Happy 100th birthday Orval Marshall

Selkirk resident celebrates his 100th birthday

By Katelyn Boulanger

Selkirkian Orval Marshall celebrated his 100th birthday on Nov. 20 at a small celebration with his friends and family members to mark this momentous occasion.

He was born near Peterborough, Ontario in 1921 during the depression but that didn't stop him from having a childhood full of fun with his siblings.

"There were three of us younger ones, I had a sister older and a sister younger and we played together. We jumped in the hay barn and we just had a great time," said Marshall.

Marshall's father worked in the wood industry and after he left school he helped his father in the bush cutting down trees until the Second World War broke out.

"I stayed around there for a while then my older brother, he joined the service. I joined up a few days after him," said Marshall.

He was 18 years old and went overseas in May of 1943. While he was there, he was injured and spent time in hospital. After that he became a truck driver hauling supplies from the reinforcement depot up to the different regiments on the frontline.

Once the war was over Marshall returned home and received an apprenticeship at a bakery.

"I liked baking and I got promoted," said Marshall.

His boss then, when visiting his mother in Manitoba decided to set up a bakery in Transcona, he sent Marshall to work at the bakery and that's how he ended up in the region.

From there he worked at the steel mill in Selkirk for six years then took his nursing courses and worked in the Selkirk Hospital for many years ending his career in patient transport in 1986.

During that time he built two houses in our community, met and married his wife in 1947 and had two children, two grandchildren, 4 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

He says that Selkirk has grown much larger since he first moved here but it has always been a nice place to live.

"It's a good place to live. People are nice. That guy sitting over there is one of the councillors and has been a friend of mine for years. I couldn't think of a better place to live," said Marshall.

Abundant Life Lutheran Church hamper program returns

Give to those who need it in our communities

By Katelyn Boulanger

Abundant Life Church is once again collecting for their Community Christmas Hamper Program which provides resources to those struggling to put together what they need for the holiday.

"It's a program that's put in place, so that the people who live outside of the city of Winnipeg, and people who live outside of the city of Selkirk are able to get a Christmas hamper. It's sort of just filling the gap in between those two areas for people," said Rylee Innes, Community Christmas Hamper Coordinator.

This year, like last year, they have made the decision to not hold a food drive but to instead give gift card hampers so that volunteers and hamper recipients can have less contact due to the provincial regulations and also the risk of large gatherings during the pandemic.

"One of the bigger issues is having that many people in the church all at once, handling all of the vaccination cards and making sure that we were still following all of the guidelines would have been a challenge," said Innes.

Doing a food drive would also have meant that volunteers would need to drop off and pick up donation boxes from the community and normally youth groups are involved with the packing up of the hampers on their assembly day and so the decision was made to put off the food drive for another year.

They did not, however, want to cancel the program altogether because of the need that they realized was still there in our communities.

Last year they delivered over 71 hampers to East St. Paul, West St. Paul, St. Clements and West Springfield and which was a large number for them and Innes expects it to be similar this year with 25 hampers being requested before the start of December.

"I think [the number of hampers we're going to need to provide is going up] this year, and last year because of the pandemic and people losing their jobs and stuff. I think that had a big impact," said Innes.

This decision, though it is different, isn't a bad one for our communities since the gift cards will be for businesses in the area of East St. Paul, West St. Paul, St. Clements and West Springfield which like many small businesses throughout the world have had ups and downs during the pandemic.

Innes does hope that they will be able to return to what was done before in the future.

"Hopefully next year, we'll be able to kind of have a better system figured out for doing the regular food drive program again, assuming that everything is good and well by then," she said.

Because the program is giving gift cards this year their biggest need is monetary donations, which for this year are accepted until Dec. 10. However, donations made after that date will still be accepted and will go towards next year's hamper drive. Requests for hampers also need to be made by Dec. 10.

Innes encourages residents who can donate to help out others in their communities.

"It's been through all of the donations of everyone who donated in the past that the program has even been able to run. So, all the businesses, the families helping out other families is really what keeps the program moving and is the reason why we're even able to move forward and why we're able to help that many people," said Innes.

Donations can be made online to <https://www.abundantlifelutheran.ca/> or by mail to 3486 Raleigh St., East St. Paul, R2E 1B9 with cheques payable to the Abundant Life Lutheran Church and note that it is for the hamper program.

People in need of a hamper can sign up by contacting the hamper line at 431-866-8366.

WSP author publishes contemporary romance Christmas novella

Local young adult fantasy and dystopian author published her 12th book this year

By Sydney Lockhart

Jennifer Kushnier a local writer who goes by the pen name Scarlett Kol recently published a Christmas novella as the latest addition to her published works. This is the twelfth book she has published since she started sharing her work in 2018.

"When my son was a baby, he was a really lousy sleeper. And so, I used to come up with these stories and stuff in the middle of the night and after having a kid, after going through school, I just really wanted to find something that was me again," she said.

Kushnier said one of her inspirations to start writing and publishing was Stephenie Meyer, author of the Twilight series. She said she is around the same age as Meyer and made her realize it was reasonable for her to write young adult novels.

"As a kid, I believed that the treasures in my mother's jewellery box were magic amulets that would give me immeasurable power and that old books could transport me to secret worlds. As an adult, not much has changed," reads her website.

Kushnier's recently published Christmas novella The Mistletoe Mistake is one of her few pieces that is a young adult contemporary romance instead of a fantasy or dystopian novel. The novella tells the story of a woman named Holly Brighton who is a writer for a local advice column and her story of trying to save her job from being wiped out by a big corporation news executive who is in town.

"It's cute and fun," said Kushnier, "I love Hallmark movies."

She said her main love of writing has stayed in the young adult category even when she tries to start writing an adult series.

"This summer I had a really good idea for an adult contemporary series, and I pitched it to a bunch of my friends. I sat down and tried to outline it and I stopped outlining it because I came up with this idea for a YA contemporary," she said.

The pen name Scarlett Kol was picked because she didn't want her children to have to be associated with her books if they didn't want to be when they grew up, she also wanted to have her own name to brand herself with.

"It's kind of like me amplified, it's like Superman and Clark Kent kind of thing," she said.

While Kushnier isn't a full-time author yet, she said she hopes one day she can make that a reality.

"I would love to at least maybe retire early or go to part-time or something until I can see if I could make it full time. But I'm also a little too accustomed in my life to be a struggling artist at this point," she said.

For more information on Jennifer Kushnier and her books and to find out where to purchase go to <http://scarlettkol.com> or look her up on social media under the name Scarlett Kol.

Winter St. Andrews Lock and Dam update

By Katelyn Boulanger

On Nov. 24, Public Services and Procurement Canada (PSPC) held another stakeholder meeting to let residents know what has been going on with the St. Andrews Lock and Dam bridge deck replacement project and what they have planned for the project for the next few months.

"Our goal today is to make sure you have an updated knowledge regarding the ongoing project construction works and that your concerns and comments are heard, recorded and addressed," said Stephen Chiasson, Project Manager for Associated Engineering.

The discussion then moved to what has been happening with the project since the last stakeholders meeting in July of this year.

"Before we get into the details of the activities that occurred since our last meeting in July, I wish to provide you with some updates and what has changed since that last meeting. First of all, as requested by the contractor, we have allowed for the construction of a temporary sidewalk off the south side of the bridge. This has allowed the contractor to carry out demolition and future concrete finishing with larger equipment. That has now been put into use but that wasn't part of our last briefing. Next, the contractor has been able to address the safety to allow Melody Lane to remain open for the North Lane construction. The project intent was always to minimize the closures," Mark Schneider, Project Manager for PSPC.

He went on to say that the railings from the bridge are being donated to the RM as they are being removed so that they can be used in future projects and also mentioned the two sets of historical human remains that were found and which required work to stop temporarily while the RCMP were called.

"[The] remains were determined to be [a] historical Indigenous burial and Peguis First Nations was contacted and performed a ceremony. The remains were recovered and are undergoing further testing before being reburied. But, after the finding of the human remains, discussions with the province, the Manitoba Métis Federation, and Peguis First Nation, revealed to us that the Lockport area is of high heritage value and ground-disturbing work as a high likelihood of [historical] finds," said Schneider.

He said that because of this the federal government has hired an archaeologist who has pulled a heritage permit from the province and is undertaking further testing and monitoring of the ground-disturbing work that is being undertaken.

"Because of all of those investigations, the wheelchair ramps as part of the north sidewalk access are being delayed until next summer," said Schneider.

There will be stair access when the north lane and new sidewalk are open, however.

In addition to the remains that were found, there have also been 3000 or so historical artifacts discovered including a fragment of a large mammal long bone which was cut and modified and likely used as a stamp tool for pre-European contact pottery, seed beads which were discovered with one of the sets of remains, pre-contact lithic tools such as arrow points and knives, and pre-contact pottery rim shards from various eras including the now oldest pottery found in Manitoba estimated to be from 1500 to 2000 years ago.

The conversation then turned to the anticipated construction work that they hope to complete in the next three months and Nicholas Withoos, Project Manager for MD Steele Construction took over the discussion.

He said in the next three months they will continue with the installation of the sidewalk on the north side of the west approach, the installation of a crane that will be used to bring materials, structural steel, and precast panels throughout the bridge structure, and the pouring of the new deck and sidewalk.

"The biggest component or one of the big components there while the dam is out of operation is the bridge jacking procedure," said Withoos.

This will require a series of temporary closures of the bridge during nighttime hours to replace bearings.

He then discussed how snow removal would take place.

"Snow management for coming up this winter. We are responsible for clearing the bridge and the main roadways of highway 44 leading up to the bridge," said Withoos.

A map, which was part of the presentation, showed the boundaries for snow removal which are about from Skinners, across the bridge, and to just past the Highway 204 intersection.

"During this timeframe, depending on the severity of the [storm] events, we'll have to shut the bridge down do the snow removal and then reopen. We're anticipating anywhere from 15 to 30 minutes shutdown periods. There'll be blocking signage up as that procedure is going on," said Withoos.

The final few minutes of the meeting were taken up by a question and answer period where residents were able to both get and give information to project leaders.

The issue of spring flooding potentially temporarily closing the Selkirk bridge, like has happened in previous years, and if anything could be done to aid traffic flow in that potential situation. Representatives said they didn't have any news on that potential situation right now but they would consider it.

A question was also asked about how residents would inform people of potential problems like snow removal issues. Residents were advised that they should email Biensimmobiliers.RealProperty@tpsgc-pwgsc.gc.ca with general concerns.

For more information about this project, visit the St. Andrews Lock and Dam website at <https://www.tpsgc-pwgsc.gc.ca/biens-property/pdb-bdd/standrews-eng.html>.

St. Clements Anglican Church celebrates 160

By Katelyn Boulanger

St. Clements church celebrated the 160th anniversary of its first service in our community on Dec. 1st. The church, which has a rich history in our community, acknowledged the milestone and has high hopes for the future.

"A meeting was held to decide to build a church and the [people at that time] decided that they would ask for gifts of money from the residents of the area, who all gave money to build the church. In 1857, they hired a stonemason and carpenter by the name of Samuel Taylor," said Lorraine West, Rectors Warden, St. Clements Anglican Church

Taylor was a fairly famous stonemason in the area and built or helped build many structures from that time. He is also buried in the church's cemetery.

The church was officially opened in 1861 by the Lord Bishop of Rupert'sland and Archdeacon James Hunter.

It was later in 1862 that the church received the bell that it still uses today. The bell, which is called the John West Bell, was originally brought over to North America in 1822 by reverend John West and hung in St. John's Anglican Cathedral in Winnipeg. When they made the decision to upgrade their bell to three bells they gave the John West Bell to St. Clements Anglican Church. It's the oldest bell owned by the Anglican Church in western Canada.

The bell tower was a later addition to the church being finished in 1928 because of delays caused by the First World War.

"That service was held and over 225 people came to church that day," said West.

Though the church has lived through many historical events in our region, West and Archdeacon Godfrey Mawejje say that the most important events for the church have been the important events that happen in the lives of the families who worship there.

"There have been families that have been baptized [as] children there.

They were married there. They were buried there. They went to church there. There are lots of long time families," said West.

Mawejje added, "The 160 years we are celebrating is the building. But, the mission had been going on, years before the building was constructed. And also, while we have had to close for physical worship services during COVID, that church never stopped."

The church would have liked to host a celebration event for its 160th anniversary, however, because COVID-19 restrictions would make that difficult at this time they are asking residents to share their memories about the church by emailing 500 words or fewer length stories to stclementsanglicanchurch@gmail.com. The stories will then be featured on the church's website to read and enjoy.

Looking at the church now they are still hosting services in person but have also added a digital option for residents who prefer to stay at home. They are still planning to celebrate their 160th anniversary when it is safe to do so.

They are also planning to spread some cheer this holiday season like they did last year by playing Christmas carols from the bell tower. The fun starts Dec. 15 daily from 2 to 8 p.m. throughout the holiday season.

RECORD PHOTOS SUBMITTED

Mawejje says that the church has lasted so long in the community because of the benefits that coming together brings for people.

"They have found something that nurtures their souls [and] which nurtures their spirit. They find it a nurturing, caring, and loving community. They have kept coming until now and they will keep coming. St. Clements is a place that will continue to nurture people and meet people's needs, spiritual needs, and other needs," he said

RCMP reminder for snowmobile safety

Tips to keep your the fun going all winter long

Submitted by Manitoba RCMP

Every winter, RCMP officers are called to scenes where snowmobilers have been badly injured or have lost their lives. This past month alone, two lives have already been lost on snowmobiles in Manitoba. In 2020, eight Manitobans died in snowmobile collisions.

The RCMP wants everyone to ride safe while enjoying the outdoors so they make it home safely to their families:

- Know your abilities and ride within your limits. This will allow you to always be in control of your snowmobile.
- Always check the weather conditions before you leave.
- Always ride in groups and let people know where you're going, the route you will be taking, and when you expect to return.
- Always wear protective clothing, including a helmet, gloves, and eye protection. Wear layers of clothing to keep warm and dry.
- When possible, avoid crossing bodies of water. If you are crossing bodies of water, be cautious of ice thickness, never ride in single file, and wear a life jacket over your outer clothing.
- Ride sober. Don't drink or consume drugs before or while snowmobiling.

Additionally, when operating a snowmobile or off-road vehicle on public land (ditches, Crown Land, roads, groomed snowmobile trails, etc.) please remember that the following laws apply:

- It must be registered;
- Must be at least 14 years of age to operate without supervision;
- 12-13 year olds must only operate under the direct supervision (within direct sight) of a parent;
- Must be at least 16 years of age and possess a valid driver's license in order to operate across a roadway or shoulder;
- Must not operate with more passengers than it is designed to carry;
- Everyone riding must wear an approved helmet, unless:
 1. The ORV is equipped with occupant roll-over protection and seat belts, and the seat belts are being used, or
 2. The ORV is being used for farming, commercial fishing, hunting or trapping operations;
- Must not operate on roadway or shoulder (see Section 34 of the Off-Road Vehicle Act for exceptions for agricultural purposes)
- May only cross a roadway or shoulder at an intersection or designated crossing such as a snowmobile trail crossing, and must hold a valid driver's license (see Section 35 of the Off-Road Vehicle Act);

- Must not carry open liquor or cannabis;
 - Must operate in a safe and prudent manner;
 - Must have headlights and tail lights on from 30 minutes prior to sunset until 30 minutes after sunrise.
- When operating on private land (yards, farm land, pasture land, etc.):
- Ensure you have permission of the land owner;
 - While some provincial laws such as the Off-Road Vehicle Act do not apply to private property, the Criminal Code of Canada does. Therefore, operating an ORV while impaired or with a blood alcohol concentration or blood drug concentration over the legal limit is a criminal offence, as is operating an ORV in a dangerous manner.

"In the past five years, Manitoba RCMP have responded to 23 fatal snowmobile collisions where 65% involved alcohol and/or drugs," said Staff Sergeant Kyle McFadyen of Selkirk RCMP. "In 15 of the 23 fatal collisions, the operator was found to be driving too fast and either lost control or struck an object. Of those killed in collisions, eight were not wearing a helmet. All of these deaths could have been prevented."

RCMP respond to fatal snowmobile collision

Submitted by Manitoba RCMP

Selkirk RCMP responded to a report of a snowmobile rollover that occurred off of Goodman Drive, near Highway 59, in the RM of St Clements on Nov. 18.

Officers spoke with a witness travelling south on Highway 59, who stated that at approximately 9:40 p.m., she observed a snowmobile travelling at a high rate of speed while crossing over Goodman Drive. The snowmobile was seen going into the air, where the driver lost control and rolled. The witness turned around, returned to the scene and located the driver, a 48-year-old male from the RM of St Clements, in medical distress and called 911.

The driver of the snowmobile, who was wearing a helmet at the time of the collision, was taken to hospital in serious condition, where on Nov. 22, he succumbed to his injuries.

Speed is believed to be a factor in the collision.

The investigation continues.

New vehicle will help them bring their programming throughout the province

By Sydney Lockhart

The Manitoba Wheelchair Sport Association received a new Toyota vehicle including physical accessibility through the Toyota Canada Cars For Good program.

Peter Tonge, Executive Director of Manitoba Wheelchair Sports Association (MWSA) said the vehicle donation was very needed as the van they were using to get to their programming in high schools was a 1985 van that didn't have much life left in it.

"We were actually saving and fundraising to try and buy our own van and then this opportunity came forward. So, this is a real bonus," said Tonge.

The MWSA travels around the province with their van and trailer full of sport wheelchairs that they bring into schools so students who don't have a disability can play sports with their counterparts that do, while learning about different wheelchair sports.

"The biggest thing is it allows us to deal with so many more people all across the province right now. What we do completely throughout the province, we can do it safely, we can move equipment safely. It just really allows us to expand our program and do even more than we have already," he said.

The MWSA delivers sport services and programs to hundreds of people of all ages on top of their high school programs.

This year Toyota donated to three separate organizations from across Canada, the other two were Power To Be in Victoria, BC and The Kamloops and District Society for People in Motion. The recipients were decided through an application and judging process.

"As Toyota moves toward becoming a global mobility company, we are proud to support the work being done by so many local Canadian organizations to break down the barriers to movement and foster a more inclusive society for people in their communities," said Cyril Dimitris, Vice President, Sales and Marketing for Toyota Canada, "Today, we are recognizing the work of six of these Canadian organizations by providing them with either a new Toyota vehicle or a financial contribution."

Nine years ago Bradley Hebert, of Bonded Health and Mobility Services on Manitoba Ave in Selkirk, had one of his physical therapists recommend wheelchair rugby to him as Hebert had become a quadriplegic after he was in a bad gravel truck accident in 1995.

"I had never pushed a manual chair at this point. So, it was quite interesting. I transferred over and we taped some rubber on my hands so that I could push the wheels and I made it halfway down the gym floor. And I was so out of breath that it was I thought I was going to die," said 57-year-old Hebert.

But, despite the initial struggle Hebert continued trying and has been playing on Manitoba's team ever since.

"The camaraderie and everything else that I encountered was amazing. Like I learned more about being a quadriplegic and how to live life from these gentlemen on the board playing wheelchair rugby than I did in the first 17 years of my injury," he said.

The game itself was invented in Winnipeg in the 70s by a man who is now referred to as the "quad-father" by the players of the sport.

"A lot of times, unfortunately, people that end up in wheelchairs don't have much funding or are having limited funding and being on a team sport like this, it gives you the sense of worth that you're looking for when you're a quadriplegic because when you get hurt, everything changes in your life," he said.

Hebert said donations like Toyota's are important because through organizations like the MWSA people's lives are changed.

No cases of omicron variant in Manitoba yet: officials

by Staff

The first cases of the new variant of COVID-19 have been identified in Canada, but Monday's COVID-19 bulletin from the provincial government noted no cases have been detected here yet.

Two cases of the omicron COVID-19 variant, which has been declared the fifth variant of concern by the World Health Organization, were announced in Ontario over the weekend.

The variant was first found in South Africa but has since popped up in other parts of the world, prompting many countries, including Canada, to issue travel bans for certain regions.

Scientists are still doing research to determine how dangerous omicron might be, including whether it is more transmissible, causes more severe illness, or may have an impact on vaccine efficacy.

"Vaccine still provides one of the best defences against COVID-19," the province stressed in its release, noting it will continue "to monitor the situation and work with federal officials in the fight against COVID-19 and its variants."

In the meantime, Manitoba reported 11 new deaths due to COVID-19 on Monday and 495 new cases of the virus since the previous Thursday. A total of 1,315 Manitobans have died due to COVID-19 since the pandemic began.

Southern Health once again leads the way in new cases with 216, followed by Winnipeg with 148, 52 in Prairie Mountain, 50 in the Northern health region, and 29 in Interlake-Eastern.

Manitoba's active caseload is at 1,493, with 142 people in hospital with COVID-19.

Chief provincial public health officer Dr. Brent Roussin expressed his concern over the rising case counts and high test positivity rates in Southern Health at a press conference last week.

"It's certainly a level of concern right now when you see a test positivity at that level," he said. The last official update from the province had test positivity in the region at over 14 per cent, though there have been media reports putting it at closer to 17 per cent last week.

Roussin wouldn't rule out additional regional restrictions if these numbers continue.

"It's certainly a level of concern right now when you see a test positivity at that level, so I wouldn't say I'm confident that no further restrictions won't be required."

In the Interlake-Eastern region, Arborg/Riverton 13, Beausejour 5, Eriksdale/Ashern 5, Fisher/Peguis 5, Gimli 1, Northern Remote 5, Pinawa/Lacdubonnet 1, Powerview/Pine Falls 1, Selkirk 6, Springfield 23, St. Clements, 13, St. Laurent 3, Stonewall/Teulon 8, Unknown District 2, Winnipeg Beach/St. Andrews 7 and zero in Whiteshell.

Federal throne speech full of recycled promises: Bergen

Opposition says there's no plan to curb inflation or fix supply chain issues

By Ashleigh Viveiros

The Liberal federal government's speech from the throne in Parliament didn't illicit much confidence from Portage-Lisgar MP Candice Bergen last week.

Bergen, who is also the Conservative Deputy Leader, voiced her concerns about what the 44th parliamentary session will accomplish in the weeks ahead.

"After waiting over two months to bring Parliament back following the federal election, Justin Trudeau has returned with the same recycled promises as before with no plan to curb inflation, fix supply chain issues and make life affordable for Canadian families," Bergen said. "As a Western-Canadian MP, I'm nervous about the blatant neglect of the agricultural sector and the doubling-down of Justin Trudeau's attack on our energy workers."

"In Portage-Lisgar, businesses are continuing to experience staffing shortages, farmers are still being hit with the carbon tax, and the cost of everyday items are skyrocketing," she continued. "Instead of focusing on these important issues, Justin Trudeau is more interested in focusing on issues that divide Canadians."

Premier Trudeau stressed in a released statement that the fall election gave the Liberals "a clear direction to work together to put the COVID-19 crisis behind us and find the real solutions needed to build a better future for all Canadians."

"The Government of Canada has listened to Canadians, and we are ready to finish the fight against COVID-19, take strong climate action, make life more affordable, walk the shared path of reconciliation, put home ownership back in reach, create jobs, and grow the middle class."

Getting the pandemic under control is the first step, Trudeau noted, stressing the importance of vaccination.

"The government will better support all Canadians by taking action to clear the backlog of delayed procedures caused by COVID-19, strengthening long-term care, and improving access to mental health and addiction treatment," he said. "We will keep Canadians safe and healthy now and into the future."

Bergen noted the Conservatives will be holding the Liberals to account in this session, in addition to "presenting solutions to the inflation crisis, labour shortages and skyrocketing deficits. Conservatives will be focused on a recovery that champions jobs, the economy and Canadian energy."

"Conservatives have a positive vision that will unify our country and put Canadians first," Bergen said. "I look forward to the new session of Parliament and being the voice of the people of Portage-Lisgar, in Ottawa."

Throne speech misses the mark on affordability: NDP

NDP's alternative throne speech called for an independent, expert-led inquiry into Manitoba's pandemic response

By Ashleigh Viveiros

Official Opposition Leader Wab Kinew of the NDP says last week's Throne Speech from the Conservatives missed the marks on a number of fronts.

"The big thing that stood out to me, that was very notable with its absence, was there was no mention in the throne speech about affordability, inflation, the rising cost of living," Kinew said a few hours after Premier Heather Stefanson's government laid out its plans for the Legislative session.

"To me, this is something that's causing so many people pain and stress right now, the fact your groceries are going up, the hydro bill's going up, the price at the pump's going up—everything seems to be getting more expensive and yet the government didn't even mention it."

"To me, Manitobans need some help there and I think they would be reasonable to expect that the government would have at least some ideas for how we could make life more affordable in Manitoba given everything that's going on with inflation rates."

A week before the government's throne speech the NDP released their own alternative throne speech calling for an independent, expert-led inquiry into Manitoba's pandemic response.

Kinew was disappointed the government didn't officially commit to such an investigation.

"To me, it's the responsible thing to do after such a big, disruptive experience like the pandemic. We should just take a bit of time and ask what worked, what didn't, what do we have to do now."

"One of the areas that we want to look at in there is seniors care, personal care homes,"

Kinew continued, noting the throne speech raised this matter as well but in a way that didn't sit well with he and other government critics.

"THERE WAS NO MENTION IN THE THRONE SPEECH ABOUT AFFORDABILITY, INFLATION, THE RISING COST OF LIVING."

Vandor Denture Centre's 'No-Gag' impression technique really works

By Elisha Vandor

Making dentures is painless, so it should be a no brainer when it's time to get new. However, there's one thing that stops people from wanting to start the process...involuntary gagging.

If you consider yourself a regular or extreme gagger, then going for the initial impression appointment is a real concern for you. The one person who understands this the most is Brock, the Denturist. He says, "As for me, I hated gagging my patients. If they gagged, they would feel bad, then I would feel bad, so I had to make a better way. After combining different techniques, experimenting with some ratios, and using a funny looking tiny tool, I came up with what has been nicknamed the "No-Gag" technique. Essentially, it uses much less goop and also prevents the goop that remains from going into the gag zone. I am happy to say that patients love it! They are so relieved to have not gagged and are amazed at how fast it was, which makes me smile every time. It's actually now been years since I have developed the "No-Gag" technique and am happy to say that every single day, myself and our Denturists get to hear how patients love it! Actually, Ruth was here not too long ago and had to share her story.

"The impression appointment was amazing. There was no discomfort whatsoever. There was no gagging reflex. Nothing! In fact, I would do it again. It was very quick and it wasn't like anything I've had done before and I've had lots of impressions. For me, the impression appointment was usually gaggy. This is amazing. It's a great procedure."

We asked 10 patients about their experience after impressions and a resounding 10 out of 10 agreed: a much more comfortable and 'no-gag' experience.

The tool is all about making great fitting dentures in the most comfortable way possible! To keep your dentures fitting and functioning great, it's recommended to replace your dentures every 7-10 years. You can read other patients comments on our website: www.vandordenturecentre.com/blog.

Helping people is our passion and this technique is just one way to make your experience one to smile about. Call today for your free consultation.

Denturist's wife Elisha holds the inventive tiny tool that's making a big difference when starting new dentures.

8 healthy habits to help you through the holiday season

Have your cake and carrots too

Family, Friends and Food bring everyone together during the holiday season.

Grandma's cookies, holiday lattes and those holiday-coloured candies seem to be around every corner.

Some treats are just too hard to avoid. For some, just a tiny bit of sugar turns on that sweet tooth and we are unable to turn it off. When healthy habits are in place, it's like giving your willpower a little supercharge, making it easier to avoid overindulging this holiday season. Here are a few healthy habits to help you through this holiday season.

1. Don't skip meals. Skipping meals to save the calories for the holiday feast tends to backfire and lead us into overindulging due to ravenous hunger. Skipping meals causes our blood sugars to fall, leaving us urgently reaching for the first thing we see. Eating every 2-3 hours will balance those blood sugars helping you navigate the array of tempting treats.

2. Contribute a healthy dish. Bringing your own healthy dish to an event will ensure a healthy option to snack on.

3. Hydrate, Hydrate, Hydrate. Thirst is often mistaken for hunger. By drinking half our body weight in ounces a day (Approx. 8-10 glasses), we ensure that we are hydrated and can prevent overeating.

4. Choose your drinks wisely. Holiday drinks including alcohol are just empty calories and inhibit our decision making. Stick to calorie-free drinks such as water, tea, ciders or seltzers. If you do choose to indulge in an alcoholic beverage, make sure to alternate each drink with a glass of water.

5. Eat until you are satisfied, not until you are stuffed. No one enjoys that icky stuffed feeling where it's a struggle to get up off the couch. Don't overfill your plate and wait at least 15 minutes before you go up for seconds, remember, leftovers are not a bad thing!

6. Don't feel guilty. If you do overindulge, don't beat yourself up. Just make sure your next meal is healthy and don't make overindulgence a habit.

7. Get your zzzz's. Our concentration, focus, productivity and our ability to make good decisions are impacted by the amount of sleep we get. For optimal brain function, we need 7-8 hours of sleep a night.

8. Find your recharge station. Just like our cell phones, our batteries

METRO CREATIVE

Healthy routines can be hard to keep with all the temptations of the holiday season but implementing a few habits can help keep you on track.

need to be charged. When we are operating from a full charge, we are able to make better decisions and respond to life rather than react. Your recharge station might be watching your favourite show, it might be doing a craft or reading a novel that you get lost in. Carve out some time each day to recharge.

Food has the power to bring everyone together and the holiday's come but once a year, so enjoy yourself. Family, friends and delicious food is what makes this time of year special. Remember, keep looking forward and bring only the healthy habits into the new year with you. Happy Holidays!

Selkirk issues vaccination policy

Employees will have to be vaccinated or regularly tested for safety of others

Submitted by City of Selkirk

Beginning Dec. 22, all City of Selkirk employees must either be fully immunized against COVID-19 or undergo regular testing to minimize the risk of impacts to safety for staff and members of the public.

The city's COVID-19 vaccination policy was approved Nov. 10 and all employees are required to be fully immunized within six weeks of the approval date. Employees who are not fully vaccinated will have to submit documented proof of negative COVID-19 Rapid Antigen Test results on a regular, ongoing basis.

Selkirk CAO Duane Nicol says that the City of Selkirk has implemented a vaccination policy because protecting staff and members of the public against COVID-19 is of the utmost importance.

"As an employer, we have a responsibility to provide a safe workplace. We believe this is a necessary and reasonable precaution. We want all employees going home in the same or better condition than they arrived each day. On top of that, the services city employees provide are critical. Water and wastewater treatment and snow removal are all examples of critical services that require a healthy municipal workforce. Business continuity is also a top concern," said Nicol.

Nicol points to Merritt BC, who after their wastewater treatment plant was flooded, had to evacuate the entire city due to the health concerns related to backed up sewage.

"We run two sophisticated treatment facilities, both of which require expert staff to run. We have four people who can run our plant. An outbreak within that team could mean we can't provide treated water or wastewater. If either of those services are interrupted – the consequences could be catastrophic."

Employees who choose not to be vaccinated or disclose their vaccination status will be responsible to cover the potential costs of their rapid antigen testing, which for full-time employees, will be required three times a week.

Nicol says this additional measure is just an extension of the city's existing practice of having employees self-assess their fitness for the workplace prior to attending.

"Employees have been doing a great job of self-assessing and not coming to work if they have been potentially exposed or are exhibiting symptoms. These tests are quick and not as strenuous as the tests conducted by health officials. It's just an additional tool people can use to mitigate the additional risk which is a consequence of not being vaccinated. It's a reasonable step to take to help keep your co-workers, and through them their families, protected," said Nicol.

Any employee who tests positive for COVID-19 will be required to adhere to the city's pandemic response policy and guidance provided by Manitoba Shared Health.

If in the future Health Canada requires additional measures to fulfil its definition of fully vaccinated, including but not limited to booster shots, employees will be expected to comply with the additional measures to be considered fully immunized.

Selkirk stopped in a provincial final thriller by Steinbach

By Brian Bowman

The MHSAA "AAAA" junior varsity girls' volleyball championship was decided by just two points in the fifth set on Saturday evening at Maples Collegiate.

Unfortunately, the Selkirk Royals were on the losing end of that fantastic match between two very talented teams.

The Steinbach Regional Sabres defeated Selkirk 3-2 by scores of 25-22, 24-26, 24-26, 25-21, and 15-13.

"I think, the weekend overall, we were playing some of the best volleyball that we have played all season," said Royals' head coach Maddi Minarik, adding everyone contributed to their team's success at provincials.

"Starting with our KPAC win, that was the best that I had seen them play and we rode on that momentum in our quarter-finals and semifinals."

The Royals reached the final after defeating the Oak Park Raiders 3-0 (26-24, 25-20, 25-22) in a semifinal match.

"Our big success in that game was our third set," Minarik said. "We were losing 14-22 and we ended up winning 25-22. We went on a 11-point streak."

Rebecca Trudeau did a fantastic job serving for the Royals as Selkirks scored the 11 unanswered points.

Selkirk started the provincials with an impressive 3-0 sweep over the Sturgeon Heights Huskies on Friday. The Royals won by scores of 25-16, 25-17, and 25-17.

"We played super clean volleyball," Minarik said. "We didn't make a lot of mistakes. We knew what we needed to do and the girls executed perfectly."

Despite the tough loss in the final, the Selkirk players gained a ton of experience playing for a provincial title. It will only help them as they move up to varsity next season.

"Now they know what it's like to be in a final," Minarik said. "They know how hard it is to get there and they know how special it is to be there and I do believe that they are going to be so hungry for that win in the next two years at varsity."

Minarik thought it was incredible that the Royals won the KPAC championship and then reached the provincial final this season.

"I am so incredibly proud of this group of girls," she said. "They were extremely resilient and they are extremely hard working and they gave every single thing that they had this

2022 Kingfisher Walleye Tournament begins next month

By Brian Bowman

A very unique series of ice-fishing tournaments will be held in the Inter-lake beginning next month.

The 2022 Kingfisher Walleye Tournament will consist of four tournaments to take place in four different locations.

"It's a big tournament, it's huge," said tournament director John Wheeler. "This allows you to have the bragging rights of being the champion of the champions. It's plain and simple, you are the best."

The first event will take place in Petersfield on Jan. 22, followed by one in Matlock on Feb. 5, Gimli on Feb. 19, and Powerview/Pine Falls March 5.

Cost to enter the tournament is $100 which gives an angler a hole to fish out of. If that same angler wants an additional hole, the cost is $50. There will be $80,000 in prize money spread over the four preliminaries and the grand finale.

The top 100 participants from each preliminary will have the right to advance to the grand finale, which will take place in Hecla on March 19. If individuals finish in the top 100 at more than one event, they have the ability to transfer a ticket or tickets to other people.

The winner from the Hecla tournament will have their name on a beautiful six-foot chainsaw-carved walleye which will be placed on permanent display.

This the first year, of what organizers hope, will be an annual event. Last year's event was iced due to COVID.

Registration for the tournament closes at 8 a.m. on Jan. 21. Each preliminary is limited to 400.

Proceeds from the tournament will go towards the renovation of the St. Amant Stabilization Unit, which will help countless families who are at immediate risk and near total-family breakdown. With the public's help, more families will have access to immediate stabilization care.

The current list of Kingfisher Walleye Tournament personnel includes Danielle Gagnon (Facebook and website), Gary Roy (advertising and interviews), and Chris Caslake (promotions),

Any questions can be directed to Wheeler by phone at 807-323-2767 or at info.ticktockfish@gmail.com.

From the MJHL

The Manitoba Junior Hockey League is pleased to host the 2021 MJHL Futures Camp on Dec. 27-28 in Niverville.

This event is intended to be an initial introduction to the MJHL brand and sanctioned high-performance hockey for potential U15 (2007-born) junior prospects.

"The MJHL is committed to building lasting relationships with the young talent in this province, this a great ice-breaker event for players to get a taste of what high-performance camps entail," said Kyle Prystupa, MJHL Manager of Programming & Communications.

The camp will be professionally operated by the MJHL to provide meaningful insight and preparation for future high-performance events in our province such as U16 Program of Excellence camps, MJHL U16 Draft Prospect Camp, MJHL U17 Draft Combine and more. This event will also see MJHL and Western Hockey League scouting personnel attending to evaluate the 80 invited players to compete.

MJHL Futures Camp includes:

- 1 Hybrid skills competition and combine testing session (skaters)
- 1 Goalie Mentorship session (goalies)
- 3 Exhibition games (round-robin)

Enhanced high-performance exposure

Invited players were identified through preliminary recommendations from the local MJHL and WHL scouting network. The full camp schedule and assigned rosters will be announced in December as all plans become solidified.

Royals ousted from varsity volleyball provincials

By Brian Bowman

The Selkirk Royals made a quick exit at the Boston Pizza "AAAA" varsity provincial volleyball championships last Friday.

The No. 8-ranked Westwood Warriors defeated No. 9 Selkirk 3-1 (19-25, 25-15, 25-13, 25-21) in girls' action.

"We were prepared for the match but we didn't execute," said Royals' coach Chad Whiteside. "We had a very specific game plan against Westwood and that game plan would have limited Westwood's attack but, unfortunately, we had some errors on our side of the net."

With that victory, Westwood advanced to play the top-ranked Vincent Massey Trojans on Saturday evening. The Trojans won 3-0 to advance to the semifinals on Saturday morning at Sturgeon Heights Collegiate.

As for the Royals, Selkirk will lose six players - Sarah Boitson, Rylyn Carey, Lesly Chaboyer, Cassidy Drummond, Lenae Peebles, and Alexis Vermeulen - due to graduation.

"The Grade 12s were important players for us this year and they will definitely be missed," Whiteside said. "In a lot of ways, they were the emotional leaders on the team and they also did a very good job welcoming the Grade 10s."

"We're well positioned for next year and we have some key returning players."

Whiteside was very grateful for the players having the opportunity to get on the court after a lengthy absence due to COVID.

"To see these young athletes play the sport that they love is something I'll never forget as a coach," he said.

In boys' action on Friday, No. 9-ranked Selkirk was defeated 3-0 (15-25, 22-25, 18-25) by the No. 8-ranked Glenlawn Lions.

"I don't think we were completely off our game but we weren't playing at our peak, either," said Royals' head coach Jeff Scarcello. "It was a bit of us and a bit of them."

The three-point loss in the second set was a tough one for Selkirk.

"We were leading most of the way in that one and that kind of put the nail in the coffin and we came out in the third set flat," Scarcello recalled.

Glenlawn then lost 3-1 to the top-seeded Westgate Wings on Saturday.

The 3-0 loss was a disappointing way to end the Royals' season.

"It would have been great to get to that next round and it would have been a challenge against the No. 1 seed," Scarcello said, noting the Royals improved a lot over the course of the season. "It would have been nice to win one and get that experience. (Our players) are mostly Grade 11s and, at different times of the year, we struggled but winning KPAC was huge for us and getting to provincials was great."

"Overall, it was a great season and we're very happy with how things went."

The Royals expect to be in good shape next season as the team loses just two players - Keenan Allen and Andrew Wiebe - due to graduation.

"This group has been together for a real long time," Scarcello said. "They've been working together since Grade 7 and I started with them in Grade 8, so it's been a privilege to watch these guys grow and mature. I'm looking forward to that last year and see what we can do."

Steelers score eight in home win over Virden

By Brian Bowman

For the first time this season, the Selkirk Steelers scored eight goals in a hockey game.

The result was an 8-5 home victory over the Virden Oil Capitals in Manitoba Junior Hockey League action on Friday.

Selkirk, which built period leads of 4-1 and 6-3, saw Tristan Thompson net a hat trick while Quinton Hill scored twice and added three assists.

Hill was named an MJHL Star of the Week on Monday after collecting seven points (three goals, four assists) in four games.

Mathew Gerke, Dante Ballarin, and Sheldon Howard each had a goal and an assist.

Jordan Hughesman and Ryan Ostermann had two assists apiece in the game.

Branden Huminuk (two), Dylan Halliday, Braden Fischer, and Tyler Thondal tallied for Virden.

Hunter Tarves made 16 saves for the win.

The Steelers were 4-for-5 on the power play while the Oil Capitals finished 2-for-7.

The two teams hooked up again Saturday, with Selkirk's offence drying up in a 4-0 road loss.

Halliday paced Virden with two goals while Colin Cook and Parker Johnson also tallied.

On Nov. 23, the Steelers lost 4-2 to the Swan Valley Stampede at Stride Place in Portage la Prairie as part of the MJHL Showcase.

Ostermann and Keagen Abbott scored for Selkirk.

Brad Fortin, Quinn Mulder, Carter Cockburn, and Jacob Paler-Chow replied for Swan Valley. Paler-Chow's goal was into an empty net at 18:43 of the third period with Steelers' goaltender Cole Plowman pulled for an extra attacker.

Jones off to the Olympics

By Ty Dilello

St. Vital's Jennifer Jones will be returning to the Olympics as Team Canada after her team defeated East St. Paul's Tracy Fleury in the finals of the Canadian Olympic Curling Trials on Sunday afternoon.

In a back-and-forth game, Jones actually missed an open hit to win the game in the 10th end. But then in the extra end, Fleury also missed a chance to win the game when a last rock hit overcurled and wrecked on a guard.

"We thought we had lost in the tenth for sure. Jen makes that 99 percent of the time that shot, so lucky to go to an extra," said Fleury, who took the blame for her final stone in the extra end that left Team Jones escape with the win.

"It felt close, but it caught the curl," she said. "I wasn't positive enough with it."

For Jennifer Jones, she had already been to the Olympics once in 2014 when they took home the gold medal. She is relishing the chance at getting to compete in one more Olympics before her career is over.

"It was a dream come true to get to do this twice," Jones said of getting back to the Olympics. "It's such a privilege to do it with these girls. We've had our ups and downs and worked our butts off, just to see what we can do on the ice and to support each other. It's just phenomenal."

Gimli's Kerri Einarson had a disappointing week at the Olympic Trials. Seen as possibly the favourite heading into the event after winning the Scotties Tournament of Hearts the past two years, Einarson finished the round robin with a 4-4 record before ultimately being bounced in a tie-breaker by Northern Ontario's Krista McCarville.

In the men's Olympic Trials, Brad Gushue of Newfoundland and Labrador will represent Canada in the Olympics after defeating Brad Jacobs of Northern Ontario in Sunday night's final.

Winnipeg Beach's Colton Lott played third for Saskatchewan's Matt Dunstone during the event and finished with a 3-3 record. Lott will now look forward to competing at the upcoming Mixed Doubles Olympic Trials with his partner and fiancée, Kadriana Sahaidak.

West St. Paul's Mike McEwen finished fourth in the Olympic Trials after going 4-4 and failing to reach the playoffs. Jason Gunnlaugson of the Morris Curling Club also competed and finished out of the playoffs with a 2-6 record.

Jennifer Jones and Brad Gushue will now represent Canada in four-person team competition at the Winter Olympics Games in Beijing, China, from Feb 4-20.

Selkirk cruised to a 12-0 home victory in Capital Region Junior Hockey League action.

Reece Tessier paced the Fishermen with a hat trick and two assists while Jordan Donald had a goal and three assists.

Other Selkirk players with big offensive games included Josh Poponick (four assists), Kasen Andrushko (two goals and an assist), Matt Brooks (goal, two assists), Kyle Folhoffer (goal, two assists), Travis Spratt (goal, two assists), and Braeden Hummel (two goals).

Braeden Wryha scored Selkirk's other goal.

Royals ice six-game losing streak

By Brian Bowman

There were plenty of smiles in the Selkirk Royals' dressing room last Thursday.

Selkirk snapped a dismal six-game losing streak with a great 5-1 victory over the Garden City Fighting Gophers in Winnipeg High School Hockey League action at the Recreation Complex.

"We needed that (win) to get back rolling again," said Royals' head coach Michael Buffie. "The last few games, we've been playing good hockey but we just haven't been able to put the puck into the back of the net. We knew it was going to come and one of these games we were going to put a bunch in and (Thursday) was that game. The guys played well and we dominated that game."

Nathan Burzynski continued his stellar play this season, leading Selkirk with a goal and three assists.

"He's had a great season so far," Buffie said. "He always seems to be in the mix and (he's) putting the puck into the net. He's a catalyst for us and he leads our offence. He's having a really good year and I'm excited for him."

Tanner Skrypnik was also very good for Selkirk with two goals and an assist while Devon Whiteside had a goal and a helper. Andrew Denoon scored Selkirk's other goal. Ashton Henry chipped in with two assists.

Nathan Ens scored a first-period goal for Garden City, beating Royals' goaltender Owen Savoie.

The win was a big one for Selkirk as it gave the Royals 13 points on the season, which tied them with Vincent Massey and Oak Park for sixth place in the 10-team Platinum Promotions Division heading into this week's action.

On Nov. 22, Selkirk was defeated 2-1 by the Vincent Massey Trojans at the Recreation Complex.

Vincent Massey's George Robert Kovall scored in the first period and then the Royals' Andrew Denoon and the Vikings' Kaase Raeburn traded third-period goals.

Burzynski and Ethan Geard assisted on Denoon's goal.

Selkirk hosted the first place St. Paul's I Crusaders this past Monday but no score was available at press time.

Monday's game was going to be a tough test for the Royals.

"They're at the top of the league and they're there for a reason," Buffie said. "They're a fast and aggressive team. But for us, we want to play against the best. They're the measuring stick for us to see where we're at because we know that at the end of the year we want to win a championship and we're probably going to have to go through them."

The Royals will play the Westwood Warriors on Wednesday (4 p.m.) at the Keith Bodley Arena.

CITY OF Selkirk

PUBLIC NOTICE

REGARDING SNOW CLEARING AND REMOVAL

The City of Selkirk wishes to remind residents that vehicles may not be parked on City streets for more than 24 hours at a time. This is especially important during snow removal operations as parked vehicles during this period obstruct the removal of snow from the streets by City staff.

Vehicles parked on City streets during this period are in contravention of the City's Traffic By-law No. 4868 and the Streets By-law No. 3756 and may be ticketed and/or towed at the owner's expense.

In addition, the City wishes to remind residents it is prohibited for any person to pile snow from their property or driveway onto a City street which may injure a person or be a hazard to vehicle traffic.

Residents who wish to remove snow from their property/driveway are responsible for having the snow hauled away. Persons wishing to haul snow from their property may contact the Operations Department to request access to the City's snow disposal site.

Residents are also reminded that placing extension cords upon any sidewalk can interfere with the City's snow removal equipment.

Please take notice that the City of Selkirk Snow Clearing Policy states that private driveways will not be cleared of snow deposited by the City's equipment.

All referenced By-Laws and Policies are available for viewing on the City of Selkirk website at MySelkirk.ca. Please contact CitizenSupport at 204-785-4900 or citizensupport@cityofselkirk.com if you have any questions.

ANNOUNCEMENT

IN MEMORIAM

Gail Lynn Frederick
February 5, 1972 - December 2, 2018
When I am gone, release me, let me go...
I have so many things to see and do,
You mustn't tie yourself to me with tears,
Be happy that we had so many years.
I gave to you my love, you can only guess
How much you gave to me in happiness.
I thank you for the love you each have shown
But now it's time I travelled on alone.
So grieve awhile for me, if grieve you must,
Then let your grief be comforted by trust.
It's only for a while that we part,
So bless the memories within your heart.
I won't be far away, for life goes on;
So if you need me, call and I will come.
Though you can't see me or touch me,
I'll be near,
And if you listen with your heart, you'll hear
All my love around you soft and clear.
And then, when you must come this way alone,
I'll greet you with a smile and say,
"Welcome Home".
-Forever loved, deeply missed,
John and Oz,
Frederick family and Boyce family

OBITUARY

Thomas (Tom) Hemphill

Tom Passed away peacefully in his sleep at 2:40 p.m. on Wednesday, November 24th, 2021 at the Red River Extendicare Home in Selkirk, MB.

Tom was born April 17, 1932 in Drumslade Rd, Coleraine, County London Derry, Northern Ireland.

In 1953, after the death of their parents, Tom and his older brother Jack jumped a boat to Australia but due to a fire they ended up on a boat to Canada. They both got a job at Searle Grain Farm in Selkirk, MB. and at Greys Mink Ranch in Headingly, and Tom moved on to work for Tailleau Construction for 13 years, until he moved to The City of Winnipeg Fort Garry Div. in 1965 as heavy machinery operator, where he was well known for ploughing the roads in his beloved gradar for many years and worked alongside with his longtime friend aka his "Eldest Son" Blair Schapansky (Gloria) until he took a well deserved early retirement in 1993.

Tom and Linda moved out of the city and purchased their cabin at Chesley's Resort in Petersfield, Mb. where they resided for 22 years. Tom enjoyed doing the garbage run in the resort, cleaning the roads and working at the marina until they downsized into Lyons Manor in Selkirk, for the last six years.

Tom was predeceased by his parents: William and Annie (Mullan) Hemphill and his brothers: Robert, Willy, and Jack and sisters Anna, Nelly and Rachel. He was also predeceased by his mother-in-law Elizabeth (Bessie Garrioch) Dell, father-in-law Leonard James Dell and brother-in-law Robert James Dell.

Tom is survived by his beloved sister Jean Listen in England and called her weekly until his passing. He is also survived by his beloved and cherished wife of 59 years Linda (Dell) Hemphill. She is heartbroken over the loss of her sweet Irishman, her one and only love, and will miss him every day until they meet again.

He also leaves to mourn his passing his four children: daughter: Liz (Don) Chopect, grandson: Michael (Michelle) Chopect, great-grandson: Charles Thomas Oliver Chopect, granddaughter: Kim Chopect (Sam Lewis); daughter: Margaret Hemphill and friend (Tom Szo); son: Joe Hemphill (Kathleen Harris), grandchildren: Ashley Hemphill, Dustin Hemphill; Son: Ron and Candace (Hemphill) Harris, grandchildren: Christopher (Lindsey) Banman, Giuliana Di Girolamo (Chase Buhler), and Ryan Harris.

Also survived by his sisters-in-law Sandra Sanderson and Janice Dell (Jim) that he raised since the death of their mother in 1971, his brother Jack's children that he adored: Kelly Hemphill, Kim Seabrook (Dave Hall), Kevin (Linda) Hemphill and numerous nieces, nephews, great-nieces and great-nephews in England and Northern Ireland. Tom was forever grateful for the young Irish boy Peter Cluney from Belfast that helped us find Tom's family in Northern Ireland in the 1970's which Tom and family were able to visit a few times.

Cremation has taken place and a memorial service will take place at a later date.

We would like to thank the staff at Red River Extendicare Home, especially the nurses that took excellent care of Tom. He called us daily with stories of them dressing him in his Irish Green shirts and hats and calling him a sweet Leprechaun and he'd say "I am Irish".

MEET THE TEAM! WEEK 3 - THE JACK OF ALL TRADES, VICTORIA BEAUCHAMP

This young entrepreneur is an artist, a former retail manager & educational assistant & she's even spent some time working on cars - yes she can change a flat tire & perform her own oil changes (in stilettos)! When realizing her passion for goal setting (& goal crushing) was limited in other careers, she found real estate & loved that she could truly have endless possibilities for her future. Victoria started tagging along with Kasey & George over a year ago to learn the ropes. Fun fact: George actually sold Victoria's parents their house 13 years ago! Victoria's knack for visual arts was the perfect fit for the Hacking Team. She is able to honour her creative side while still listing, showing & selling homes. She takes exceptional photos of all of our listings & she is one of the best buyer's agents around! She is always our best dressed, most punctual, & loves to go the extra mile for EVERYONE! We are so proud of her & her growth!
