in 2009, and is run on a volunteer and donation basis. The group does not have a physical shelter, as all of their dogs are fostered in volunteer's homes until they find a forever home.

Sept. 9 and 10 are also Canvasback's eighth annual Adoption Days — the largest free pet-friendly event in Manitoba. Last year the event drew a crowd of over 3,500 people.

"Dogs are great co-pilots, and we recognize the hard work the BTPRSM volunteers put in," said Jason Sargent, dealer principal at Selkirk's Steeltown Ford. "The Drive One program is great opportunity for us to support a hard-working local organization, while showcasing Ford of Canada's innovative safety technologies and eco-friendly options."

The fundraiser, which will run from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., will feature the F-150, Focus, Escape and other available models. In addition to test-driving a Ford vehicle, attendees will also be able to enjoy the world famous Dock-dogs jumping competitions, meet adorable adoptable pets and play at the kids activity tables, with all funds raised going to Boston Terrier and Pug Rescue of Southern Manitoba. Ford of Canada and its dealerships have been supporting local communities with the Drive 4UR program since 2010, generating more than $8 million in donations for schools and charities across Canada.

Steeltown Ford has participated in Ford's Drive One 4 UR School/Community programs for eight years, and has made an impact in the community by raising $60,000 to date in support of organizations such as The Dream Factory.

To participate, visit Canvasback Pet Supplies, located at 1 Wellink Dr., between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 9.

Participants must be 18 or older and have a valid driver's license. There is a limit of one test-drive per household.

To pre-register, visit forddrive4ur.ca/en/canvasbacks8thannualadoption-days.

Canoe centre now offering historical tours of Red River

By Justin Luschinski

While Milt Pedwell, of the the Selkirk Canoe and Kayak Centre, was canoeing down the river with one of his trainees, the only sounds heard were the swaying of the reeds and the paddles moving through the water.

Pedwell is preparing for a historical tour of the Red River and surrounding areas. Those interested can sign up and learn about the Red River while also experiencing what life was like hundreds of years ago.

"We get people from different groups (on the tours)," Pedwell said. "They all know the history, but what they want to do is to feel it. 'What was it like here, three or four hundred years ago?' And you don't need much imagination when you're (on the river.)"

The tour will take paddlers through several locations such as Lower Fort Garry and the St. Peter Dynevor Anglican Church.

Pedwell said that the area has a very exciting past that deserves more recognition than it receives.

"It's a wonderful feeling. This area is so historical," he added. "If we lived in Hollywood, there would be a blockbuster movie made of (the Red River) every day."

Pedwell has been canoeing since 1957. He spent a lot of his time in The Pas and Flin Flon as a miner. A muskrat trapper in the area hired Pedwell to help him catch prey, and in return the trapper taught him how to paddle.

While up north, he and his Indigenous friends would play a game. One of the hunters would wander into the woods and get lost. The others would wait for 30 minutes, then start tracking their lost friend. This would turn into an intense game of hide and seek.

"That's the way of the north," Pedwell said.

While most of his family lives in Winnipeg, Pedwell stayed in Selkirk because there "was no way this old bushman can live in a big city like that."

The local canoe centre has produced quite a few athletes, including some who have competed in the Canada Summer Games, he added.

Selkirk Park day camp transforms nature into a classroom

By Teresa Carey

Children who attend the Selkirk Friendship Centre's daycare have been visiting Selkirk Park each weekday this July and August as part of a Day Camping program, which has been offered for the past four years.

Rain or shine, the children, along with four supervising adults, head to the campground where a tent and trailer are set up for them next to the rows of campers in the public campground.

The day starts early, at 7 a.m. If the weather is good, a camp fire is built and the children will then have some free time to play and explore until 8 a.m. Then, it's off to the playground until snack time, and a full day of structured activity follows.

The day camp, part of the Healthy Early Learning Program, is designed for children aged four to 12 and can accommodate up to 20 children.

The program has been offered for the past four summers, and has grown over the years, said Donna Smith, supervisor for the Kids First Before and After School Care.

"The first year only eight or 10 children took part," Smith said. "This year, we've had 12 to 17 daily throughout the summer."

The 200 acre Selkirk Park is an ideal setting for the children to learn as it offers a wide range of opportunities.

With so much to see and do there is little chance any child can become bored. In addition to activities such as swimming and romping through the spray park, the children can roam through a marshland environment and see nature up close. Daily hikes on the nature trails are taken, and the children have been enjoying such activities as "critter dipping" and frog hunting.

The group has also been keeping tabs on a resident Osprey family, said Smith.

"It gives kids the experience of being outdoors, camping and exploring nature," Smith said.

The joy of being in the park setting all summer is written on the faces of the children there. Freya, one of the girls enrolled in the program, exuberantly explained how much she loves to spend time at the playground, particularly on the monkey bars.

"My favourite part is going crazy like a monkey," she laughed.

Some other favourite activities have included nature bowling, swimming, playing at the spray park, and boat watching from the launch pad.

STEEL CLAD BUILDING Guarantee

With over 3000 solid buildings under their belt Kodiak Shelter Systems stands fast for one thing; long term satisfaction. In business since 1984 Richard Perchotte puts his name on the line with every unit they install. "We don't sell the cheapest product on the market, we sell and install the best and longest lasting. You can buy a fabric covered building for a few hundred dollars that will last a year or two, however if you want one that will last twenty or twenty five years call us," says Perchotte.

From 8ft. x 8ft. greenhouses all the way up to a 126ft. x 200ft. building, they have done it all. Kodiak's installers have put up buildings all over north America. The company currently has a team doing installations on the US west coast. In addition to their fabric covered building line Kodiak Shelter Systems is also an authorized manufacturer and installer of VersaTube steel buildings and an authorized dealer for Domtek Metal Roofing and Siding. Do you have an aging flat roof? Most flat roofs only last approximately 20 years, a steel truss roof lasts a lifetime. In Manitoba's climate a steel pitched roof is a much more logical choice. Replacing a flat roof with a steel pitch roof will virtually end your maintenance costs.

Whether you are looking for a stand-alone steel building, an addition to your existing structure, replacement of your existing roof or to alleviate the problems associated with flat roofs in Canada, Kodiak Shelter Systems can help. To back up their products and installation Kodiak Shelter Systems has the best warranty in the industry. For over 30 years quality products, installation, durability and longevity Kodiak Shelter Systems is your best choice.

South of the Lakes Art Tour celebrates 15 years

By Jennifer McFee

It's been a milestone 15 years since the South of the Lakes Art Tour began, yet there are still many firsts to look forward to at this year's rendition.

This year's tour will feature 11 stops with 36 artists, compared to 26 artists last year in the same number of stops. Of the participants, 11 new artists will showcase their works in 2017, as well as a couple artists who are returning to the event after an absence.

Also for the first time this year, Teulon-based studio Glass by Heather is on the map, where artist Heather Dawson is looking forward to displaying her artwork.

"I do stain glass, fused glass and fused jewelry," explained Dawson, who is also participating in the Wave tour.

"A number of years ago, I took one class and it just snowballed from there. Now I've been doing it for over 10 years. It's been a lot of fun because there are so many different techniques you can try out and so many ways to use the different types of glass."

During the tour, Dawson will have items on display and for sale at her studio, located at 128 Beach Rd. in Teulon.

"I'll have my own studio open, so they'll be able to see the different techniques and tools that are used," said Dawson, who has taught classes through the Interlake School Division.

"If they're interested in demonstrations, I'm happy to show how to cut glass or to even let people try cutting glass. If there's interest in learning, they can talk to me about it during the art tour."

In addition to the new artists and new studio on the tour, one new centre has been added in Selkirk. The Heather Dawson is one of 36 artists taking part in the South of the Lakes Art tour Sept. 16 and 17 and will have her stained glass studio open for visitors over the weekend.

Gordon Howard Centre, located at 384 Eveline St., will showcase the works of six artists: Kathy Freeman, Rebecca Cramer, John Valentine, Gordon Kanne, Charley Waters and Greg McKenzie.

Meanwhile, the Rosser group has moved to the Grosse Isle Recreation Club at 117 E Road 72 N, where Loris Barsanti, Marge Knutson, Helen Harris and Linda Gillies will showcase their talents.

Hermina Hildebrand, one of the tour co-ordinators, said there is a little bit of everything on this year's tour, which draws tourist from across the province. The 2017 tour will feature paintings, drawings, sculptures, carvings, photography, pottery and fibre artists in wool and silk. There will also be wood-fired and traditional glass work, jewelry, garden art, poetry, children's books, experimental works — and much more.

Destinations include Rosser, Grosse Isle, Stonewall, Balmoral, Teulon and Selkirk.

"We consider this event a great opportunity for the artists to showcase their work and for the public to come out, meet the artists and view local art," she said.

Hildebrand will have her work on display at the Heritage Arts Centre and at the Gwen Fox Gallery, where she will also act as a hostess.

"It's really gratifying to be able to show our work. It's a fabulous opportunity. At the same time, it's nice to have a chat with people and find out where they're coming from and what's bringing them out," she said. "A lot of them will go to take advantage of where they are in the vicinity and go for lunch, go for coffee, go for tea."

So this year we're going to provide information about where they can go just to help out because people are always looking."

The 2017 South of the Lakes Art Tour, put on by the Prairie Oak Regional Arts Council, takes place on Saturday, Sept. 16 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday, Sept. 17 from noon to 4 p.m.

Maps are available at Hallmark stores, Travel Manitoba visitor centres and on the Facebook page entitled "South of the Lakes Art Tour 2017."

Local artist doing the WAVE with coloured pencil

By Patricia Barrett

Artist Terry Mellway showcased her stunning coloured pencil works during the WAVE Interlake Artists' Studio Tour held last weekend.

Although many of her subjects are taken from the natural world, Mellway's human subjects are so realistic and full of character, they practically jump off the wall.

"I do my own photography," said Mellway during a brief lull in her Pencil & Brush Studio next to her Sandy Hook home where a steady stream of WAVE visitors filed in to see her work. "And I draw from those photographs."

She had taken a photograph of a man at Cook Point in Hawaii (named after 18th-century British mariner James Cook) where he had been pulling crabs from the water and washing them in a pot. He became the subject of a wonderfully expressive and intricate drawing.

Keeping in mind the ethics of photographing people then possibly turning a profit from their image in the portraits she produces, Mellway said, "I firmly believe in paying my subjects for their photographs."

It takes about 50 hours to create a finished work owing to the thousands of painstaking strokes and colour blending involved in the medium.

"It used to take me a lot longer than it does now," she laughed. "Some people who work in acrylics finish in an afternoon."

Mellway has been an artist for most of her life and has created works using acrylics and watercolours. But in the last 10 years or so, she's concentrated on coloured pencil.

"Years ago I worked with a [photography] studio where we used coloured pencils to re-touch old photographs," she said.

Because the warmth of the hand can smudge a work in progress, Mellway uses a piece of paper on which she rests her palm while she draws then seals the finished work with a fine art spray.

She has won awards in both local and international competitions and has been featured in a number of magazines, including Coloured Pencil Magazine and CP Treasures, Volume IV. She's also a member of the Coloured Pencil Society of America, the Manitoba Society of Artists, the Manitoba Arts Network and the Gimli Art Club.

She sells framed and unframed works as well as greeting cards.

Two tour participants inquired about coloured pencil classes, which Mellway intends to offer this fall in her studio. The six-week classes will comprise about 18 hours of instruction for about $250.

For more information about classes or to purchase Mellway's work, call (204) 510-3779 or email: 6artist6@gmail.com Visit her website at terrymellway.wordpress.com

MJHL launches new mobile app

Submitted by the MJHL

The Manitoba Junior Hockey League is launching a new mobile app this season, providing fans with real-time scoring data, game scores, schedules, standings, player and goal statistics.

The mobile app is available for Apple and Android smart phones and tablets.

Downloading the new app is as simple as going to the application platform of a smart phone and looking for the MJHL mobile app.

"This is another step forward in keeping our fans informed in real time," MJHL commissioner Kim Davis said in a media release. "The new mobile app provides a variety of services. Users will also be happy to know the app is available for free."

Other options available to users will be notifications for their favourite team, as well as two of their favourite players. A number of other junior leagues are currently using the same mobile app, notably the BCHL and Northern Ontario Junior Hockey League.

"The MJHL is continually looking for ways to enhance our information stream to fans and those interested in junior hockey," said Davis. "This new MJHL app is another exciting step forward for our league."

Davis also said that some items on the app are still undergoing development and changes to its appearance, and functionality will occur through the end of this season.

Steelers begin MJHL exhibition play

Staff

With their fall rookie camp out of the way, the Selkirk Steelers are now getting ready for their 2017-18 preseason.

Selkirk, which will play seven exhibition games this season, visited Steinbach last night and will host the Winnipeg Blues this Friday (7:30 p.m.) at the Selkirk Rec Complex.

The Steelers will play the Blues on Saturday (7 p.m.) at the Bell MTS Iceplex and then will take on Thief River Falls on Sunday (2 p.m.) at the Ralph Engelstad Arena in Grand Forks.

Selkirk will host Thief River Falls next Wednesday and then Steinbach will be here two nights later.

The Steelers will then wrap up their preseason schedule Sept. 16 when they play the Pistons in Steinbach.

Game times for the final three preseason games are 7:30 p.m.

The Steelers will begin their regular season with a Sept. 22 road clash with the Pistons. Selkirk will then wrap up this month with home games against Steinbach on Sept. 23 and the OCN Blizzard on Sept. 29-30.

Locals golf well at interclub tourneys

Staff

Larter's Golf & Country Club won on a countback at the Women's "B" Interclub championship at the Glendale Golf & Country Club in Winnipeg on Aug. 29.

Larters finished with a 328, which tied them with Kildonan Park for the low gross score. Larters' team featured Rina Laclaire, Rachele Berad, Leslie King and Colleen Dalton.

Rounding out the field of 10 teams were Breezy Bend (330), Portage (331), Southwood (333), St. Charles (334), Grand Pines (338), Glendale (342), Carman (343) and Tuxedo (344) and Windsor Park (344).

Meanwhile, Niakwa won the Junior Interclub championship last Thursday, finishing with a 28-over 232 at the Maplewood Golf Club in St. Pierre Jolys.

Niakwa won by matching scorecards over Elmhurst. Elmhurst's foursome included Brent Ingram, Adam Ingram, Ryan McMillan and Marco Trstenjak.

Stonewall slaying Giants in WSBL final

Staff

A baseball championship series is usually won by great pitching and defence.

But so far in this year's Winnipeg Senior Baseball League championship, the Stonewall Blue Jays have been using a potent offence to record victories.

Stonewall took a 2-0 series lead after a thrilling 10-9 home victory over the Elmwood Giants on Monday evening at Fines Field.

The Blue Jays started the series with a 14-10 slugfest win over Elmwood last Thursday evening in Winnipeg.

The best-of-seven WSBL championship series continued with games slated for Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. No scores, however, were available at press time.

If necessary, Game 5 is scheduled to be played this coming Monday at Koskie Field, followed by Game 6 Tuesday in Stonewall.

A series-deciding seventh game would be played next Wednesday at Koskie Field. The remaining games in the series begin at 7:30 p.m.

Playing junior hockey? Better get dental insurance

By Brian Bowman

All Clint Torfason wanted to do was try to win a Keystone Junior Hockey League championship for his Arborg Ice Dawgs.

But he has been forced to pay a very steep price for his championship ambitions.

The 21 year old from Winnipeg Beach was left with a monstrous dental bill after getting hit in the face with a high stick in a KJHL playoff game against the Peguis Juniors back on April 1.

"When the accident happened, my whole mouth was vibrating but there really wasn't much pain at the time," said Torfason, noting it was both disappointing and frustrating to hear that some of the opposing fans were cheering when he was spitting out blood and teeth on the ice.

"You're in shock when it happens but finding out after what the costs are hurts more."

Torfason suffered a fractured jaw, lacerations, and lost five teeth from the incident. Torfason will need dental surgeries, numerous implants, and bone grafting to his jaw.

This is estimated to cost between $35,000 and $40,000 which is well beyond what insurance will cover.

Torfason's mother, Gail, has been told that it will take over a year from now to have all of the dental procedures done on her son.

"I didn't realize how long the process was going to be," she admitted, noting her family has dental coverage through Blue Cross. "And until something like this happens, you don't realize what's not covered. There are a lot of things that are exempt...and there's a maximum, too."

Clint's injuries were quite extensive.

"When one of the specialists looked at Clint's face, he said, 'It was the worst damage that he has seen from a hockey accident.'" Gail noted. "He said, 'He can't believe that stuff like this still happens in hockey.'"

Torfason was reimbursed only $2,500 - the maximum payable per accident - under Hockey Canada's dental insurance program. Hockey Canada's Todd Jackson was quick to warn that that this is a "secondary" policy.

"It kicks in after private insurance has exhausted," Jackson explained last Thursday afternoon. "If a player does not have private insurance then it would act as primary in those cases."

Jackson said Hockey Canada does not get many claims over the course of a season from minor hockey players that wear cages.

It is a different story, however, at the junior level.

"I can't give you numbers because I don't have numbers in front of me," Jackson admitted. "But we get a fair amount of claims that come in from a dental perspective. 'We are a secondary (insurance) and we pay after the primary is exhausted.'"

But many would argue that Hockey Canada's dental insurance coverage is a slap in the face to players.

"For any kids that are playing hockey, it's an eye opener," Gail Torfason said. "I don't even know if there is extra insurance that you can get to cover this. I really don't know. You think that you're covered for everything and then you realize that you're not."

Chris Poponick, a longtime coach with the Selkirk Fishermen in the Keystone Junior Hockey League, said dental insurance should be a concern for parents and players.

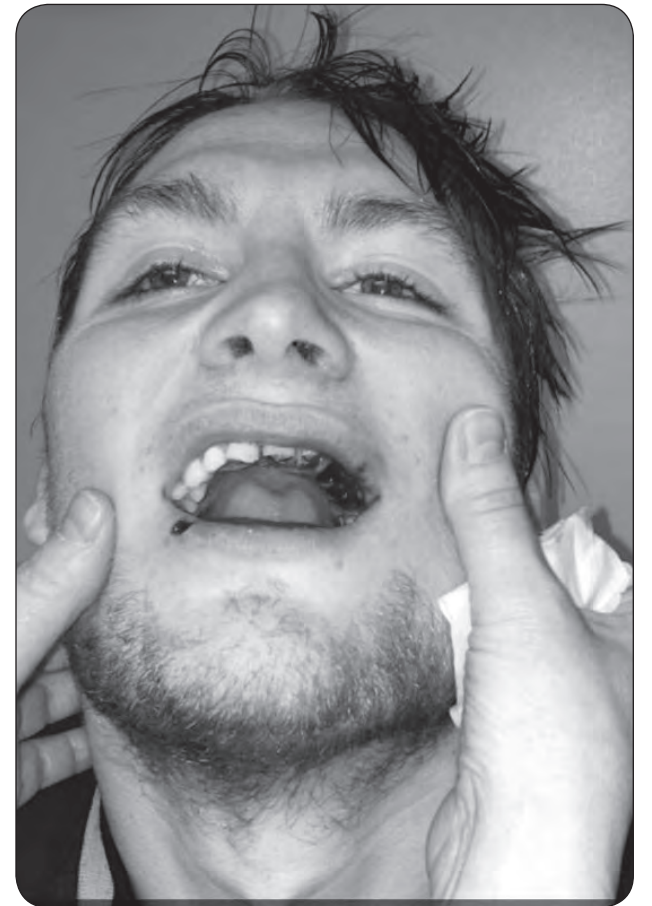

"We go into this sport knowing Hockey Canada covers us for certain things," he said. "But when the (dental coverage) is only $2,500, a player can have much more (of a cost) after one crosscheck to the face or a shot to the face, whatever it might be."

"There must be a way to look at subsidizing something additional for those who don't have (primary) dental coverage."

On Hockey Canada's website, it describes its insurance as "an exceptional insurance program that has been built with the needs of its members in mind."

But it shows that only eight per cent of the premiums paid into its insurance program go towards accident and dental coverage.

"You think that playing for 15, 16 years under Hockey Canada that they would help out their players," Clint Torfason argued. "But right now, they're just handing out some pocket change."

The Ice Dawgs' Clint Torfason suffered a fractured jaw, lacerations, and lost five teeth during a junior hockey game last April. Torfason will need dental surgeries, numerous implants, and bone grafting to his jaw.

"Once it comes to dental work, they don't want to help out."

To help raise funds for Torfason's dental work, a fundraising social will be held Oct. 14 at the Arborg Community Hall from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets are $10.

As well, a GoFundMe page was set up recently to raise money. Those who want to donate can visit www.gofundme.com/ClintTorfasonExpense

High stick costs Ice Dawgs player $40,000 in dental bills

By Patricia Barrett

A stick across the jaw during a junior league hockey game left an Arborg Ice Dawgs player without a number of teeth and his family facing almost $40,000 in dental reconstruction costs.

Clint Torfason, a 21-year-old hockey player from Winnipeg Beach, was slashed across the mouth by a Peguis Junior player April 1 during a KJHL championship final and lost five teeth in his upper jaw despite the mouth guard he was wearing.

"There was probably nine minutes left in the third period, and I was kind of at the end of my shift at that point and I had control of the puck," said Torfason last week. "Just outside the Peguis blue line, I dumped the puck in prior to a change. Right after I dumped the puck in, I got the blade of a stick. It was kind of like a pitchfork motion right into my mouth."

He said he fell to the ice and kind of went into shock.

"There was a lot of blood," he said, recalling how his mouth vibrated. "My teeth didn't all come out at once. They were shattered. I was spitting piece by piece out. I didn't bother picking them up because those teeth were shattered, so I just skated off the ice."

The following morning, the family were able to obtain an emergency appointment with their dentist in Selkirk, and the shattered teeth in his jaw had to be pulled out as there was no way to save them.

Torfason said he's unsure whether it was a deliberate act of aggression, but he could "make a few assumptions about it."

What is certain are the massive dental reconstruction bills he and his parents have to pay, and the year and a half of dental appointments, bone grafting surgery, and pain and suffering ahead of him before he gets replacement teeth.

"Right now I have two specialists working on my teeth," he said. "One guy is going to be putting the screws in for the implant process and other guy is working on impressions for the teeth. I'll need bone grafting done first. They will probably take bone from my hip and put some in my jaw. Then I've got to let that heal. After that heals, they'll put the implants and screws in and let that heal. Then they'll insert the teeth."

He said his prosthodontist's assistant told him they've dealt with a lot of hockey injuries in the past, but in her 20 years of practice, his injuries were the worst she's ever seen.

Four referees on the ice that day allegedly did not see the incident.

"The KJHL...had four refs during the finals...to watch all the stuff going on behind the play," said Torfason, "but no ref on the ice saw it happen. It was quite a joke. They had a meeting with Hockey Manitoba and with my general manager at that time, and they said they saw me spit out blood and teeth, but they could not confirm how it happened. So they couldn't do anything about it."

Hockey Manitoba, which governs senior, junior, recreational and minor hockey and enforces game rules, states on its website that it believes in "values of fair play and sportsmanship, including the development of respect for all people by all participants."

Clint's mom said the organization told her it does not consider video recordings as evidence.

"Clint was high-sticked and the building was packed because it was a play-off game. Clint fell to the ice, he was bleeding and he spit out his teeth...and the refs didn't even call a penalty on the guy," said Gail Torfason. "Hockey Manitoba said we cannot use video as evidence."

Hockey Manitoba did not respond to an email request from the Express for clarification as to why it doesn't consider video evidence.

The organization has an insurance package that covers about $1,250 per tooth to a maximum of $2,500, which will help defray only a small portion of the total dental reconstruction costs.

"We're guessing it will be $35,000 to $40,000 for everything," Gail said, reiterating what the dental specialists estimate. "Hockey Manitoba will give us a maximum of $2,500 and Manitoba Health right now is giving us $10,000. So we'll still be down about $30,000."

The family has been forced to take out a loan to pay the bills.

"We had to take out a loan for $30,000 because everything has to be paid ahead of time," Gail said. "He's had to pay at the time of each appointment."

Arborg Ice Dawgs player Clint Torfason was slashed in the mouth by a Peguis Junior player in April, knocking out five teeth and leaving his family with a $40,000 dental bill.

To help the family cope with the unexpected financial outlay, Clint's teammates, friends and a few family members are in the process of organizing a fundraising social, and they've also set up a GoFundMe page. Clint will be donating any funds raised over and above what the family requires to a charity.

"It's unfortunate," said Gail. "I didn't realize how invasive this is going to be. It's going to be a long haul for Clint and it will be a painful process. I told Clint the fortunate thing is he didn't have a concussion from the incident, considering the damage and everything."

Despite the aggression and danger of hockey, Torfason said he'll be back on the ice this season to play his final year with the Ice Dawgs.

"There's always that thought in the back of your mind. Guys are very aggressive with their sticks on the ice," he said. "You got to be very smart and careful about it. That's all there is to it."

In September 2018, he'll be able to eat corn on the cob.

"You kind of do get used to it [having no teeth]," he said. "But corn on the cob is not too easy to do."

The fundraising social takes place Saturday, Oct. 14 at 8 p.m. in Arborg Community Hall. Tickets are $10. Monetary donations and silent auction donations are welcome.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

OBITUARY

RIESE, RoseMarie (nee Craig)
April 22, 1943 – August 30, 2017

With sadness, we announce the death of RoseMarie Riese, aged 74, of pancreatic cancer.

Born in Portadown, Northern Ireland, she came to Canada to chase her dreams, see Expo '67 in Montreal and visit relatives who had offered her a place to stay in Winnipeg. She met the love of her life and they married on April 26, 1969, making a home and raising a family at Westphalia Farms in Lockport. RoseMarie wanted everyone around her to be happy. She had an easy smile and a joyful laugh. Her artistic knack was expressed through quilting, knitting and other crafts. And, she had a fine sense of adventure. Lifelong travels took her to nearly every continent, only missing Antarctica when the planned excursion from a South American cruise was cancelled.

RoseMarie's memory will be carried forward by Hank, her husband of 48 years; children Craig (Crystal), Jennifer (Peter), Allison (Delaney), Kelly (Robert); grandchildren Cate, Amanda, Evan, Marcus, Tamir, Nye Marie; and her cherished community of family and friends in Little Britain and around the world.

A memorial service will be held on Thursday, September 7 at 10:30 a.m. St. Margaret's Church, 103 Little Britain Rd.

Instead of flowers, consider a donation to the Palliative Care Fund at the Selkirk & District Community Foundation, 200 Eaton Avenue, Selkirk, MB, R1A 0W6, (204) 785-9755.

There is a link death cannot sever, Love and remembrance last forever.
